it is the love that comes through most powerfully Readers do not have to be her granddaughter to glean from these pages guidance vision strength delight and edification to enhance the course of their own lives Susan Deborah King author of Tabernacle Coven and One Breasted Woman In this book Gayle Graham Yates skillfully interweaves storytelling with finely crafted writing about the natural world and reflections about how to live an ethical life Listening to her voice and entering into her imagery a sense of urgency emerges What we pass on to the next few generations will make all the difference to our individual and collective future Deborah J Haynes author of Book of This Place The Land Art and Spirituality Secret Spaces, Forbidden Places Fran Lloyd, Catherine O'Brien, 2001-06-01 In this highly original approach to the study of the construction of culture this collection of previously unpublished essays explore the topography of the secret and the forbidden focusing on specific moments in recent cultural and political history By bringing together writers from different disciplines and different locations this volume provides a rich and diverse mapping of how the secret and forbidden operate across different subjects and different geographies extending far beyond physical locations It is present in domains ranging from language literature and cinema to social and political life This refreshing and thought provoking collection of essays will prove invaluable for researchers and students

Movable Londons Julia H. Fawcett, 2025-09-04 In September 1666 a fire sparked in a bakery on Pudding Lane grew until it had destroyed four fifths of central London The rebuilding efforts that followed not only launched the careers of some of London's most famous architects but also transformed Londoners relationship to their city by underscoring the ways that people could shape a city's spaces and the ways that a city's spaces could shape its people Movable Londons looks to the Restoration theater to understand how the dispossessed made London into a modern city after the Great Fire of 1666 and how the introduction of changeable scenery in theaters altered how Londoners conceptualized the city Fawcett makes a claim for the centrality of unplanned spaces and the role of the Restoration theater in articulating those spaces as the modern city emerged and argues that movable scenery revolutionized London's public theaters inviting audiences to observe how the performers many of them hailing from the same communities as their characters navigated the stage

Anxiety and Evil in the Writings of Patricia Highsmith Fiona Peters, 2011 Drawing extensively on the under explored Highsmith Archive Peters suggests that the usual generic distinctions crime fiction mystery suspense have been largely unhelpful in elucidating Patricia Highsmith's novels Peters adopts a psychoanalytic approach to show that specific disturbances within her text have resulted in Highsmith's writing remaining resistant to explication and to the more sophisticated interpretative strategies that would seek to position her within a specific genre

Women's Group Therapy Vera Sonja Maass, 2002-06-12 Through the use of group therapy sessions conducted within a cognitive behavioural framework the author explores the cultural social and parental influences on women's lives In depth case studies and transcripts from the sessions illustrate women's actual step by step process in examining issues as motherhood divorce self determination etc The focus is on the individual woman and her situation Reconfiguring

Relations in the Empty Nest Magdalena Żadkowska, Marta Skowrońska, Christophe Giraud, Filip Schmidt, 2024-02-20 This edited volume traverses the spectrum of experiences that take place after children leave the family home and parents find themselves in the empty nest stage of life Rather than focusing on measuring the intensity of empty nest syndrome or asking whether parents marital satisfaction increases or decreases in this phase the authors present rich qualitative data from across Poland and France to show that there is great variation in how families experience the empty nest developing both a study on intimacy and love and on family solidarity Throughout the book themes of mixed emotions nuanced attitudes contradictions and dissonance are explored while shedding light on supporting actors of the empty nest transition such as family pets and material objects

Elevating Humanity via Africana Womanism Clenora Hudson (Weems), 2024-12-17 Elevating Humanity via Africana Womanism is a short but powerful book advocating synergy via unity collectivity as a panacea for all societal ills It discusses the Africana Womanism theory an authentic family centered concept for all women of African descent as a grid upon which to erect the private and public personae of all positive Africana people Within the context of our cultural and historical matrix it opens with defining the paradigm while promoting the importance of prioritizing race class and gender the triple plight of Black women A workable strategy for ensuring equality for all it closes on a note of love and spirituality while embracing the special connection between Africana men and women the 2 sided human coin This introduction logically and convincingly speaks truth to power about who we Black women are beginning in Part One with naming and defining ourselves with the foreknowledge of the seminal role of our male counterparts It identifies the 18 descriptors of the true Africana woman and her male counterpart Part Two offers fruitful commentary via sharing some of the many contributions we have given to society which could enhance self esteem among our people many of whom have come to not love themselves and even their own due to inadequate historical documentation

Francesca Woodman's Dark Gaze Claire Raymond,2016-05-20 Focusing on the later work of the American photographer Francesca Woodman 1958 1981 Claire Raymond takes up the question of the disintegrative condition of the art she produced in the last year of her life Departing from the techniques of her earlier compositions Woodman worked in the diazotype process for many of these late pieces most importantly the monumental Blueprint for a Temple Raymond shows that through her use of diazotype a medium that breaks down when exposed to light Woodman created art that is both supremely evocative aesthetically and inherently unstable physically Woodman Raymond contends was imaginatively responding to the end of the durable image a historical reality acknowledged in the way her work plays the ephemeral and evanescent against the monumental and enduring Raymond focuses on the theoretical and the curatorial issues surrounding Woodman s diazotypes a thematic and practical distress that haunts much of her later art especially the artist s book and photo series Some Disordered Interior Geometries and Portrait of a Reputation Rather than conceiving of Woodman herself as fragile an artist chronicling and seeming to yearn for her own disappearance Raymond juxtaposes Woodman s career spanning documentation of her own image against other post war witnesses of trauma an artist standing in the museum ruins where she emerges most distinctly as a figure of postmodernity

Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds Mathilde Vialard,2024-02-26 Drawing on the recent academic interest in approaching health and wellbeing from a humanities perspective Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds investigates how the Victorians dealt with questions of mental health by examining literary works in the genre of sensation fiction The novels of Mary Elizabeth Braddon and Wilkie Collins two prominent writers of the genre often portray characters suffering from mental illnesses commonly diagnosed at the time among which are monomania moral insanity melancholia and hypochondria By studying the fictional works of Braddon and Collins alongside medical texts from the nineteenth century it sets out to investigate how these novels fictionally represented real mental sufferings This book considers the different mental illnesses the characters of sensation novels develop inside and outside the home as they struggle to define their own identity against Victorian social expectations It demonstrates how these novels fictionalised the crisis of the leisured upper classes who spent most of their time at home and found themselves at odds with a society that increasingly separated the domestic and working environments while also considering the impact that a lack of a sense of domestic belonging could have on their mental health Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds further analyses the extent to which domesticity in its excess or lack could afflict the mental health of Victorian men and women through the fictional representation of suicidal thoughts and acts in the novels of Braddon and Collins

The Divorced Child Joseph Nowinski,2010-01-05 Divorce is a reality of today s family life but clinical research has shown that it is possible to mitigate its negative effects on children Dr Joseph Nowinski a family therapist with over 20 years of experience treating families argues that there is a three year window in which to acclimate children to the change in family life Combining case studies with new research Dr Nowinski gives parents the information and the tools to work through the transition Written in a warm and authoritative tone Nowinski will teach parents to Focus on your child s new day to day reality Identify early signs of trouble Help your child through the separation process and help them develop coping skills that will remain with them through life

Female Absence Rob Baum,2003 How did women appear onstage When How do women feel about the presence or absence of the female actor The subject of this book is female absence and the writing reading and making of dramatic worlds that construct woman as a metaphor The works discussed and analysed are not the texts of women but exemplify the male gaze on what it means to be a woman Approved and canonical these works from the long tradition of Western theatre have defined female identity since the times of Aristotle and Socrates they say what is required to be a woman and how women have been historically viewed and therefore created by the works of men In the metaphorical superstructure of theatre women have become metaphors by means of real and experienced processes But female disempowerment and metaphorisation have not been conclusively identified or investigated with respect to the operations of the theatrical metaphor This work enables the reader to see and experience these mechanisms of language and action

Inside Out ,2008-01-01 The incursions of women into areas from which they had been traditionally excluded together with the literary representations of their attempts to negotiate subvert and appropriate these forbidden spaces is the underlying theme that unites this collection of essays Here scholars from Australia Greece Great Britain Spain Switzerland and the United States reconsider the well entrenched assumptions associated with the public private distinction working with the notions of public and private spheres while testing their currency and exploring their blurred edges The essays cover and uncover a rich variety of spaces from the slums and court rooms of London to the American wilderness from the Victorian drawing room and sick room to out of the ordinary places like Turkish baths and the trenches of the First World War Where previous studies have tended to focus on a single aspect of women s engagement with space this edited book reveals a plethora of subtle and tenacious strategies found in a variety of discourses that include fiction poetry diaries letters essays and journalism Inside Out goes beyond the early work on artistic explorations of gendered space to explore the breadth of the field and its theoretical implications

Domesticity and Design in American Women's Lives and Literature Caroline Hellman,2011-06-07 Domesticity and Design in American Women s Lives and Literature explores the ways in which four American women writers from the mid nineteenth to the early twentieth century inhabited domestic space and portrayed it in their work Hellman explores independent female authors who had intriguing and autonomous relationships with home relocating frequently either to begin the creative processes of designing and decorating anew or to avoid domestic obligation altogether by remaining in transit She also looks at how women authors wrote female characters into existence who had strikingly different relationships with home and contended with profound burdens of housekeeping in an oppressive domestic sphere The disjunction between the authors individual existences and the characters to whom they gave life reveals multiple narratives about women at home in nineteenth and twentieth century America This interdisciplinary inquiry undertakes a dual treatment of domesticity in an effort to synthesize a more complete understanding of the relationships between social history and literary accomplishment Syncrretising domestic literature with domestic practice Hellman appraises the ways in which the authors appropriate domestic rhetoric to address issues of political import economy health and social welfare in the case of Stowe material feminism for Alcott the landscape for Cather and World War I for Wharton

Gender Politics and Security Discourse Laura McLeod,2015-07-16 This book investigates competing modes of thought about gender security and aims to understand the policy implications of personal political imaginations The work draws upon extensive research conducted by the author in Serbia to develop a comprehensive picture of how feminist and women s organising relates to the broader national and international contexts surrounding gender security Through an innovative analytical framework of personal political imaginations the book explores the role that memories perceptions and hopes about conflict and post conflict have upon the logics of gender security It investigates how contrasting and competing modes of thought about gender security are made paying attention to how the dynamics of gender politics in Serbia shape the security discourse and narratives of activists The volume explores in detail how feminist and women s organisations have responded to UNSCR 1325 by analysing two policy debates and campaigns that seek to achieve its goals and gender security in Serbia 1 feminist antimilitarism and 2 connecting domestic violence to the abuse of small arms and light weapons Ultimately the book argues that the configuration of gender security discourse is intimately linked to personal political imaginations of conflict and post conflict This book will be of much interest to students of gender politics conflict studies critical security studies European politics and IR in general
