Lord Jim After The Truth:

Lord Jim Ross C. Murfin, 1992 A tale of dramatic experiences in far away places and of the ongoing fight between the primitive and the civilized Lord Jim 1900 is one of Joseph Conrad's most highly regarded works His forceful style and perceptive treatment of very modern problems have earned him the respect and admiration of both the general reader and writers such as William Faulkner and Graham Greene Lord Jim After the Truth is only the second critical study devoted entirely to Conrad's most far flung and disparate novel It deftly combines a fascinating introduction to biographical and historical background a fast paced survey of major critical response chapters on the novel's significances and a clearly organized and carefully developed reading of Lord Jim Murfin argues that because Conrad's novel creates conditions that militate against one central viewpoint it cannot be declared optimistic or nihilistic any more than Jim can be called a hero or a failure Lord Jim After the Truth holds our constant interest in these issues by aiming a multifaceted interpretation towards reader response A strong chronology and annotated bibliography make it an essential reference tool for all fans of Lord Jim

The Cambridge Companion to Joseph Conrad J. H. Stape, 1996-06-27 The Cambridge Companion to Joseph Conrad offers a wide ranging introduction to the fiction of Joseph Conrad one of the most influential novelists of the twentieth century Through a series of essays by leading Conrad scholars aimed at both students and the general reader the volume stimulates an informed appreciation of Conrad's work based on an understanding of his cultural and historical situations and fictional techniques A chronology and overview of Conrad's life precede chapters that explore significant issues in his major writings and deal in depth with individual works These are followed by discussions of the special nature of Conrad's narrative techniques his complex relationships with late Victorian imperialism and with literary Modernism and his influence on other writers and artists Each essay provides guidance to further reading and a concluding chapter surveys the body of Conrad criticism

Conrad's Fiction as Critical Discourse Richard Ambrosini, 1991-07-26 Joseph Conrad's comments about his works have commonly been dismissed as theoretically unsophisticated while the critical notions of James Woolf and Joyce have come to shape our understanding of the modern novel Richard Ambrosini's study of Conrad's Fiction as Critical Discourse makes an original claim for the importance of his theoretical ideas as they are formed tested and eventually redefined in Heart of Darkness and Lord Jim Setting the narrator's discourse in these tales in the context of the dynamic interplay of Conrad's fictional with his non fictional writings and of the transformations in his narrative forms Ambrosini defines Conrad's view of fiction and the artistic ideal underlying his commitment as a writer in a new and challenging way Conrad's innovatory techniques as a novelist are shown in the continuity of his theoretical enterprise from the early search for an artistic prose and a personal novel form to the later dislocations of perspective achieved by manipulation of conventions drawn from popular fiction This reassessment of Conrad's critical thought offers a new perspective on the transition from the Victorian novel to contemporary fiction

Heidegger on Literature, Poetry, and Education after the "Turn" James M. Magrini, Elias Schwieler, 2017-08-07 Offering new and original readings of literature poetry and education as interpreted through the conceptual lens of Heidegger's later philosophy of the Turn this book helps readers understand Heidegger's later thought and presents new takes on how to engage the themes that emerged from his later writing Suggesting novel ways to consider Heidegger's ideas on literature poetry and education Magrini and Schwieler provide a deep understanding of the Turn a topic not often explored in contemporary Heideggerian scholarship Their inter and extra disciplinary postmodern approaches offer a nuanced examination taking into account Heidegger's controversial place in history and filling a gap in educational research Intimations of Joseph Conrad G.W. Stephen Brodsky, 2024-09-27 Master mariner and pioneer author of Modernist technique Joseph Conrad 1857-1924 achieved such eminence in his lifetime that his presence explicit or implicit could be found in the lives and works of several contemporaries of consequence Through the century since his death he has lived on as a presence in the works of later authors to the present day A collection spanning fifteen years of the present author's sightings of Conrad's presences are not only literary but also memorial Monuments sculpture ships plaques the performing arts cabinetry and even a pub find a place Each sighting is described in its context a couple of certain or likely sightings by Conrad such as Molière and Matthew Arnold and the rest sightings or ambient intimations of Conrad's presence fiction and social commentary in novels and film by significant authors who carry on his legacy from contemporaries such as H.G. Wells Ford Madox Ford and F. Scott Fitzgerald to moderns George Orwell Albert Camus John Le Carré Ian MacEwan and John Banfield among others Presented in a clear yet poetic prose style this record of Conrad's influence on these contemporary and later writers brings a significant dimension to their interpretation conversely Conrad's place may be perceived more precisely in the historically broadening canon from Modernist to Postmodern Together with its illustrations Intimations of Joseph Conrad is a novel and unique concept as entertaining as it is informative Conrad and Cinema Gene D. Phillips, 1995 The purpose of this book is to show how the wedding of fiction and film works out concretely in a book that focuses on the screen versions of the work of a single novelist Joseph Conrad Conrad is not only one of the greatest writers of this century but has the distinction of having all of his major works committed to film including Lord Jim and Heart of Darkness as Apocalypse Now Here is an in depth study of the films of Conrad's fiction solidly based on both literary and cinematic theory The author conducted interviews with several of the notable directors who made Conrad films including Sir Alfred Hitchcock and Francis Coppola this interview material is a highlight of the book The Bookman, 1918 Travel, Modernism and Modernity Robert Burden, 2016-03-09 Focusing on the significance of travel in Joseph Conrad E.M. Forster D.H. Lawrence Henry James and Edith Wharton Robert Burden shows how travel enabled a new consciousness of mobility and borders during the modernist period For these authors Burden suggests travel becomes a narrative paradigm and dominant trope by which they explore questions of identity and otherness related to deep seated concerns with the crisis of national cultural identity He pays particular attention to the important distinction between travel and tourism at the same time that he attends to the slippage between seeing and sightseeing between the local character and the stereotype between art and kitsch and between older and newer ways of storytelling in the representational crisis of modernism Burden argues that the greater awareness of cultural difference that characterizes both the travel writing and fiction of these expatriate writers became a defining feature of literary modernism resulting in a consciousness of cultural difference that challenged the ethnographic project of empire

The Challenge of Bewilderment Paul B. Armstrong, 2018-03-15

The Challenge of Bewilderment treats the epistemology of representation in major works by Henry James Joseph Conrad and Ford Madox Ford attempting to explain how the novel turned away from its traditional concern with realistic representation and toward self-consciousness about the relation between knowing and narration Paul B Armstrong here addresses the pivotal thematic experience of bewilderment an experience that challenges the reader's very sense of reality and that shows it to have no more certainty or stability than an interpretative construct Through readings of The Sacred Fount and The Ambassadors by James Lord Jim and Nostromo by Conrad and The Good Soldier and Parade's End by Ford Armstrong examines how each writer dramatizes his understanding of the act of knowing Armstrong demonstrates how the novelists' attitudes toward the process of knowing inform experiments with representation through which they thematize the relation between the understanding of a fictional world and everyday habits of perception Finally he considers how these experiments with the strategies of narration produce a heightened awareness of the process of interpretation
