Matthews, 2017-10-27 This guide provides library directors managers and administrators in all types of libraries with complete and up to date instructions on how to evaluate library services in order to improve them It is a fact today's libraries must evaluate their services in order to find ways to better serve patrons and prove their value to their communities In this greatly updated and expanded edition of Matthews seminal text you will discover a breadth of tools that can be used to evaluate any library service including newer tools designed to measure customer and patron outcomes The book offers practical advice backed by solid research on virtually every aspect of evaluation including quantitative and qualitative tools data analysis and specific recommendations for measuring individual services such as technical services and reference and interlibrary loan New chapters give readers effective ways to evaluate critical aspects of their libraries such as automated systems physical space staff performance management frameworks eBooks social media and information literacy The author explains how broader and more robust adoption of evaluation techniques will help library managers combine traditional internal measurements such as circulation and reference transactions with more customer centric metrics that reflect how well patrons feel they are served and how satisfied they are with the library By applying this comprehensive strategy readers will gain the ability to form a truer picture of their library's value to its stakeholders and patrons

Trends in Postsecondary Education ,1971 The Bibliographic Index ,1963 The New Anthropomorphism John S. Kennedy, 1992-07-16 In this 1992 book John Kennedy's point is that explicit anthropomorphism was well nigh killed by fierce criticism from the radical Behaviourists but that we have to recognize that today there is a new anthropomorphism which is much harder to avoid because it is unintended and largely unconscious For that reason even those who if they were asked would firmly reject anthropomorphism nevertheless unwittingly slip into it from time to time This book contains nineteen essays on behavioural concepts which have seldom been identified as anthropomorphic but in fact bear that connotation and lead to mistakes Some of these such as search images in birds and the learning of grammatical language by apes have been seen through as errors after a time A greater number such as efference copy goal directedness cognition and suffering in animals are still current though not yet regarded as erroneous The final chapter outlines things we can do to minimise the damage it does to the causal analysis of animal behaviour Cumulated Index Medicus ,1978 Verbal cues of organizational information in message decoding Mamud M.
