Bengal,1875 The Torture Report: Committee Study of the Central Intelligence Agency's Detention and Interrogation Program Senate Select Senate Select Committee on Intelligence,2014-12-15 Minority and Additional Minority Views The Senate Intelligence Committee has released the highly anticipated 500 page summary of its report on the CIA s post 9 11 torture program It provides a sobering glimpse into one of the darkest chapters in the U S government s history These additional views of the minority and additional minority views are released in addition to the main report The Treatment of Prisoners under International Law Nigel Rodley,Matt Pollard,2011-04-07 This is the third edition of the pioneering work that has become the standard text in the field The first edition was one of the earliest to establish that the newly developing international law of human rights could be set down as any other branch of international law It also incorporates the complementary fields of international humanitarian law and international criminal law while addressing the problems associated with their interaction with human rights law The book is more than a descriptive analysis of the field It acknowledges areas of unclarity or where developments may be embryonic Solutions are offered Recent developments have confirmed the value of solutions proposed in this edition and the previous one Central to most of the chapters is the human rights norm of most salience in the treatment of prisoners namely the prohibition of torture and cruel inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment The early chapters focus on the period of first detention when detainees are most at risk of having information or confessions however unreliable extracted by unlawful means Voices contemplating the legitimacy of such treatment to combat terrorism have been heard in the wake of the atrocities of 11 September 2001 The book finds that the evidence clearly suggests that the absolute prohibition of such treatment remains firm Other chapters deal with problems of poor prison conditions and of certain extraordinary penalties notably corporal and capital punishment A chapter explores ethical codes for members of professions capable of inflicting or preventing the prohibited behaviour police and medical and legal professionals Chapters are also devoted to the extreme practice of enforced disappearance and the contribution of the new convention on this phenomenon as well as to extra legal executions Torture Report Senate Committee on Intelligence,2014-12-14 The full unabridged controversial summary put out by the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence This explosive report is over 500 pages long including a Forward by Diane Feinstein Executive Summary Findings and Conclusions This report includes many shocking details including deaths of people who were in custody enhanced interrogation techniques that were torture and the fact that some of the people were innocent This edition is a full and unabridged excluding the officially redacted parts and contains content that is not suitable for minors The CIA Torture Report Senate Select Senate Select Committee on Intelligence,2014-12-03 Study of the CIA s Detention and Interrogation Program Foreword Findings and Conclusions and Executive Summary The Committee Study of the Central Intelligence Agency s Detention and Interrogation Program commonly known as the CIA Torture Report is a 6 000 page report compiled by the United States Senate Select Committee on Intelligence SSCI about the Central Intelligence

Agency CIA's Detention and Interrogation Program using enhanced interrogation techniques a euphemism for torture on detainees following the September 11 attacks in 2001. The full report has not been published but the committee voted in April 2014 to release the recommendations executive summary and findings of the report. A 525 page unclassified portion of the report was released on December 9 2014 after a presentation on the floor of the Senate by Sen Dianne Feinstein D CA the chairwoman of the Select Committee on Intelligence. Over 90% of the report remains classified. The report which took four years and 40 million to compile focused on 2001-06. It detailed actions by CIA officials and shortcomings of the detention project. One key finding was that enhanced interrogation techniques did not help acquire actionable intelligence or gain cooperation from detainees.

Report on the CIA Detention and Interrogation Program United States United States Senate Intelligence Committee, 2014-12-09. This is the full text of the unclassified US Senate report on the CIA's detention and interrogation program. This controversial document also referred to as the CIA Torture Report will resonate for decades as Americans debate the after effects of the September 11 2001 attacks and the ensuing War on Terror. On December 9 2014 the US Senate Intelligence Committee released the unclassified executive summary of the committee's five year review of the CIA's detention and interrogation program. The release included redacted versions of the committee's executive summary and findings and conclusions as well as additional and minority views authored by members of the committee. The committee voted to initiate the review on March 5 2009 with a bipartisan 14-1 vote. Over the following three and a half years committee staff reviewed more than 6.3 million pages of CIA records a painstaking process that culminated in the committee's 9-6 bipartisan vote to approve the study on December 13 2012. Months of meetings with the CIA and work to update the study followed and on April 3 2014 the committee voted 11-3 to declassify and release the committee's report. The committee has worked with the Executive Branch over the past eight months to prepare a redacted version designed to protect national security while allowing for the public release of this information.

Key findings: The study's 20 findings and conclusions can be grouped into four central themes each of which is supported extensively in the Executive Summary:

- 1 The CIA's enhanced interrogation techniques were not effective.
- 2 The CIA provided extensive inaccurate information about the operation of the program and its effectiveness to policymakers and the public.
- 3 The CIA's management of the program was inadequate and deeply flawed.
- 4 The CIA program was far more brutal than the CIA represented to policymakers and the American public.
