Only Connect Soil Soul Society:

Soil, Soul, Society Satish Kumar, 2024-10-01 In the first US edition of Satish Kumar's classic book we rediscover how our spiritual and social well-being connects to that of our planet. Internationally respected peace and environment activist Satish Kumar has been gently setting the agenda for change for over 50 years. As 350.org founder Bill McKibben says: "There is no one on the planet better equipped to make you think and rethink how you're living and how you might change." The age of sustainability is grounded on the knowledge that we ourselves are very much part of nature; that what we do to nature we in fact do to ourselves; and that the earth has a soul which we share. Drawing on the example of Rabindranath Tagore, Kumar advocates living with awareness that our personal choices have political and poetic resonance. In this book he inspires readers with the knowledge we are all leaders and can create change in our structures and mindsets for lasting peace and a sustainable culture and society. Celebrating an emerging global consciousness that reveres nature, the book explores how, as a global society, we need to embrace diversity and be aware of our role as pilgrims on this earth. Joyful and heart-centered, Satish Kumar reminds us that to bring about change in the world we must embody the change we wish to see. Only

Connect: Soil, Soul, Society: The Best Of Resurgence Magazine 1990-1999 John Lane, Maya Kumar Mitchell, It Presents A Selection Of Articles From Resurgence Magazine 1990-1999 Relating Of Soil Soul Society Subjects To Which Resurgence Is Devoted The Lost Language of Plants Stephen Harrod Buhner, 2002-03-06 Enraged Energized Exultant You won't know how to feel after reading Stephen Harrod Buhner's The Lost Language of Plants. This is a devastating expose about how we are polluting our environment with the pharmaceuticals that Western medicine has developed to heal us. We are ingesting Prozac, Premarin, and antibiotics whether we want to or not. Yet as we foul air and water with toxic residues, we overlook the power of the planet's natural healers, stabilizers, and chemists: plants. Buhner sees plants as fully sentient beings, adjusting and fine-tuning to the environment just as they have done for the past 500 million years. Until recently, humans shared the language of plants, but increasingly we have lost our ability to communicate with the natural world. Buhner shows us a path back to our shamanic roots. BOOK JACKET Sun Rise: Your Complete Guide to Sustainable Living,

Sustainability Frontiers David Selby, Fumiyo Kagawa, 2014-12-15 Education for sustainable development, the educational offshoot of the concept of sustainable development, has rapidly become the predominant educational response to the global environmental crisis. The authors apply a critical lens to the field and find it wanting in many regards. Sustainability Frontiers is an international academic non-governmental organization based in Canada and the United Kingdom. It engages in research and innovation in the broad fields of sustainability and global education, challenging dominant assumptions and current orthodoxies as it seeks to foster learner empowerment and action. It places particular emphasis on climate change, disaster risk reduction, and peacebuilding, and their implications for the nature and directions of sustainability education.

Transformative Learning for a New Worldview M. Jackson, 2008-01-17 Transformative learning is a process in which we question all the assumptions about the world and ourselves that make up our worldview visualize alternative assumptions and then test them in practice The author describes the process offering a critique of contemporary assumptions and suggests alternatives to illustrate the process

New Directions in Philosophical Theology Gavin Hyman, 2018-01-18 At the beginning of a new millennium philosophical theology has become more contested than ever before The appearance of non realist theologies postmodern theologies and the theology of radical orthodoxy has provoked a vibrant debate about the nature of theology itself In what new directions should theology be moving in the wake of the end of modernity For over thirty years Don Cupitt has been provoking theologians to reconsider the nature of their discipline Taking their inspiration from his work and writing in his honour on the occasion of his 70th birthday some of the leading figures in the contemporary theological scene address urgent questions facing theology today and in doing so exemplify the methodological diversity which characterises the contemporary field

The Best (including Quite the Worst) of Didymus John Moat, 2007 For thirty years John Moat's Resurgence brief has been to contribute levity to the magazine's serious business of imprinting a green complexion on what planet earth claims as consciousness The sustainability of the Didymus column has served as keynote for the entire alternative movement But had the movement followed the exemplar more closely it might by now have startled itself with its own sparkle its contrary vision its range of questionable authority its self constructive irreverence and its capacity to approach what is serious and urgent by way of the utterly ridiculous Just such a kaleidoscope is reflected in this collection of thirty six tracts from the Didymus compendium Guaranteed to crack a smile on the face of even the most jaded cynic this beautifully crafted book with never a word in excess or a story simply told is full of multi layered meanderings brimful of insight humour and candour A joy to read this book will be savoured and revisited like a favourite view or a good local pub

Reconciliation, Forgiveness and Violence in Africa Marius J. Nel, Dion A. Forster, Christo H. Thesnaar, 2020-04-07 What might reconciliation and forgiveness mean in relation to various forms of personal structural and historical violence across the African continent This volume of essays seeks to engage these complex and contested ethical issues from three different disciplinary perspectives Biblical Studies Systematic Theology and Practical Theology Each of the authors reflects on aspects of reconciliation forgiveness and violence from within their respective African contexts They do so by employing the tools and resources of their respective disciplines The end result is a rich and textured set of interdisciplinary theological insights that will help the reader to navigate these issues with a greater measure of understanding and a broader perspective than what a single approach might offer What is particularly encouraging is that the chapters represent research from established scholars in their fields recent PhD graduates and current PhD students This is the first book to be published under the auspices of the Unit for Reconciliation and Justice in the Beyers Naud Centre for Public Theology

Spiritual Activism Alastair McIntosh, Matt Carmichael, 2015-09-24 A visionary but practical sharing of how spiritual insights and deepening our inner lives can impact leadership for social change Over the past half century the issues facing activists have changed as has our understanding and awareness of spirituality For activists spiritual philosophy is rising up the agenda because it offers distinct tried and tested approaches to deep questions Where did it all go wrong What does it mean to be human What is the place of leadership What is the nature of power Spiritual Activism begins

by defining spirituality for a modern audience of all faiths and beliefs and goes on to consider the problems and necessities of true leadership Drawing on a rich history of spirituality and activism from The Bhagavad Gita to the Hebrew prophets to Carl Jung it is both guide and inspiration for people involved in activism for social or environmental justice Written by Scottish writer Alastair McIntosh and climate activist Matt Carmichael the text is enriched with tales from the authors own experiences It also contains case studies of inspirational spiritual activists including Mama Efua Desmond Tutu Gerrard Winstanley Sojourner Truth and Julia Butterfly Hill which demonstrate the transformative power of spiritual principles in action Transform your understanding of spiritual activists with this empowering and thoughtful read Encountering Education through Existential Challenges and Community Giles Barrow, 2023-08-31 Directly inspired by Indian British activist Satish Kumar s 2013 seminal work Soil Soul and Society this book rethinks education in line with thoughts around the current climate crisis the purpose of education in a post pandemic world and the mental health of children teachers and youth across societies Acknowledging the realities of a world battling with the after effects of COVID 19 the author envisions a future for education that realises real world solutions to contemporary existential ecological and societal challenges that might otherwise be limited to an imaginary or idealist space Offering a novel approach through a combination of narrative based inquiry and auto ethnographic study the book provides a synthesis of ideas from both Kumar and political philosopher Hannah Arendt not usually linked to debates in sustainability education Ultimately providing a critique of a predominantly Western orientated global education movement this interdisciplinary book will appeal to scholars researchers and post graduate students involved in education theory and the philosophy of education as well as indigenous and sustainability education more broadly
