Romanticism and realism Charles Rosen, Henri Zerner, 1985      Romanticism and Realism, 1971      Encyclopedia of the Romantic Era, 1760-1850 Christopher John Murray, 2013-05-13 In 850 analytical articles this two volume set explores the developments that influenced the profound changes in thought and sensibility during the second half of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear detailed and accurate reference source on the literature thought music and art of the period demonstrating the rich interplay of international influences and cross currents at work and to explore the many issues raised by the very concepts of Romantic and Romanticism

The Romanticism of Contemporary Theory Justin Clemens, 2017-03-02 Using Phillipe Lacoue Labarthe and Jean Luc Nancy's groundbreaking study of the persistence of German Idealist philosophy as his starting point Justin Clemens presents a valuable study of the links between Romanticism and contemporary theory The central contention of this book is that contemporary theory is still essentially Romantic despite all its declarations to the contrary and despite all its attempts to elude or exceed the limits bequeathed it by Romantic thought The argument focuses on the ruses of Romanticism's indefinable character under two main rubrics Contexts and Interventions The first three chapters investigate Contexts examining some of the broad trends in the historical and institutional development of Romantic criticism the second section Interventions comprises close readings of the work of Jacques Lacan Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick Ian Hunter and Alain Badiou In the first chapter Clemens identifies and traces the development of two interlocking recurrent themes in Romantic criticism the Romantic desire to escape Romanticism and the problem posed to aesthetico philosophical thought by the modern domiciliation of philosophy in the university He develops these themes in the second chapter by examining the link forged between aesthetics and the subject in the work of Immanuel Kant In the third chapter Clemens shows how the Romantic problems of the academic institution and aesthetics were effectively bound together by the philosophical diagnosis of nihilism Chapter Four focuses on two key moments in the work of Jacques Lacan his theory of the mirror stage and his formulas of sexualization and demonstrates how Lacan returns to the grounding claims of Kantian aesthetics in such a way as to render him complicit with the Romantic thought he often seems to contest In the following chapter taking Deleuze and Guattari's notion of multiplicity as a guiding thread Clemens links their account to their professed anti Platonism showing how they find themselves forced back onto emblematically Romantic arguments Chapter Six provides a close reading of Sedgwick's most influential text Epistemology of the Closet Clemens reading localizes her practice both in the newly consolidated academic field of Queer Theory and in a conceptual genealogy whose roots can be traced back to a particular anti Enlightenment strain of Romanticism Clemens next turns to the professedly anti Romantic arguments of Ian Hunter a major figure in the ongoing re writing of modern histories of education In the final chapter he examines the work of the contemporary French philosopher Alain Badiou Clemens argues that if Badiou's hostility to the diagnosis of nihilism his return to Plato and mathematics and his expulsion of poetry from philosophical method all place him at a genuine distance from dominant Romantic trends even this attempt admits ciphered Romantic elements This study will be of interest to literary theorists philosophers political theorists and cultural studies scholars     The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 5, Romanticism George Alexander Kennedy, 1989 The history of the most hotly debated areas of literary theory including structuralism and deconstruction     The Romantic Vision of Caspar David Friedrich Caspar David Friedrich, Robert Rosenblum, Boris Asvarishch, Art Institute of Chicago, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1990 This book is about the paintings of Casper David Friedrich     Historical Dictionary of Romantic Art and Architecture Allison Lee Palmer, 2019-07-26 Romanticism is multifaceted and a wide range of nostalgic emotional and exotic concerns were expressed in such styles and movements as the Gothic Revival Classical Revival Orientalism and the Pre Raphaelite Brotherhood Some movements were regional and subject specific such as the Hudson River School of landscape painting in the United States and the German Nazarene movement which focused primarily on religious art in Rome The movements range across Western Europe and include the United States This dictionary will provide a fuller historical context for Romanticism and enable the reader to identify major trends and explore artists of the period This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Romantic Art and Architecture contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 300 cross referenced entries on major artists of