Representation and Objects of Thought in Medieval Philosophy Henrik Lagerlund, 2016-04-08 The notions of mental representation and intentionality are central to contemporary philosophy of mind and it is usually assumed that these notions if not originated at least were made essential to the philosophy of mind by Descartes in the seventeenth century The authors in this book challenge this assumption and show that the history of these ideas can be traced back to the medieval period In bringing out the contrasts and similarities between early modern and medieval discussions of mental representation the authors conclude that there is no clear dividing line between western late medieval and early modern philosophy that they in fact represent one continuous tradition in the philosophy of mind

The Nature of Thought Wayne L. Wessman, 2007 The Nature of Thought Maturity of Mind addresses the lack of physical maturation of the brain throughout the last 10 000 years of human evolution which has resulted in an immaturity of thought throughout history to the present day With an offering of working definitions for many new terms scholars have invented to deal with the issue this work explores the ideal of a fundamental integrity of thought and a maturity of mind which is classless and upholds truth and reality to further the development of civilization
