These chapters highlight the sense a discourse gives of being written knowledgeably against other pretenders to completeness or comprehensiveness of self understanding of the time Discourses typically advance their own claims to resume European culture collaborating with and at the same time trying to assimilate each other in the process The main examples featured here are history geography drama theology language philosophy political theory the sciences and the media Each chapter offers an original and individual interpretation of an inherently comparative world of individual writers and the discursive idioms to which they are historically subject Together the forty one chapters provide a comprehensive and provocative overview of European Romanticism

“Romanticism” - and Byron Peter Cochran, 2009-03-26 Romanticism and Byron is a book in two parts In the first part Dr Cochran examines Romanticism and shows that it is a word meaning anything and therefore nothing It is an academic construct created by academics and has no basis in the writings of the early nineteenth century Its continued use argues Dr Cochran is a modern marketing phenomenon solely In the second part Dr Cochran examines the life and work of Byron in the non romantic context of his contemporaries He shows how Byron s antithetical nature created problems when he was forced into compromising situations with friends who were close to parts of his mind yet irreconcilable with one another This mobility argues Cochran was often an embarrassment for Byron s social life but of great benefit to his creativity This part of the book features chapters on Shelley Scott Blake Keats Coleridge and Wordsworth and is notable for the amount of original archive documentation with which Cochran illustrates his theme

Readings in Oriental Literature Jalal Uddin Khan, 2015-02-05 Readings in Oriental Literature Arabian Indian and Islamic is an up to date elucidation of some diverse and discrete yet common and classic subjects and authors and the distinctive oriental elements present in them The book composed of fourteen essays includes ancient Arabian poetry the Arabian Nights the Arabian desert the Arabian influence on Melville Shelley s Orientalia Coleridge s Kubla Khan the influence of English Romantics on the Bengali Tagore Bangladesh s national anthem and her exiled daughter Taslima Nasreen the Victorian reaction to British India religious diversity and Islam in the West the Muslim East in English literature and reading literature from an Islamic point of view Marked by an originality of approach and a freshness and simplicity the book takes note of contemporary theoretical interdisciplinary and cultural discourse drawn from literature history politics and religion as necessary However it is far from being unnecessarily weighed down by the loaded clich s oft repeated jargon and overused euphemisms of modern literary or critical theory The result is regardless of its specialized treatment of otherwise commonplace or well known texts or topics that the overall discussion is as lucid introductory and expository as it is deep and scholarly making the book accessible and understandable to non specialist readers in addition to specialist researchers and academics

Romantic Border Crossings Professor Jeffrey Cass, Professor Larry Peer, 2013-04-28 Romantic Border Crossings participates in the important movement towards otherness in Romanticism by uncovering the intellectual and disciplinary anxieties that surround comparative studies of British American and European literature and culture As this diverse group of essays demonstrates we can now speak of a global Romanticism that encompasses emerging critical categories such as Romantic pedagogy transatlantic studies and transnationalism with the result that new works by writers marginalized by class gender race or geography are invited into the canon at the same time that fresh readings of traditional texts emerge Exemplifying these developments the authors and topics examined include Elizabeth Inchbald Lord Byron G rard de Nerval English Jacobinism Goethe the Gothic Orientalism Emily Dickinson Walt Whitman Anglo American conflicts manifest destiny and teaching romanticism The collection constitutes a powerful rethinking of the divisions that continue to haunt Romantic studies

Teaching Romanticism D. Higgins,S. Ruston,2010-01-13 Romanticism is taught at universities across the globe and is considered integral to the study of British and European literature This book written by leading academics presents innovative practical approaches to teaching traditional and newer aspects of the curriculum and is essential to anyone teaching Romanticism at university level

How Literature Changes the Way We Think Michael Mack,2011-12-01

The Sonnets of Thomas Pringle Patrick Lenahan,2023-07-17 When the Scottish poet Thomas Pringle emigrated to the Cape Colony in 1820 he voyaged also into a new creative life and an art responsive to his colonial home sterner verse for darker scenes Accompanying him to the Cape the sonnet became his most consistent choice for capturing his experiences and convictions his personal crises and the greater trauma of colonial appropriation and racial oppression In this study his unique contribution to the Romantic era sonnet is for the first time given its full due through readings that are as attentive to form and formal agency as to the cultural social and historical conditions in which they are enmeshed Moving beyond colonial theory to consider issues of literary migration this illuminating work shows how Pringle effectively opened up a radical conversation between the habitual modes of perception and response of British Romanticism and his new southern world