the romantic era as well as entries on related art movements styles aesthetic philosophies and philosophers This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Romantic art     Romanticism and Time Sophie Laniel-Musitelli, Céline Sabiron, 2021-03-10 Eternity is in love with the productions of time This original edited volume takes William Blake's aphorism as a basis to explore how British Romantic literature creates its own sense of time It considers Romantic poetry as embedded in and reflecting on the march of time regarding it not merely as a reaction to the course of events between the late eighteenth and mid nineteenth centuries but also as a form of creative engagement with history in the making The authors offer a comprehensive overview of the question of time from a literary perspective applying a diverse range of critical approaches to Romantic authors from William Blake and Percy Shelley to John Clare and Samuel Rogers Close readings uncover fresh insights into these authors and their works including Frankenstein the most familiar of Romantic texts Revising current thinking about periodisation the authors explore how the Romantic poetics of time bears witness to the ruptures and dislocations at work within chronological time They consider an array of topics such as ecological time futurity operatic time or the temporality of Venice As well as surveying the Romantic canon's evolution over time these essays approach it as a phenomenon unfolding across national borders Romantic authors are compared with American or European counterparts including Beethoven Irving Nietzsche and Beckett Romanticism and Time will be of great value to literary scholars and students working in Romantic Studies It will be of further interest to philosophers and historians working on the connections between philosophy history and literature during the nineteenth century      The Romantic Machine John Tresch, 2012-02-06 In the years immediately following Napoleon's defeat French thinkers in all fields set their minds to the problem of how to recover from the long upheavals that had been set into motion by the French Revolution. Many challenged the Enlightenment's emphasis on mechanics and questioned the rising power of machines, seeking a return to the organic unity of an earlier age and triggering the artistic and philosophical movement of romanticism. Previous scholars have viewed romanticism and industrialization in opposition, but in this groundbreaking volume John Tresch reveals how thoroughly entwined science and the arts were in early nineteenth-century France and how they worked together to unite a fractured society. Focusing on a set of celebrated technologies including steam engines, electromagnetic and geophysical instruments, early photography, and mass-scale printing, Tresch looks at how new conceptions of energy, instrumentality, and association fueled such diverse developments as fantastic literature, popular astronomy, grand opera, positivism, utopian socialism, and the Revolution of 1848. He shows that those who attempted to fuse organicism and mechanism in various ways, including Alexander von Humboldt and Auguste Comte, charted a road not taken that resonates today. Essential reading for historians of science, intellectual and cultural historians of Europe, and literary and art historians, The Romantic Machine is poised to profoundly alter our understanding of the scientific and cultural landscape of the early nineteenth century.      The Poetics of Myth Eleazar M. Meletinsky, 2014-01-21 First Published in 1998, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company.      The Philistine Controversy Dave Beech, John Roberts, 2002-06-17 Dave Beech and John Roberts develop what they call a counter-intuitive notion of the philistine, with insights on cultural division and exclusion.      Art in Reproduction Robert Verhoogt, 2007 This illuminating study examines the cultural meaning of artistic reproduction in a refreshingly new context through its consideration of how three artists managed the reproduction of their work.      A History of Russian Literary Theory and Criticism Evgeny Dobrenko, Galin Tihanov, 2011-11-27 This edited volume assembles the work of leading international scholars in a comprehensive history of Russian literary theory and criticism from 1917 to the post-Soviet age. By examining the dynamics of literary criticism and theory in three arenas: political, intellectual, and institutional, the authors capture the progression and structure of Russian literary criticism and its changing function and discourse. The chapters follow early movements such as formalism, the Bakhtin Circle, Proletkult, futurism, the fellow travelers, and the Russian Association of Proletarian Writers. By the cultural revolution of 1928, literary criticism became a mechanism of Soviet policies synchronous with official ideology. The chapters follow theory and criticism into the 1930s with examinations of the Union of Soviet Writers, semantic paleontology, and socialist realism under Stalin. A more humanized literary criticism appeared during the ravaging years of World War II, only to be supplanted by a return to the party line. Soviet heroism and anti-Semitism in the late Stalinist period. During Khrushchev's Thaw, there was a remarkable rise in liberal literature and criticism that was later refuted in the nationalist movement of the long 1970s. The same decade saw, on the other hand, the rise to prominence of semiotics and structuralism Postmodernism and a strong revival of academic literary studies have shared the stage since the start of the post Soviet era For the first time anywhere this collection analyzes all of the important theorists and major critical movements during a tumultuous ideological period in Russian history including developments in emigre literary theory and criticism

