are already implanted everywhere Be prepared The end and beginning are arriving One World: 24 Hours on Planet Earth Nicola Davies,2023-03-14 Our planet is always turning It may be midnight in London but in different time zones other living things are waking up ready to hunt or feed or fight As the clock strikes twelve two sisters are spirited away on a journey to glimpse in the span of a moment extraordinary biodiversity a mother polar bear and her cubs hunting seals in Svalbard tiny turtles in India following the moon toward the sea and enormous whale sharks gulping plankton in the Philippines Ujamaa and Ubuntu Bo Stråth,2023-12-15 For over a decade the world has experienced an accelerating erosion of a language that took hundreds of years to emerge It is a language ordering time and space with words such as enlightenment reason rationality modernization and the most recent by word globalization However it is a language that has been accompanied by colonialism imperialism racism the exploitation of people and nature an unequal distribution of the world s resources pogroms genocides and world wars There has been a gap between assumptions underlying a visionary ambition and the often brutal practices that have accompanied it Moreover it is a language that expresses European values with the implicit or explicit suggestion that they pertain to the whole world a civilizing mission from a European centre Although the established narrative argued that there was continuous progress it was a conclusion reached through hindsight The idea of progress had to be repeatedly recreated through new visionary projects that attempted to live up to the high ideals their predecessors failed to achieve Against the backdrop of this meta normative point of departure the book argues that a convincing grand narrative has failed to materialize since the discrediting of globalization In the search for a new narrative it argues at a meta normative level for a reformulation of the term global away from its close connection to the globe as an unbounded self propelling market that exists beyond human influence Global should no longer be reduced to auto playing market fiction but instead be connected to the planet Terra the Earth With reference to Latour and Chakrabarty global and planetary mean cohabitation life on earth is seen as an infinite symbiotic system nurtured and protected but also destroyed by human action The book argues that a new conceptualization of the global and the planet requires input from African and Asian language cultures The book explores in depth the history of the two political African key concepts of ujamaa and ubuntu and argues that they are cases showing how work on a new global planetary narrative might look The investigation of the two concepts demonstrate that translations are juxtapositions that point up what is shared and what isn t between concepts in two or more languages The point of comparison is not to develop a uniform global perspective even if that were possible but to develop a global understanding of difference and through that to begin to look for a common ground Translations of political key concepts are the source of a growing understanding of difference On Dwelling Dennis E. Skocz,2023-10-16 On Dwelling Poetry Place and Politics unfolds the meaning of dwelling as both being in the world and being on the earth with others Dennis E Skocz traces a path from the places we call home through the global market place said to foster a world without borders to the planet we co inhabit The book addresses themes of displacement contested space and estrangement along with specific issues like migration ethnic division and resource use Embracing the discourses of poetry philosophy and politics the book uses a cross disciplinary approach to tackle the diversity and complexity of the topic The investigation is grounded in phenomenology with economics jurisprudence political theory geo physics cultural anthropology and other sciences coming into play It builds on first person lived experience and the lifeworld as a concrete basis for understanding Challenged by real world issues of co existence the book culminates in sketching a political space where stakeholders in the future of the planet can collaborate across the globe for the earth and its dwellers advancing technologies and marked by expanding and shifting geopolitical alliances and fissures Pointing to the necessity of how politics and values were spatialized in recent U S history Barney argues that Cold War era maps themselves had rhetorical lives that began with their conception and production and played out in their circulation within foreign policy circles and popular media Reflecting on the ramifications of spatial power during the period Mapping the Cold War ultimately demonstrates that even in the twenty first century American visions of the world and the maps that account for them are inescapably rooted in the anxieties of that earlier era
