The History of the Revival and Progress of Independency in England, Since the Period of the Reformation, Etc Joseph FLETCHER (of Hanley.),1847 Revival: A History of Modern Culture: Volume II (1934) Preserved Smith,2018-01-16 The understanding of history can be advanced only by the combination or alternation of analysis and synthesis Detailed research and generalizing survey are not antiethical but complementary For a long time however the specialist has reigned supreme in our schools The need is now surely for a return to synoptic writing The present work was undertaken to supply the need of a synthesis It is a map of a large region not a geological chart of a square mile or the plan of a single city Its value if any lies in its view of the interrelations of large tracts of social and intellectual life not in the intensive investigation of narrow fields

The history of the revival and progress of Independency in England, since the period of the Reformation Joseph Fletcher,1847 Emerson's English Traits and the Natural History of Metaphor David LaRocca,2013-09-26 Metaphors are ubiquitous and yet or for that very reason go largely unseen We are all variously susceptible to a blindness or blurry vision of metaphors yet even when they are seen clearly we are left to situate the ambiguities conflations and contradictions they regularly present logically aesthetically and morally David LaRocca's book serves as a set of reminders of certain features of the natural history of our language especially the tropes that permeate and define it As part of his investigation LaRocca turns to Ralph Waldo Emerson's only book on a single topic English Traits 1856 which teems with genealogical and generative metaphors blood birth plants parents family names and race In the first book length study of English Traits in over half a century LaRocca considers the presence of metaphors in Emerson's fertile text a unique work in his expansive corpus and one that is regularly overlooked As metaphors are encountered in Emerson's book and drawn from a long history of usage in work by others a reader may realize or remember what is inherent and encoded in our language but rarely seen how metaphors circulate in speech and through texts to become the lifeblood of thought

The American Revolution Reborn Patrick Spero,Michael Zuckerman,2016-10-12 The American Revolution conjures a series of iconographic images in the contemporary American imagination In these imagined scenes defiant Patriots fight against British Redcoats for freedom and democracy while a unified citizenry rallies behind them and the American cause But the lived experience of the Revolution was a more complex matter filled with uncertainty fear and discord In The American Revolution Reborn editors Patrick Spero and Michael Zuckerman compile essays from a new generation of multidisciplinary scholars that render the American Revolution as a time of intense ambiguity and frightening contingency The American Revolution Reborn parts company with the Revolution of our popular imagination and diverges from the work done by historians of the era from the past half century In the first section Civil Wars contributors rethink the heroic terms of Revolutionary era allegiance and refute the idea of patriotic consensus In the following section Wider Horizons essayists destabilize the historiographical inevitability of America as a nation The studies gathered in the third section New Directions present new possibilities for scholarship on the American Revolution And the last section titled Legacies collects essays that deal with the long afterlife of the Revolution and its effects on immigration geography and international politics With an introduction by Spero and a conclusion by Zuckerman this volume heralds a substantial and revelatory rebirth in the study of the American Revolution Contributors Zara Anishanslin Mark Boonshoft Denver Brunsmann Katherine Cart Engel Aaron Spencer Fogleman Travis Glasson Edward G Gray David C Hsiung Ned C Landsman Michael A McDonnell Kimberly Nath Bryan Rosenblithe David S Shields Patrick Spero Matthew Spooner Aaron Sullivan Michael Zuckerman

Representation and Identity from Versailles to the Present A. Sikes, 2007-08-06 Sikes traces the shifting role of performance in the fashioning of subjectivity from the Modern to the Postmodern eras The book joins history and historiography and is grounded in a body of research about varied performance subjects from court dance ballet opera festivals celebrations propaganda films Hollywood movies to reality TV

Healthcare Reborn Ram Ramprasad, 2002-08-15 The objective of this book is to stir the imagination of the government business healthcare organizations and individuals to explore innovative ideas and strategies that could significantly lower healthcare costs through a bottoms up rather than a top down approach The inter relationships between the different components of healthcare are almost mind boggling Therefore the book is broken down into a list of essays on innovation strategy reform and vision The suggested approaches are in a broad yet limited variety of areas The ideas in this book are oriented to the society at large with an aim to benefit the consumer Finally the book offers innovative solutions that the government industry and private individuals can capitalize on to improve the overall quality of life while lowering healthcare costs In the opinion of the author most of our increases in healthcare costs can be contained not by research rather they can be contained in the way we think the way we connect with our fellow human beings and the way we protect our environment Society may need to recognize a collective human purpose it must then connect the individuals of the society through the principles of free market to such a purpose This is the theme of the book and this is the idea in which innovations for the future should follow regardless of which industry category they belong to

Fathering the Nation Russ Castronovo, Dorothy Draheim Professor of English Russ Castronovo, 1995-01-01 Adds a new dimension to the understanding of so called classic Americanist texts and importantly complicates the account of their cultural transmission and historicization Castronovo constructs an iconoclastic history comprised of the counter memories and subjugated knowledges of figures whose stories were eclipsed by the nation's monumental history His argument addresses the more inclusive questions associated with cultural studies Donald E Pease editor of Revisionary Interventions into the Americanist Canon An exciting and precise articulation of how slavery disrupts both dominant and unauthorized narratives of national identity thus casting our national story as inherently inconsistent characterized not by wholeness but by divisions and ambivalences in both content and form The lucidity and complexity of Castronovo s argument as it interweaves multiple themes and texts is very impressive Karen Sanchez Eppler author of Touching Liberty Revival: A Constitutional History of India (1936) Arthur Berriedale Keith,2018-05-08 This book first published in 1926 provides a comprehensive description and analysis of every constitutional aspect of British rule in India from 1600 to 1936 Beginning with a description of the East India Company before Plassey its constitution administration of settlements and relation to the Indian states the book closes with an account of the reforms of the 1930s the events leading up to the White Paper and an analysis and elucidation of the Government of India Act 1935 Revival: A History of Spanish Literature (1930) Ernest Merimee,2018-05-08 The present English version authorized by the publishers and heirs of M Merimee is based on the third French Edition New material of two sorts has been added however First the translator has been allowed to utilize an annotated interleaved copy of the Precis 1922 in which the author and after his death his son Henri himself a distinguished Hispanist had set down material for the next revision This accounts for many inserted names and phrases and some paragraphs Second the translator has rewritten and added with some freedom Boston Revival, 1842: a Brief History of the Evangelical Churches of Boston, Together With a More Particular Account of the Revival of 1842 Martin Moore,2024-05-24 A History of Classical Scholarship: From the revival of learning to the end of the eighteenth century Sir John Edwin Sandys,1908