German Romantic Painting Redefined Mitchell Benjamin Frank, 2017-07-05 The modernist aesthetic and later Nazi ideology split German Romantic painting into two opposed phases an early progressive movement represented by Caspar David Friedrich 1774 1840 and Philipp Otto Runge 1777 1810 and a later reactionary one epitomized by Friedrich Overbeck 1789 1869 and Peter von Cornelius 1783 1867 In this rich and engaging book Mitchell Frank explores the continuities between these two phases to reconstruct the historical position that existed in the nineteenth century and to look once again at the Nazarenes and Overbeck in particular as a fully integrated part of the Romantic movement His innovative book is crucial to an understanding of German Romanticism and the legacy of this period in European art

Romanticism (1830-1890) Gerald Abraham, 1990 The New Oxford History of Music is complete This latest and last volume completes the set of The New Oxford History of Music in 10 volumes includes the whole span of western instrumental music and opera in the greater part of the nineteenth century is edited by one of the most respected scholars of nineteenth century music In March 1830 Goethe complained to Eckermann that everybody talks now about Classicism and Romanticism which no one thought of fifty years ago Romanticism a concept more easily recognized than defined was the prevailing spirit of the vast outpouring of music in the sixty years chronicled in this volume The list of major composers treated either wholly or in part will serve as an indication of its scope Chopin Schumann Mendelssohn Liszt Brahms Berlioz Donizetti Verdi Wagner Gounod Bizet Borodin Mussorgsky Tchaikovsky Rimsky Korsakov Dvor k Smetana Faur Wolf Puccini Bruckner Mahler Strauss C sar Franck Debussy Contributors Gerald Abraham John Horton David Charlton David Kimbell Siegfried Goslich Nicholas Temperly Willi Kahl Arnold Whittall Julian Budden Robert Pascall Leslie Orrey David Tunley Edward Garden Rosemary Hunt and John Clapham

Radicalizing Lawrence Robert Burden, 2021-12-28 In this study of D H Lawrence and critical theory Robert Burden pays particular attention to the critical formations that underpin the reception history of the main novels including the much maligned leadership novels because strong readings have always contested the meaning and significance of Lawrence and because there has been a persistent reluctance to approach his writing through post structuralist theory This study demonstrates in some detail that once Lawrence s texts are the objects of the newer critical paradigms their principles of coherence are understood differently and that older notions of textual unity are displaced by aesthetic structures of degrees of generic and linguistic destabilization This enables a radicalizing of Lawrence s fiction by drawing out its deconstructive effects on his myth making and essentialist notions of the self The sexual identities represented in the fiction are read as experiments or thought adventures as Lawrence himself characterized his work The different approaches to Lawrence s writing in this study lead to a radical reassessment of his relationship to Modernism especially in the light of the more elastic concept of Modernism in recent discussion and one which traditional Lawrence scholars have ignored What emerges is a more self deconstructive Lawrence with some surprising results      Romanticism and realism Charles Rosen,1980      Pushkin's Lyric Intelligence Andrew Kahn,2012-05-31 Pushkin s lyric intelligence is his capacity to transform philosophical and aesthetic ideas into poetry that questions the creative process This first major study of his lyrics reveals the links between Pushkin s conceptual vocabulary and his intellectual life and between his writing and the influences of French and English authors and movements      The Cambridge History of French Literature William Burgwinkle,Nicholas Hammond,Emma Wilson,2011-02-24 The most comprehensive history of literature written in French ever produced in English      Dante in Deutschland Daniel DiMassa,2022-08-12 Around 1800 German Romantics fixated on Dante s Divine Comedy as a model for the creation of a new mythology of reason This book traces that fixation across Romantic and Neo Romantic texts showing how the Romantic Dante cult in fact generated ominous amalgams of art myth and fascism in the twentieth century
