Report from the Besieged City & Other Poems Zbigniew Herbert, 1985 Poems deal with the ethical need to discover and portray the truth the power of propaganda and the experience of political repression Report from the Besieged City and Other Poems Zbigniew Herbert, 1985 AI Generated This collection of poems by Zbigniew Herbert includes the titular Report from the Besieged City and other works that reflect on themes of war resistance and the human condition Memos from the Besieged City Djelal Kadir, 2011 This is a historical and critical reassessment of the field of comparative literature the study of cultures and their literary posterity across national borders and historical frontiers at a moment when notions of literacy and culture are under inordinate pressure by predatory globalization and militaristic realpolitik Report From The Besieged City Zbigniew Herbert, 1986-04-21 Poems deal with the ethical need to discover and portray the truth the power of propaganda and the experience of political repression The Columbia Guide to the Literatures of Eastern Europe Since 1945 Harold B. Segel, 2003 The Iron Curtain concealed from western eyes a vital group of national and regional writers Marked by not only geographical proximity but also by the shared experience of communism and its collapse the countries of Eastern Europe Poland Hungary Albania Romania Bulgaria and the former states of Yugoslavia Czechoslovakia and East Germany share literatures that reveal many common themes when examined together Compiled by a leading scholar the guide includes an overview of literary trends in historical context a listing of some 700 authors by country and an A to Z section of articles on the most influential writers Cold War Literature Andrew Hammond, 2006-11-22 This collection of essays analyzes the literary response to the coups insurgencies and invasions that took place around the globe during the Cold War and explores the thematic and stylistic trends in world writing prompted by Cold War hostilities

Giving Offense J.M. Coetzee, 2018-07-16 Winner of the 2003 Nobel Prize in Literature J M Coetzee presents a coherent unorthodox analysis of censorship from the perspective of one who has lived and worked under its shadow The essays collected here attempt to understand the passion that plays itself out in acts of silencing and censoring He argues that a destructive dynamic of belligerence and escalation tends to overtake the rivals in any field ruled by censorship From Osip Mandelstam commanded to compose an ode in praise of Stalin to Breyten Breytenbach writing poems under and for the eyes of his prison guards to Aleksander Solzhenitsyn engaging in a trial of wits with the organs of the Soviet state Giving Offense focuses on the ways authors have historically responded to censorship It also analyzes the arguments of Catharine MacKinnon for the suppression of pornography and traces the operations of the old South African censorship system The most impressive feature of Coetzee s essays besides his ear for language is his coolheadedness He can dissect repugnant notions and analyze volatile emotions with enviable poise Kenneth Baker San Francisco Chronicle Book Review Those looking for simple ringing denunciations of censorship s evils will be disappointed Coetzee explicitly rejects such noble tritenesses Instead he pursues censorship s deeper more fickle meanings and unmeanings Kirkus Reviews These erudite essays form a powerful bracing criticism of censorship in its many guises Publishers Weekly Giving Offense gets its incisive message across clearly even when Coetzee is dealing with such murky theorists as Bakhtin Lacan Foucault and Ren Girard Coetzee has a light wry sense of humor Bill Marx Hungry Mind Review An extraordinary collection of essays Martha Bayles New York Times Book Review A disturbing and illuminating moral expedition Richard Eder Los Angeles Times Book Review