The Edinburgh Review in the Literary Culture of Romantic Britain William Christie, 2016-06-16 From its first issue published on the 10th October 1802 Francis Jeffrey's Edinburgh Review established a strong reputation and exerted a powerful influence This is a literary study of the Edinburgh Review for over fifty years It contextualizes the periodical within the culture wars of the Romantic era

Lacework or Mirror? Diary Poetics of Frances Burney, Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley Magdalena Ożarska, 2014-01-08 Lacework or Mirror Diary Poetics of Frances Burney Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley sets out to determine whether each of the diaries by three female writers namely Frances Burney Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley approximates the Philippe Lejeunean concept of the diary as lacework or the more sweeping view typical of the broadly conceived autobiography which Georges Gusdorf famously likened to the mirror The author explores Burney's Wordsworth's and Shelley's attempts at concealing the gaps between their narrating and narrated I's as well as examining their diary lacunae especially helpful for illustrating the gradual emergence of the diarists individual selves Broader issues connected with diary poetics such as the use of metaphors and symbols the degree of reliance on dialogue and ensuing narrativity down to handling the past by means of anachronous eccentricities are also subject to examination The study is based on the assumption that the journal is a literary genre which can be investigated with tools routinely used for the examination of literary texts Yet beyond the issues of literariness in accordance with Philippe Lejeune's dictum the three journals reveal the writers diaristic practices In fact it seems that issues of the journal genre and the journal practice cannot be divorced and neither can their lacework and mirror aspects

Neoclassical Satire and the Romantic School 1780-1830 Rolf P. Lessenich, 2012 Romanticism was not only heterogeneous and disunited It also had to face the hostile counter movement of the Enlightenment and Augustan Neoclassicism still going strong at the time of and in the decades following the French Revolution due to support from the ruling Establishment the ancien regime of the Crown and Church of England Neoclassicists regarded Romanticism as a heteretical amalgam of dissenting new schools which threatened the monopoly of the Classical Tradition The acrimonious debates in aesthetics and politics were conducted with the traditional strategies of the classical ars disputandi on both sides Under the duress of the heaviest satirical attacks Romanticism began gradually to see itself as one movement giving rise to the problematic opposition of Classical and Romantic The construction of this rough divide however was indispensable for the clarification of different positions in the hubbub of conflicting voices and has also proved critical in literary and cultural studies which cannot do without such subsumptions The Classical Tradition encompassing Christianity emerges as an ongoing event from Greek and Latin antiquity running through to our time

Poem Unlimited David Kerler,Timo Müller,2019-09-23 Questions of genres as well as their possible definitions taxonomies and functions have been discussed since antiquity Even though categories of genre today are far from being fixed they have for decades been upheld without question The goal of this volume is to problematize traditional definitions of poetic genres and to situate them in a broader socio cultural historical and theoretical context The contributions encompass numerous methodological approaches including hermeneutics poststructuralism reception theory cultural studies gender studies periods Romanticism Modernism Postmodernism genres elegy sonnet visual poetry performance poetry hip hop as well as languages and national literatures From this interdisciplinary and multi methodological perspective genres periods languages and literatures are put into fruitful dialogue new perspectives are discovered and suggestions for further research are provided

The Two Romanticisms and other essays William Christie,2016-06-06 The Romantic period is the most appealing but also the most confusing period of English literature for the student Crucially this book distinguishes between the Romantic as modern critics use the term and the romantic as it was used during the period itself The Two Romanticisms and Other Essays is a collection of critical essays on Romanticism and select Romantic texts designed to help teachers and students to make sense of the period as a whole and of the poems and novels that appear most frequently on school and university curricula Each chapter offers a self contained reading of a different canonical work while engaging with broader themes Through close readings of Jane Austen Lord Byron Samuel Taylor Coleridge John Keats Mary Shelley Percy Bysshe Shelley and William Wordsworth Professor Christie explores the complexities of the Romantic period and offers fresh insights into pivotal Romantic texts

Charles Lamb, Coleridge and Wordsworth Felicity James,2008-09-02 This book makes the case for a re placing of Lamb as reader writer and friend in the midst of the lively political and literary scene of the 1790s Reading his little known early works alongside others by the likes of Coleridge and Wordsworth it allows a revealing insight into the creative dynamics of early Romanticism
