A Recipe for Bees Gail Anderson-Dargatz, 2010-03-03 Gail Anderson Dargatz's evocative novel of one woman's simple but passionately lived life reminds of us of the pleasure to be found in human contact and simple natural things. Raised by her silent but companionable father and a mother who kept bees headstrong Augusta marries shy deferential Karl twelve years her senior and goes to live with him on his father's remote farm. Terrified that she will literally die from loneliness and isolation she finds work in town and for a short time fulfillment with another man in a romance that will reverberate throughout her life. Not until many years later does she find her salvation in beekeeping the practice she first learned from her mother. It is beekeeping that reconnects her to the world and at long last brings fire to her steadfast marriage. A

History of Canadian Fiction David Staines, 2021-08-05 A History of Canadian Fiction is the first one volume history to chart its development from earliest times to the present day. Recounting the struggles and the glories of this burgeoning area of investigation it explains Canada's literary growth alongside its remarkable history. Highlighting the people who have shaped and are shaping Canadian literary culture the book examines such major figures as Mavis Gallant Mordecai Richler Alice Munro Margaret Atwood Michael Ondaatje and Thomas King concluding with young authors of today whose major successes reflect their indebtedness to their Canadian forbearers. Black Bird Michel Basilières, 2011-07-27 With comic brilliance and a delight in the macabre Michel Basilières holds a fun house mirror up to a defining moment in Canadian history and reveals among other things a family having a very bad year. Holed up in a shambling house at the base of Mount Royal is the family Desouche three generations of English and French Canadians caught in the gears of a national emergency. Their world is dark and hard but alive with hope and expectation. When one of the eldest an Anglo Montrealer dies at the hand of one of the youngest a militant separatist so begins a year of turmoil and change that culminates in the October Crisis. Grave robbing Grandfather consorts with prostitutes and mad scientists loses an eye and gains a new vision. His disenchanted wife bonds with his canny pet crow. Mother sleeps her grief away through the seasons while Father ineffectively schemes to get rich quick. Meanwhile their twin children Marie and Jean Baptiste find their personal ambitions clashing with their public actions as they derail each other at every turn. In this wholly original novel alive with misfortune and magic Michel Basilières uncovers a Montreal not seen in any other English Canadian novel a forgotten blue collar neighbourhood in between the two solitudes Gothic outrageous yet tender and wise Black Bird is as liberating as the dreams of its wayward characters and as gripping as the insurgencies that split its heart
