Jónasdóttir, Ann Ferguson, 2013-11-12 This unique timely book of original essays sets the stage for a new materialist feminist debate on the analysis ethics and politics of love The contributors raise questions about social power and domination situating their research in a materialist feminist perspective that investigates love historically in order to understand changing ideologies representations and practices The essays range from studies of particular representations and examples of love feminist translation mass media images and internet love blogs to feminist theories of love and marriage to ethical and political theories describing critiquing or advocating the use of love in groups as a radical force They break new ground in bringing together questions of gendered interests in love temporal dimensions of loving practices and the politics of love in radical transformations of society      Gender Identity and Discourse Analysis Lia Litosseliti, Jane Sunderland, 2002 This is a collection of work by researchers in the area of gender and language It shows how a discourse approach to the study of gender and language can facilitate the study of the complex and subtle ways in which gender identities are represented constructed and contested through language      Love Lives Carol Dyhouse, 2021-02-11 The story of how women s lives loves and dreams have been re shaped since 1950 the year of Walt Disney s Cinderella and a time when teenage girls dreamed of marriage Mr Right and happy endings Cinderella stories captured the imagination of girls in the 1950s when dreams of meeting the right man could seem like a happy ending a solution to life s problems But over the next fifty years women s lives were transformed not by the magic wand of a fairy godmother nor by marrying princes but by education work birth control and feminism However while widening opportunities for women were seen as progress feminists were regularly caricatured as man haters cast in the role of ugly sisters witches or wicked fairies in the fairy tale This book is about the reshaping of women s lives loves and dreams since 1950 the year in which Walt Disney s film Cinderella gave expression to popular ideas of romance and at a time when marriage was a major determinant of female life chances and teenage girls dreamed of Mr Right and happy endings It ends with the runaway success of Disney s Frozen in 2013 a film with relevance to very different times Along the way it illuminates how women's expectations and emotional landscapes have shifted asking bold questions about how women's lives have been transformed since 1950 How have women's changing life experiences been mirrored in new expectations about marriage intimacy and family life How have new forms of independence through education and work and greater control over childbearing altered women's life ambitions And were feminists right to believe that sexual equality would improve relationships between men and women

Feminism and the Power of Love Adriana García-Andrade, Lena Gunnarsson, Anna Jónasdóttir, 2018-04-17 The power of love has become a renewed matter of feminist and non feminist attention in the 21st century's theory debates What is this power Is it a form of domination Or is it a liberating force in our contemporary societies Within Feminism and the Power of Love lies the central argument that although love is a crucial site of gendered power asymmetries it is also a vital source of human empowerment that we cannot live without Instead of emphasizing either or this enlightening title puts the dualities and contradictions of love center stage Indeed by offering various theoretical perspectives on what makes love such a central value and motivator for people this title will increase one's understanding as to why love can keep people in its grip even when practiced in ways that deplete and oppress In light of such analyses the contributions within Feminism and the Power of Love present new perspectives on the conditions and characteristics of non oppressive mutually enhancing ways of loving Bridging the gap between Feminist Affect Studies and Feminist Love Studies this book will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students including postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as women's and gender studies sociology political science philosophy cultural studies and sexuality studies

Seeking Love in Modern Britain Zoe Strimpel, 2020-03-05 Seeking Love in Modern Britain charts the emergence of the modern British single through an account of the dating industry that sprang up to serve men and women It shows how amid a period of unprecedented sexual and social change the single became a key unisex identity and lifestyle From around 1970 a growing cottage style matchmaking industry in Britain was offering the romantically solo a choice between computer dating firms such as Dateline or Computate introduction agencies and the lonely hearts pages of Private Eye Time Out and others Zoe Strimpel reveals how this rapidly expanding landscape of services was catering to a new breed of single people and how by the late 1990s singleness had become the culturally mainstream wholly expected part of the romantic life cycle that it is today Refuting the widespread idea that the Internet invented modern dating this book uses an eclectic and engaging range of first person accounts and snapshots from the time to show that the story of contemporary romance mediated courtship and singleness began in a time long before Tinder

From France With Love Mary Harrod,2015-05-21 Love stories have always been at the heart of French cinema but romantic comedies have until recently been absent from it In 2001 the global success of Amelie catalysed a major development in the Western world s second largest film industry the appropriation of the Hollywood romantic comedy genre or Rom Com a l Americaine In From France with Love Mary Harrod explores this contemporary phenomenon examining both local hits and films with international status Using socio cultural data box office figures and analysis of critical reception she reveals the ways in which these films mirror shifting attitudes towards gender roles within French society as well as the increasingly important interrelation between French national cinema and transnational filmmaking paradigms

