Dry Bones Rattling Mark R. Warren, 2010-09-13 Dry Bones Rattling offers the first in depth treatment of how to rebuild the social capital of America s communities while promoting racially inclusive democratic participation The Industrial Areas Foundation IAF network in Texas and the Southwest is gaining national attention as a model for reviving democratic life in the inner city and beyond This richly drawn study shows how the IAF network works with religious congregations and other community based institutions to cultivate the participation and leadership of Americans most left out of our elite centered politics Interfaith leaders from poor communities of color collaborate with those from more affluent communities to build organizations with the power to construct affordable housing create job training programs improve schools expand public services and increase neighborhood safety In clear and accessible prose Mark Warren argues that the key to revitalizing democracy lies in connecting politics to community institutions and the values that sustain them By doing so the IAF network builds an organized multiracial constituency with the power to advance desperately needed social policies While Americans are most aware of the religious right Warren documents the growth of progressive faith based politics in America He offers a realistic yet hopeful account of how this rising trend can transform the lives of people in our most troubled neighborhoods Drawing upon six years of original fieldwork Dry Bones Rattling proposes new answers to the problems of American democracy community life race relations and the urban crisis

The Abuse of Minors in the Catholic Church Anthony J. Blasi, Lluís Oviedo, 2020-03-26 This book offers an academically rigorous examination of the biological psychological social and ecclesiastical processes that allowed sexual abuse in the Catholic Church to happen and then be covered up The collected essays provide a means to better assess systemic wrongdoing in religious institutions so that they can be more effectively held to account An international team of contributors apply a necessarily multi disciplinary approach to this difficult subject Chapters look closely at the sexual abuse of minors by Roman Catholic clerics explaining the complexity of this issue which cannot be reduced to simple misconduct sexual deviation or a management failure alone The book will help the reader to better understand the social organizational and cultural processes in the Church over recent decades as well as the intricate world of beliefs moral rules and behaviours It concludes with some strategies for change at the individual and corporate levels that will better ensure safeguarding within the Catholic Church and its affiliate institutions This multifaceted study gives a nuanced analysis of this huge organizational failure and offers recommendations for effective ways of preventing it in the future As such it will be of keen interest to scholars of Religious Studies Sociology of Religion Psychology Psychiatry Legal Studies Ethics Anthropology Cultural Studies History and Theology

James Reichley,2004-05-26 According to current polls about 85 percent of Americans identify with some religious faith and more than 40 percent say they attend religious services at least once a week In recent years religious observance and even religious belief have become important factors influencing voter choice Active participation in electoral politics by some religious groups has fueled apprehensions that the traditional separation of church and state may be threatened A James Reichley explores the questions and conflicting positions surrounding the relations between government and politics in a new book that draws upon his landmark work Religion in American Public Life In Faith in Politics Reichley explores the history of religion in American public life and considers some practical and philosophic questions affecting future participation by religious groups in the formation of public policy Reichley begins by examining the various attitudes and points of view of strict separationists liberal social activists moderate accommodationists and direct interventionists He goes on to discuss the way religion and politics relate to each other through a theoretic structure of seven value systems monism absolutism ecstacism egoism collectivism civil humanism and transcendent idealism Further chapters examine the trends and constitutional arrangements that developed during the formative years of the American Republic the evolution of judicial interpretations of the free exercise and establishment clauses and the history of church involvement in politics from the early years of the Republic to the 2000 election and the aftermath of the September 11 terrorist attacks A chapter covering events and developments from 1986 to 2002 includes accounts of political activism by the African American church ideological divisions among Roman Catholics Jewish liberalism and commitment to Israel the rise and decline of the religious right and political differences reconciliation at this time in history How do we minister to alienated and inactive Catholics who wish to be reconciled to the church To begin to answer these questions from back cover Conscience First, Tradition Second Patrick H.

McNamara,1992-02-06 For this study of American religion the author surveyed over 2000 Catholic high school seniors during a fourteen year period exploring changes in religiosity and attitudes toward the recent teachings of the Church Fifty four of these people were resurveyed eight and nine years after graduation probing whether and in what direction their viewpoints had shifted African Religion in the Dialogue Debate Laurenti Magesa,2010 Dialogue between African Religion and other world religions has regrettably been a much neglected area in formal religious discourse in Africa to date Moreover up to now the imperative of dialogue in the process of evangelism figures only peripherally if at all in the study of African Christian Theology This book is probably the first deliberate extensive and well argued attempt by an African theologian to fill this unfortunate lacuna How can Christian and African spiritualities interact with and enrich each other on the basis of mutual respect without as has historically been the case the one necessarily seeking to eradicate the other This is the fundamental question of dialogue discussed in the pages of this book Dr Laurenti Magesa is Senior Lecturer in African Theology at the Maryknoll Institute of African Studies and the Jesuit School of Theology Catholic University of Eastern Africa Nairobi Kenya

Globalization, Religion and Gender J. Bayes,N. Tohidi,2016-09-23 In the early 1970s accompanying the current wave of globalization conservative nationalist religious movements began using religion to oppose non democratic and often western oriented regimes Reasserting patriarchal gender relations presumably authorized by religion has been central to these movements At the Fourth United Nations Congress on Women in Beijing in 1995 Muslim and Catholic delegations from diverse countries united to oppose provisions on sexuality reproductive rights women s health and women s rights as human rights In this book scholars from eight different Muslim and Catholic communities analyze the political strategies that women are employing in these contexts ranging from acceptance of traditional doctrines to various forms of resistance religious reinterpretation innovation and political action toward change and equal rights Journey into Faith and Fidelity Nadine Foley,1999-01-10 This book is a collection of related stories by members of the Adrian Dominican congregation that reflects the creative movement that has taken place in religious life as women have responded to the inspiration of Vatican Council II as well as to the impact of contemporary culture While the impetus to renewal came directly from the Church authority adaptation and change far exceeded what was originally envisioned by those who authorized the process particularly when the institutes responded to the directive to consult all the members The contributors to this book trace the most critical influences that moved religious congregations toward a renewed religious life They embraced a God who does not remain static but who moves in human history a loving God who relates to us in care and compassion a Holy Spirit who dwells within and inspires through discernment the decisions and directions that are to be taken a sense of personal worth and empowerment as women baptized into gospel mission and ministry a response to Church teaching that action on behalf of justice is constitutive of Gospel mission In renewing their religious life women have an important experience to offer the Church for ongoing renewal in the future as reflection upon these essays and continuing dialogue will reveal

God the Economist M. Douglas Meeks, God does not appear in the modern market For most economists this is as it should be It is in no way necessary according to modern economic theory to consider God when thinking about economy Indeed the absence of God in economic matters is viewed as necessary to the great advances in modern economy The difficulty with modern market economies however is that human livelihood is also left out of the theory and practice of the market economy I propose to bring the church's teaching about God the doctrine of the Trinity to bear on the masked connections between God and economy I will treat the Trinity as the way of understanding what the Bible calls the economy of God

Economic Thinking for the Theologically Minded Samuel Gregg, 2001 Economic Thinking for the Theologically Minded provides an introduction to what has been called the economic way of thinking which explains some of the critical concepts and foundational assumptions employed in economics To communicate these ideas effectively to those engaged in theological studies this book avoids using unnecessary technical terminology These concepts are then subject to analysis from the standpoint of Christian ethics with emphasis placed upon the often unsuspected degree of agreement between economics and Christian belief about the nature of the person The second half of the book consists of a collection of selections from classical economic texts representing a range of authors from a variety of schools of thought These selections have been arranged around ten key concepts each of which attempts to deepen understanding of various ideas presented in the book's first half
