The Provincetown Players and the Playwrights' Theatre, 1915-1922 Edna Kenton, 2004-01-01 The feminist writer and editor Edna Kenton 1876–1954 was elected to the Executive Committee of the Provincetown Players by 1916 This theatrical company first to present the plays of Eugene O'Neill rebelled against the commercialism of Broadway and gave unrecognized dramatists the opportunity to experiment Kenton was a great admirer of company leader George Cram Cook and when Cook died in Greece in the early 1920s Kenton dedicated herself to upholding his vision of a Dionysian ideal in American theater This is Kenton's original history of the influential theatre from the first seasons at Provincetown in 1915 and 1916 to the final New York season in 1922 This invaluable eyewitness account has been edited from the most complete and latest version of Kenton's text with consultation of earlier incomplete versions Kenton transcribed many playbills into the text and included others whole between the pages the latter are included as illustrations An appendix reprints Kenton's two periodical articles about the Provincetown Players and articles from the New York Herald the Boston Globe and the Boston Evening Transcript as well as other memories of the Provincetown Players including those of Marsden Hartley Nina Moise M Eleanor Fitzgerald and Djuna Barnes Hunger on the Stage Elisabeth Angel-Perez, Alexandra Poulain, 2009-10-02 In his short story The Hunger Artist Kafka imagined the theatrical career of a professional faster whose performance consists merely in displaying his own starving body before an avid audience Kafka thus paradoxically suggested that hunger mere emptiness working its way through declining bodies may be a privileged theatrical object Hunger often signals an anchorage in socio historical reality and invites extreme situations on stage articulating large scale cataclysms famines the devastation of war with personal tragedies hunger strikes anorexia etc in which characters experience the tenuousness of their own lives Whether in the comic or in the tragic mode staged hunger metaphorizes various kinds of starvation material greed spiritual emotional sexual starvation and even linguistic insufficiency This volume explores the aesthetic and ethical issues raised by hunger on the stage in the English speaking world It investigates the paradox of the hypervisibility of the thinning body and shows how throughout history hunger has given shape to innovative powerfully transgressive dramaturgies Later Plays of Eugene O'Neill Eugene O'Neill, Travis Bogard, 2009-04-09 Presents four works written during the later years of O'Neill's distinguished career To Have or Have Not James Fisher, 2011-10-14 In a rapidly changing world the ways in which economic forces affect both personal and global change can be difficult to track particularly in the arts This collection of twenty new essays explores both obscure and famous plays dealing with economic issues Beginning with the Industrial Revolution the text moves from Marx's theories to Wall Street speculation nineteenth century immigration issues the excesses of the Gilded Age and the 1920s the Great Depression World War II and millennial economic challenges O'Neill Louis Scheaffer, 2002-08-19 The most lauded playwright in American history Eugene O'Neill 1888-1953 won four Pulitzer Prizes and a Nobel Prize for a body of work that includes The Iceman Cometh Mourning Becomes Electra Desire Under the Elms and Long Day's Journey into Night His life the direct source for so much of his art was one of personal tumult from the very beginning The son of a famous actor and a quiet morphine addicted mother O'Neill had experienced alcoholism a collapse of his health and bouts of mania while still a young man Based on years of extensive research and access to previously untapped sources Scheaffer's authoritative biography examines how the pain of O'Neill's childhood fed his desire to write dramas and affected his artistically successful and emotionally disastrous life The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 28 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-06-17 Volume 28 of The Annual features stimulating original essays on the relationship between psychoanalysis and the neurosciences Edelman's Neural Darwinism informs Barry's investigation of the psychoanalytic theory of internalization and Fajardo's reassessment of breaks in consciousness whereas Gedo's hierarchical model of mental functioning informs Fisher's presentation of the treatment of an autistic child Elsewhere Hadley proposes a neurobiologically distinct motivational system devoted to the development of autonomy Solms attempts to bridge psychoanalysis and the neurophysiology of dreaming Levin and Trevarthen examine the relationship of conscious and unconscious functions to the executive control network ECN of the brain Levin examines the contributions of chaos theory to psychoanalysis and Modell explores metaphor as the crucial aspect of the developing mind and brain through which cognition itself occurs Moraitis's examination of why analysis has been so slow to integrate its findings with the insights of contemporary neuroscience and cognitive psychology and Sadow's reprise on the role of theory in the evolution of psychoanalysis usefully frame the contributions to this section. Section II of Volume 28 reengages a subject area for which The Annual has become well known. The four characteristically excellent studies in applied psychoanalysis found here cover the effect of early father loss on the work of the American watercolorist Charles Burchfield, The Creativity of Women, the unconscious influence of metaphor on attitudes and value judgments, and the application of self psychology to the dramas of Eugene O'Neill. It is altogether typical of this fine series that a collection of essays dedicated to the development of a psychobiologically sophisticated psychoanalysis should be followed by contributions that testify to the explanatory vitality of psychoanalysis with respect to issues of literature, art, and creativity. Three Plays by Eugene O'Neill Eugene O'Neill, 2009-07-01. Desire under the Elms, Strange Interlude, and Mourning Becomes Electra.
