The Posthuman Body in Superhero Comics Scott Jeffery, 2016-10-11 This book examines the concepts of Post Humanism and Transhumanism as depicted in superhero comics Recent decades have seen mainstream audiences embrace the comic book Superhuman Meanwhile there has been increasing concern surrounding human enhancement technologies with the techno scientific movement of Transhumanism arguing that it is time humans took active control of their evolution Utilising Deleuze and Guattari's notion of the rhizome as a non hierarchical system of knowledge to conceptualize the superhero narrative in terms of its political social and aesthetic relations to the history of human technological enhancement this book draws upon a diverse range of texts to explore the way in which the posthuman has been represented in superhero comics while simultaneously highlighting its shared historical development with Post Humanist critical theory and the material techno scientific practices of Transhumanism

Technofutures, Nature and the Sacred Celia Deane-Drummond, Sigurd Bergmann, Bronislaw Szerszynski, 2016-03-03 The capacity of human beings to invent construct and use technical artifacts is a hugely consequential factor in the evolution of society and in the entangled relations between humans other creatures and their natural environments Moving from a critical consideration of theories to narratives about technology and then to particular and specific practices Technofutures Nature and the Sacred seeks to arrive at a genuinely transdisciplinary perspective focusing attention on the intersection between technology religion and society and using insights from the environmental humanities It works from both theoretical and practical contexts by using newly emerging case studies including geo engineering and soil carbon technologies and breaks open new ground by engaging theological scientific philosophical and cultural aspects of the technology religion nature nexus Encouraging us to reflect on the significance and place of religious beliefs in dealing with new technologies and engaging critical theory common in sociological political and literary discourses the authors explore the implicit religious claims embedded in technology

Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media Julia A. Empey, Russell J.A. Kilbourn, 2023-08-24 Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media From Annihilation to High Life and Beyond places posthumanism and feminist theory into dialogue with contemporary science fiction film and media This essay collection is intimately invested in the debates around the posthuman and the critical posthumanities within a feminist critical theoretical framework In this posthumanist light science fiction as a genre allows for new imaginings of human technological relations while it can also be the site of a critique of human exceptionalism and essentialism In this way science fiction affords unique opportunities for the scholarly investigation of the relevance and relative applicability of specific posthumanist themes and questions in a particularly rich and wide ranging popular cultural field of production One of the reasons for this suitability is the genre's historically longstanding relationship with the critical investigation of gender specifically the position and relative empowerment of women The original analyses presented here pay close attention to audiovisual style including game mechanics facilitating the critical interrogation of the issues and questions around posthumanism Where typically the mention of SF in the posthumanist context calls to mind a whole set of often clichéd tropes the cyborg technologically augmented bodies AI subjectivities etc this volume's thirteen chapters analyze specific examples of contemporary SF cinema that engage in meaningful ways with the burgeoning field of critical posthumanism and that utilize such films to interrogate posthumanist and feminist as well as humanistic ideas

Thweatt-Bates, 2016-05-13 What is the posthuman Is becoming posthuman inevitable something which will happen to us or something we will do to ourselves Why do some long for it while others fearfully reject it These questions underscore the fact that the posthuman is a name for the unknown future and therefore not a single idea but a jumble of competing visions some of which may be exciting some of which may be frightening and which is which depends on who you are and what you desire to be This book aims to clarify current theological and philosophical dialogue on the posthuman by arguing that theologians must pay attention to which form of the posthuman they are engaging and to demonstrate that a posthuman theology is not only possible but desirable when the vision of the posthuman is one which coincides with a theological vision of the human

Introduction Nikhilesh Dhar, Bapin Mallick, 2025-08-29 The volume delves into the provocative terrain of escape as a mode of resistance Through a diverse array of studies encompassing political theology and artificial intelligence the author navigates the philosophical landscape of exiting established forms of knowledge and practices Drawing from a rich tapestry of Western thought from Carl Schmitt and St Augustine to Bernard Stiegler and Antonio Negri the volume engages deeply with the notion of forging new pathways beyond existing political paradigms The chapters present a fresh perspective on the dynamics of political transformation urging readers to reconsider conventional boundaries and embrace innovative approaches to social change By examining the intersections of philosophy politics and technology it invites readers to contemplate profound questions about liberation creativity and the potential for radical societal renewal It is an essential reading for scholars activists and anyone intrigued by the philosophical underpinnings of resistance and the quest for new horizons in political theory and practice      Religions in the Modern World Linda Woodhead, Christopher Partridge, Hiroko Kawanami, 2016-01-13 Religions in the Modern World Traditions and Transformations Third Edition is the ideal textbook for those coming to the study of religion for the first time as well as for those who wish to keep up to date with the latest perspectives in the field This third edition contains new and upgraded pedagogic features including chapter summaries key terms and definitions and questions for reflection and discussion The first part of the book considers the history and modern practices of the main religious traditions of the world while the second analyzes trends from secularization to the rise of new spiritualities Comprehensive and fully international in coverage it is accessibly written by practicing and specialist teachers