Matters of Life and Death Iona Heath, 2018-12-13 In this extraordinary book Iona Heath draws on her experience as a general practitioner to select and comment on a collection of passages concerning death and dying and to consider the essential nature of general practice In Ways of Dying Heath illuminates the process for professionals and lay readers and stimulates consideration of approaches to improved care at end of life Her renowned work The Mystery of General Practice which has been unavailable for some time considers the complex character of this field its core values and changing roles The two extended essays cover important issues on the role of the healthcare professional in the care of the dying the idea of life and death and the essential nature of general practice Matters of Life and Death offers inspiration for all doctors especially those with an interest in medical humanities It will also be of great interest to general readers interested in end of life matters and the nature and art of medicine Gombrowicz's Grimaces Ewa P?onowska Ziarek, 1998-01-01 Examines Gombrowicz's modernist aesthetics in the context of his critique of nationalism his exploration of queer eroticism and his interest in hybrid and subaltern identities Cities, Citizens, and Technologies Paula Geyh, 2009-05-21 This book is about the contemporary city and those who live in it It is thus also about the urban world of the era extending roughly from the 1960s to the present that we see as postmodern and specifically about how the postmodern city is changing under the impact of globalization and new information and communication technologies In particular Geyh explores how the urban spaces of postmodernity parks plazas streets sidewalks and postmodern urban subjectivities and communities respond to and create each other how they become mutually constructing While there is much in this book about what makes a city postmodern its primary focus is on how the postmodern city is experienced by its inhabitants and in this respect the book is also a study of everyday life in the postmodern era As such it deals not only with the ways in which the postmodern city has developed out of economic technological political and cultural structures that are different from those of the modern city but also with how the postmodern city changes our ways of knowing and experiencing the world and ourselves as postmodern urban subjects as citizens of postmodernity Re-Forming History Mark Sandle, William Van Arragon, 2019-05-23 Does the discipline of history need a reformation How should Christian faith shape the ways historians do their work This book written for students considers the how of doing history The authors first examine the current liturgies of the historical profession and suggest that the discipline is in crisis They argue for reformed Christian practices and methodologies for history The book asks important questions why do we do history and for whom How should faith shape how we do our research and tell stories What do we owe the dead How should Christian historians practice dangerous memory And how can Christian historians do justice love mercy and walk humbly with God How might we rethink reform renew reimagine and re practice the study of the past Christian historians must be sentinels of hope against the world s forgetfulness the authors argue and this book offers some pathways for rethinking our practices from a Christian perspective John Berger Iona Heath,2024-07-13 Iona Heath relates the importance that John Berger s work and friendship had on her working life as a GP It includes extracts from letters that span 20 years of her correspondence with John Berger In this book Iona Heath writes about reading John Berger s writing over more than 50 years and her friendship and correspondence with him over the best part of 20 years Dr Heath found that both of these interacted profoundly with her work as a general practitioner in a deprived urban area in London For Iona Heath general practice is a quite extraordinary undertaking every working day sitting with a succession of unique individuals each worried about some aspect of their health or life circumstances many burdened by unspoken fears and each seeking some form of answer Starting with A Fortunate Man when she was an ignorant but hopeful undergraduate medical student she found reading John Berger on any subject had something new to tell her about the aspirations and detail of her work clues about how to look and how to listen and much else Later when they started to correspond Iona Heath found herself in the privileged position of being able to check her understanding directly with the writer and on each occasion found deeper levels of awareness and insight She is convinced that reading John Berger made her a better doctor Truth v. Justice Robert I. Rotberg,Dennis F. Thompson,2010-07-01 The truth commission is an increasingly common fixture of newly democratic states with repressive or strife ridden pasts From South Africa to Haiti truth commissions are at work with varying degrees of support and success To many they are the best or only way to achieve a full accounting of crimes committed against fellow citizens and to prevent future conflict Others question whether a restorative justice that sets the guilty free that cleanses society by words alone can deter future abuses and allow victims and their families to heal Here leading philosophers lawyers social scientists and activists representing several perspectives look at the process of truth commissioning in general and in post apartheid South Africa They ask whether the truth commission as a method of seeking justice after conflict is fair moral and effective in bringing about reconciliation The authors weigh the virtues and failings of truth commissions especially the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission in their attempt to provide restorative rather than retributive justice They examine among other issues the use of reparations as social policy and the granting of amnesty in exchange for testimony Most of the contributors praise South Africa s decision to trade due process for the kinds of truth that permit closure But they are skeptical that such revelations produce reconciliation particularly in societies that remain divided after a compromise peace with no single victor as in El Salvador Ultimately though they find the truth commission to be a worthy if imperfect instrument for societies seeking to say never again with confidence At a time when truth commissions have been proposed for Bosnia Kosovo Cyprus East Timor Cambodia Nigeria Palestine and elsewhere the authors conclusion that restorative justice provides positive gains could not be more important In addition to the editors the contributors are Amy Gutmann Rajeev Bhargava Elizabeth Kiss David A Crocker Andr du Toit Alex Boraine Dumisa Ntsebeza Lisa Kois Ronald C Slye Kent Greenawalt Sanford Levinson Martha Minow Charles S Maier Charles Villa Vicencio and Wilhelm Verwoerd      Urban Confrontations in Literature and Social Science, 1848-2001 Edward J.

Ahearn,2016-02-11 In an innovative contribution to the challenging of disciplinary boundaries Edward J Ahearn juxtaposes works of literature with the writings of social scientists to discover how together they illuminate city life in ways that neither can accomplish separately Ahearn s argument spans from the second half of the nineteenth century in Western Europe to the present day United States and encompasses a wide range of literary genres and sociological schools For example Charles Baudelaire s essays on the city are viewed alongside the work of Emile Durkheim and Georg Simmel Bertolt Brecht s Jungle of Cities heightens the arguments of Louis Wirth and Robert Park Richard Wright s Native Son and Saul Bellow s The Adventures of Augie March are re visioned in tandem with works by William Julius Wilson and others Herman Melville s Bartleby the Scrivener poses a challenge to James Q Wilson s Bureaucracy Toni Morrison s historical novel Jazz is buttressed by the career of Robert Moses and the revisionist work of historians Hilary Ballon and Kenneth T Jackson and Don DeLillos s Cosmopolis comes into brilliant focus in the light of arguments on world cybercities by David Harvey Saskia Sassen and Manuel Cassels Resisting the temptation to ignore contradictions for the sake of interpretation Ahearn instead offers the reader a view of the modern city as complex as his subject matter Here the methodologies and knowledge generated by the social sciences are both complemented and subverted by the experience of city life as portrayed in literature With its diverse narrative tactics and shifting points of view which can be as disorienting to the reader as a foreign city is to an arriving immigrant literature reinforces the importance of method and outlook in the social sciences Ultimately Ahearn suggests neither literature nor the social sciences can capture the experience of urban misery      Masterplots II Frank Northen