The English in Love Claire Langhamer,2013-08-22 Love has a history It has meant different things to different people at different moments and has served different purposes This book tells the story of love at a crucial point a moment when the emotional landscape changed dramatically for large numbers of people It is a story based in England but informed by America and covers the period from the end of the First World War until the break up of The Beatles To the casual observer this era was a golden age of marriage More people married than ever before They did so at increasingly younger ages And there was a revolution in our idea of what marriage meant Pragmatic notions of marriage as institution were superseded by the more romantic ideal of a relationship based upon individual emotional commitment love sex and personal fulfilment And yet this new idea of marriage based on a belief in the transformative power of love and emotion carried within it the seeds of its own destruction Romantic love particularly when tied to sexual satisfaction ultimately proved an unreliable foundation upon which to build marriages fatally it had the potential to evaporate over time and under pressure Scratching beneath the surface of the apparent golden age of marriage Claire Langhamer uncovers the real story of love in the twentieth century via the recollections of ordinary people who lived through the period It is a tale of quiet emotional instability persistent subversion and unsettling change At its end the idea of life long marriage was in serious decline And as Langhamer shows this was a decline directly rooted in the contradictions and tensions that lay at the heart of the emotional revolution itself

Gender and the Media Rosalind Gill,2015-10-02 Written in a clear and accessible style with lots of examples from Anglo American media Gender and the Media offers a critical introduction to the study of gender in the media and an up to date assessment of the key issues and debates Eschewing a straightforwardly positive or negative assessment the book explores the contradictory character of contemporary gender representations where confident expressions of girl power sit alongside reports of epidemic levels of anorexia among young women moral panics about the impact on men of idealized representations of the six pack but near silence about the pervasive re sexualization of women s bodies along with a growing use of irony and playfulness that render critique extremely difficult The book looks in depth at five areas of media talk shows magazines news advertising and contemporary screen and paperback romances to examine how representations of women and men are changing in the twenty first century partly in response to feminist queer and anti racist critique Gender and the Media is also concerned with the theoretical tools available for analysing representations A range of approaches from semiotics to postcolonial theory are discussed and Gill asks how useful notions such as objectification backlash and positive images are for making sense of gender in today s Western media Finally Gender and the Media also raises questions about cultural politics namely what forms of critique and intervention are effective at a moment when ironic quotation marks seem to protect much media content from criticism and when much media content from Sex and the City to revenge adverts can be labelled postfeminist This is a book that will be of particular interest to students and scholars in gender and media studies as well as those in sociology and cultural studies more generally

Heartthrobs Carol Dyhouse, 2017 What can a cultural history of the heartthrob teach us about women desire and social change From dreams of Prince Charming or dashing military heroes to the lure of dark strangers and vampire lovers from rock stars and rebels to soulmates dependable family types or simply good companions female fantasies about men tell us as much about the history of women as about masculine icons When girls were supposed to be shrinking violets passionate females risked being seen as unbridled or dangerously out of control Change came slowly and young women remained trapped in double binds You may have needed a husband in order to survive but you had to avoid looking like a gold digger Sexual desire could be dangerous a rash guide to making choices Show attraction too openly and you might be judged fast and undesirable Education and wage earning brought independence and a widening of cultural horizons Young women in the early twentieth century showed a sustained appetite for novel reading cinema going and the dancehall They sighed over Rudolph Valentino s screen performances as tango dancer Arab tribesman or desert lover Contemporary critics were sniffy about shop girl taste in literature and in men but as consumers girls had new clout In Heartthrobs social and cultural historian Carole Dyhouse draws upon literature cinema and popular romance to show how the changing position of women has shaped their dreams about men from Lord Byron in the early nineteenth century to boy bands in the early twenty first Reflecting on the history of women as consumers and on the nature of fantasy escapism and fandom she takes us deep into the world of gender and the imagination A great deal of feminist literature has shown women as objects of the male gaze this book looks at men through the eyes of women

Love and Intimacy in Contemporary Society Ann Brooks, 2019-12-06 Love and Intimacy in Contemporary Society reflects on relationships in contemporary society and the role of love and intimacy in framing lives The book draws on sociological perspectives cultural sociology and gender theory perspectives It looks at how love and intimacy is experienced differently and intersected by gender ethnicity race and sexuality This book aims to encourage people to understand theories of intimacy emotions and desire by examining these concepts contemporaneously and cross culturally It also explores how love and intimacy is experienced by young people and how it is impacted by age It looks at its representation in the media and film and focuses on how gender ethnicity and sexuality offer different perspectives on love and intimacy The book shows how relationships are impacted by social networking and new technologies and the opportunities and challenges posed by these new platforms for building relationships Finally the book examines how intimacy has become commercialised in late capitalism and how that acts to change relationships The book is written in an accessible way and explores a range of theoretical debates and contemporary research around emotions which can be useful for undergraduate postgraduate and doctoral study

British Asian fiction Sara Upstone, 2013-07-19 This is the first text to focus solely on the writing of British writers of South Asian descent born or raised in Britain Exploring the unique contribution of these writers it positions their work within debates surrounding black British diasporic migrant and postcolonial literature in order to foreground both the continuities and tensions embedded in their relationship to such terms engaging in particular with the ways in which this new generation has been denied the right to a distinctive theoretical framework through absorption into pre existing frames of reference Focusing on the diversity of contemporary British Asian experience the book engages with themes including gender national and religious identity the reality of post 9 11 Britain the post ethnic self urban belonging generational difference and youth identities as well as indicating how these writers manipulate genre and the novel form in support of their thematic concerns
