Kathleen Ann Clark, Ann Short Chirhart, 2014-07-15 Women were leading actors in twentieth century developments in Georgia yet most histories minimize their contributions The essays in the second volume of Georgia Women edited by Ann Short Chirhart and Kathleen Ann Clark vividly portray a wide array of Georgia women who played an important role in the state's history from little known Progressive Era activists to famous present day figures such as Pulitzer Prize winning author Alice Walker and former First Lady Rosalynn Carter Georgia women were instrumental to state and national politics even before they achieved suffrage and as essays on Lillian Smith Frances Pauley Coretta Scott King and others demonstrate they played a key role in twentieth century struggles over civil rights gender equality and the proper size and reach of government Georgia women's contributions have been wide ranging in the arena of arts and culture and include the works of renowned blues singer Gertrude Ma Rainey and such nationally prominent literary figures as Margaret Mitchell Carson McCullers and Flannery O'Connor as well as Walker While many of the volume's essays take a fresh look at relatively well known figures readers will also have the opportunity to discover women who were vital to Georgia's history yet remain relatively obscure today such as Atlanta educator and activist Lugenia Burns Hope World War II aviator Hazel Raines entrepreneur and carpet manufacturer Catherine Evans Whitener and rural activist and author Vara A Majette Collectively the life stories portrayed in this volume deepen our understanding of the multifaceted history of not only Georgia women but also the state itself

Disarming the Nation Elizabeth Young, 1999-12-15 In a study that will radically shift our understanding of Civil War literature Elizabeth Young shows that American women writers have been profoundly influenced by the Civil War and that in turn their works have contributed powerfully to conceptions of the war and its aftermath Offering fascinating reassessments of works by white writers such as Harriet Beecher Stowe Louisa May Alcott and Margaret Mitchell and African American writers including Elizabeth Keckley Frances Harper and Margaret Walker Young also highlights crucial but lesser known texts such as the memoirs of women who masqueraded as soldiers In each case she explores the interdependence of gender with issues of race sexuality region and nation Combining literary analysis cultural history and feminist theory Disarming the Nation argues that the Civil War functioned in women's writings to connect female bodies with the body politic Women writers used the idea of civil war as a metaphor to represent struggles between and within women including struggles against the cultural prescriptions of civility At the same time these writers also reimagined the nation itself foregrounding women in their visions of America at war and in peace In a substantial afterword Young shows how contemporary black and white women including those who crossdress in Civil War reenactments continue to reshape the meanings of the war in ways startlingly similar to their nineteenth century counterparts Learned witty and accessible Disarming the Nation provides fresh and compelling perspectives on the Civil War women's writing and the many unresolved civil wars within American culture today