Magill,1992      Morality in a Realistic Spirit Andrew Gleeson,Craig Taylor,2019-09-18 This unique collection of essays has two main purposes The first is to honour the pioneering work of Cora Diamond one of the most important living moral philosophers and certainly the most important working in the tradition inspired by Ludwig Wittgenstein The second is to develop and deepen a picture of moral philosophy by carrying out new work in what Diamond has called the realistic spirit The contributors in this book advance a first order moral attitude that pays close attention to actual moral life and experience Their essays inspired by Diamond s work take up pressing challenges in Anglo American moral philosophy including Diamond s defence of the concept human being in ethics her defence of literature as a source of moral thought that does not require external sanction from philosophy her challenge to the standard fact value dichotomy and her exploration of non argumentative forms of legitimate moral persuasion There are also essays that apply this framework to new issues such as the nature of love the connections of ethics to theology and the implications of Wittgenstein s thought for political philosophy Finally the book features a new paper by Diamond in which she contests deep rooted philosophical assumptions about language that severely limit what philosophers see as the possibilities in ethics Morality in a Realistic Spirit offers a tribute to a great moral philosopher in the best way possible by taking up the living ideas in her work and taking them in original and interesting directions      The Witnesses Eric Stover,2011-06-03 In recent years the world community has demonstrated a renewed commitment to the pursuit of international criminal justice In 1993 the United Nations established two ad hoc international tribunals to try those responsible for genocide and crimes against humanity in the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda Ten years later the International Criminal Court began its operations and is developing prosecutions in its first two cases Congo and Uganda Meanwhile national and hybrid war crimes tribunals have been established in Sierra Leone Kosovo Serbia and Montenegro Croatia Bosnia and Herzegovina East Timor Indonesia Iraq and Cambodia Thousands of people have given testimony before these courts Most have witnessed war crimes including mass killings torture rape inhumane imprisonment forced expulsion and the destruction of homes and villages For many testifying in a war crimes trial requires great courage especially as they are well aware that war criminals still walk the streets of their villages and towns Yet despite these risks little attention has been paid to the fate of witnesses of mass atrocity Nor do we know much about their experiences testifying before an international tribunal or the effect of such testimony on their return to their postwar communities The first study of victims and witnesses who have testified before an international war crimes tribunal The Witnesses examines the opinions and attitudes of eighty seven individuals Bosnians Muslims Serbs and Croats who have appeared before the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia      Fear Corey Robin,2004-10-01 For many commentators September 11 inaugurated a new era of fear But as Corey Robin shows in his unsettling tour of the Western imagination the first intellectual history of its kind fear has shaped our politics and culture since time immemorial From the Garden of Eden to the Gulag Archipelago to today s headlines Robin traces our growing fascination with political danger and disaster As our faith in positive political principles recedes he argues we turn to fear as the justifying language of public life We may not know the good but we do know the bad So we cling to fear abandoning the quest for justice equality and freedom But as fear becomes our intimate we understand it less In a startling reexamination of fear s greatest modern interpreters Hobbes Montesquieu Tocqueville and Arendt Robin finds that writers since the eighteenth century have systematically obscured fear s political dimensions diverting attention from the public and private authorities who sponsor and benefit from it For fear Robin insists is an exemplary instrument of repression in the public and private sector Nowhere is this politically repressive fear and its evasion more evident than in contemporary America In his final chapters Robin accuses our leading scholars and critics of ignoring Fear American Style which as he shows is the fruit of our most prized inheritances the Constitution and the free market With danger playing an increasing role in our daily lives and justifying a growing number of government policies Robin s Fear offers a bracing and necessary antidote to our contemporary culture of fear      The Wall in My Head Words Without Borders,2009 On the night of November 9 1989 after months of unrest in Europe and East

Germany the checkpoints between East and West Berlin were suddenly openedk reuniting the two sides of the divided city and bringing together a divided Europe and led to the end of the Cold War This collection of essays from Words Without Borders is an exciting anthology that features fiction essays and original documents and trace the path of the revolutionary spirit from its origins to the present day      Known Unto God Simon Fowler,2025-10-15 To commemorate the centenary of the Cenotaph this is the story of the exhaustive hunt for missing servicemen from the Great War and other twentieth century conflicts and how bodies continue to be recovered to this day
