Mystery and the Making of a Christian Historical Consciousness T. J. Lang, 2015-10-16 In general theological terms this study examines the interplay of early Christian understandings of history revelation and identity The book explores this interaction through detailed analysis of appeals to mystery in the Pauline letter collection and then the discourse of previously hidden but newly revealed mysteries in various second century thinkers T J Lang argues that the historical coordination of the concealed revealed binary the mystery previously hidden but presently revealed enabled these early Christian authors to ground Christian claims particularly key ecclesial hermeneutical and christological claims in Israel's history and in the eternal design of God while at the same time accounting for their revelatory newness This particular Christian conception of time gives birth to a new and totalizing historical consciousness and one that has significant implications for the construction of Christian identity particularly vis vis Judaism The Heavenly Book Motif in Judeo-Christian Apocalypses 200 BCE-200 CE Leslie Baynes, 2012 The first full length analysis of the heavenly book motif in English this study highlights a vital element of early Jewish and Christian apocalyptic literature Through multiple intertextual readings it demonstrates that for the ancients heavenly writing had life or death consequences

The Consciousness of the Historical Jesus Austin Stevenson, 2024-02-22 In this book Austin Stevenson argues that it is not the divinity of Jesus that causes problems for historians but his humanity To insist that Jesus was fully human as both theologians and historians do still leaves us with the question of what it means to be human It turns out that theologians and historians often have different answers to this question on both a philosophical and a theological register Furthermore historians frequently misunderstand the historiographical implications of classical Christology and thus the compatibility between traditional beliefs about Jesus and critical historical inquiry Through close engagement with the thought of Thomas Aquinas c 1225-74 this book offers a new path toward the reconciliation of these disciplines by focusing on human knowledge and subjectivity which are central issues in both historical method and Christology By interrogating and challenging the normative metaphysical assumptions operative in Jesus scholarship a range of possibility is opened up for approaches to Jesus that are genuinely historical but not naturalistic

People under Power
Michael Labahn, Outi Lehtipuu, 2025-10-01 This volume presents a batch of incisive new essays on the relationship between Roman imperial power and ideology and Christian and Jewish life and thought within the empire. Tragedy, Ritual and Money in Ancient Greece Richard Seaford, 2018-11-22 Richard Seaford is one of the most original and provocative classicists of his age. This volume brings together a wide range of papers written with a single focus. Several are pioneering explorations of the tragic evocation and representation of rites of passage, mystic initiation, the wedding, and death ritual. Two papers focus on the shaping power of mystic initiation in two famous passages in the New Testament. The other key factor in the historical context of tragedy is the recent monetisation of Athens. One paper explores the presence of money in Greek tragedy; another, the shaping influence of money on Wagner's Ring and on his Aeschylean model. Other papers reveal the influence of ritual and money on representations of the inner self and on Greek and Indian philosophy. A final piece finds in Greek tragedy horror at the destructive unlimitedness of money that is still central to our postmodern world.
