nation's surface transportation system fail to keep pace with demand proposals for new sources have proliferated. New funding strategies such as pricing the use of new and existing roads and new institutional arrangements such as public-private partnerships have emerged over the past few years. As with all transportation policies, these strategies raise questions about equity. To address these concerns, the Transportation Research Board convened an expert committee to provide guidance to public officials about assessing the equity of evolving transportation finance mechanisms. The committee's findings are presented in this report. They are organized under the following chapter headings: 1. Equity and Transportation Finance; 2. How Transportation is Funded and Who Pays; 3. Equity Through Different Lenses; 4. Transportation Finance: Equity Evidence and Experience; 5. Equity and Decision Making: Experience with Road Pricing; and 6. Findings and Recommendations.

The Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Program National Research Council (U.S.). Committee for the Evaluation of the Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Program, 2002. The Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement CMAQ program was enacted as part of the surface transportation legislation. This work recommends that Congress retain the sole federal surface transportation program that funds projects to reduce pollution and traffic congestion in areas that must comply with national air quality standards. Transport Economics P.C. Stubbs, W.J. Tyson, M.Q. Dalvi, 2017-04-21. Practically everybody in the community uses the transport system and an eighth of personal consumption expenditure in Britain is spent on transport. This book first published in 1980 and revised in 1984 presents a synthesis of theoretical and empirical material to explain the elements of transport economics. These include demand, supply, pricing and investment and the importance of institutional arrangements is emphasised in chapters on transport planning and on international transport in which shipping and airline economics are analysed.