Representations of Technology in Science Fiction for Young People ,      Screening the Posthuman Missy Molloy, Pansy Duncan, Claire Henry, 2023 From AI to climate change recent technological ecological and cultural transformations have unsettled established assumptions about the relationship between the human and the more than human world Screening the Posthuman addresses a heterogeneous body of twenty first century films that turn to the figure of the posthuman as a means of exploring this development Through close analyses of films as diverse as Kikou dir Hirokazu Koreeda 2009 Testo dir Ildiko Enyedi 2017 and Nomadland dir Chlo Zhao 2020 this wide ranging volume shows that while often identified as the remit of science fiction the posthuman on screen crosses filmic genres national contexts and industrial settings In the process posthuman cinema emphasizes humanity's entanglement in broader biological technological and social worlds and exposes new models of subjectivity community and desire In advancing these arguments Screening the Posthuman draws on scholarship associated with critical posthumanist theory an ongoing project unified by a decentering of the human As the first systematic full length application of this body of scholarship to cinema Screening the Posthuman advocates for a rigorous posthumanist critique that avoids both humanist nostalgia and transhumanist fantasy in its attention to the excitements and anxieties of posthuman experience      A Tale Told by a Machine Heather Duerre Humann, 2023-05-08 Intelligent machines have long existed in science fiction and they now appear in mainstream films such as Blade Runner Ex Machina I Am Mother and Her as well as in a recent proliferation of literary texts narrated from the machine's perspective These new portrayals of artificial intelligence inevitably foreground dilemmas related to identity and selfhood concepts being reassessed in the 21st century Taking a close look at novels like Ancillary Justice Aurora All Systems Red The Actuality The Unseen World and Klara and the Sun this work investigates key questions that arise from the use of AI narrators It describes how these narratives challenge humanist principles by suggesting that selfhood is an illusion even as they make the case for extending these principles to machines by proposing that they are not so different from humans The book examines what is at stake with nonhuman narration the qualities of AI narratives and what it might mean to relate to a narrator when the voice adopted is that of an AI      Prophets of the

Posthuman Christina Bieber Lake, 2013-09-30 Prophets of the Posthuman provides a fresh and original reading of fictional narratives that raise the question of what it means to be human in the face of rapidly developing bioenhancement technologies Christina Bieber Lake argues that works by Nathaniel Hawthorne Walker Percy Flannery O'Connor Toni Morrison George Saunders Marilynne Robinson Raymond Carver James Tiptree Jr and Margaret Atwood must be reevaluated in light of their contributions to larger ethical questions Drawing on a wide range of sources in philosophical and theological ethics Lake claims that these writers share a commitment to maintaining a category of personhood more meaningful than that allowed by utilitarian ethics Prophets of the Posthuman insists that because technology can never ask whether we should do something that we have the power to do literature must step into that role Each of the chapters of this interdisciplinary study sets up a typical ethical scenario regarding human enhancement technology and then illustrates how a work of fiction uniquely speaks to that scenario exposing a realm of human motivations that might otherwise be overlooked or simplified Through the vision of the writers she discusses Lake uncovers a deep critique of the ascendancy of personal autonomy as America's most cherished value This ascendancy coupled with technology's glamorous promises of happiness helps to shape a utilitarian view of persons that makes responsible ethical behavior toward one another almost impossible Prophets of the Posthuman charts the essential role that literature must play in the continuing conversation of what it means to be human in a posthuman world

Representations of Technology in Science Fiction for Young People Noga Applebaum, 2009-09-10 In this new book Noga Applebaum surveys science fiction novels published for children and young adults from 1980 to the present exposing the anti technological bias existing within a genre often associated with the celebration of technology Applebaum argues that perceptions of technology as a corrupting force particularly in relation to its use by young people are a manifestation of the enduring allure of the myth of childhood innocence and result in young adult fiction that endorses a technophobic agenda This agenda is a form of resistance to the changing face of childhood and technology's contribution to this change Further Applebaum contends that technophobic literature disempowers its young readers by implying that the technologies of the future are inherently dangerous while it neglects to acknowledge children's complex yet pleasurable interactions with technology today The study looks at works by well known authors including M T Anderson Monica Hughes Lois Lowry Garth Nix and Philip Reeve and explores topics such as ecology cloning the impact of technology on narrative structure and the adult child hierarchy While focusing on the popular genre of science fiction as a useful case study Applebaum demonstrates that negative attitudes toward technology exist within children's literature in general making the book of considerable interest to scholars of both science fiction and children's literature The Age of Lovecraft Carl H.
