Trans Narratives Ana Horvat, Orly Lael Netzer, Sarah McRae, Julie Rak, 2021-09-30 Recently trans has taken on a number of important theoretical and critical meanings inside and outside the academy As a prefix trans can attach itself to other words to express or describe movement and change as it does in the terms transnational or transmedia Trans is also an adjective when it is part of a word that signifies an identity or expression Trans has worked as an adjective to destabilize established ideas about gender as it makes new senses of what gender can mean for trans people Much of the study of life writing is about the study of identity and the possibilities for lives that stories of identity make possible In that spirit Trans Narratives trans transmedia transnational represents an opportunity for critical work about life writing by trans people to be featured as it seeks to interrogate the idea of trans in multiple registers bringing a prefix to the center of the current field of life writing studies It aims to understand through life writing and its theory what trans means when we talk about identities and bodies and to understand better what the critical terms transmedia and transnational can mean for the field of life writing The Chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of a b Auto Biography Studies

Regulating Interracialized Intimacies Elena Zambelli, Betty de

Hart, 2025-03-24 This book explores the role of the law in the social construction of race and mixture within and beyond the borders of Europe. It focuses on interracialized intimacies that is the intimate relations of subjects ascribed and or perceived to belong to different races. The role of the state in defining boundaries between us and them becomes particularly clear in their regulation. Moving across different times, places and political formations including the US slavery regime, European colonial empires and metropolises, the book delves deep into how the governments of white supremacist and white majority societies have consistently attempted to prevent, discourage or obstruct intimate relationships crossing the colour line. This occurred directly through prohibitions and anti miscegenation laws or indirectly through citizenship laws, marriage licenses, social care, prostitution laws, housing policies, policing practices and other means. The book further shows that the legacy of these highly gendered and racialized regulations continues to reverberate today, informing norms, hierarchies and perceptions about whose intimacies count as legitimate and ought to be facilitated and whose are deemed suspect and requiring state surveillance. The contributions also shed light on the individuals, couples and families who were targeted by state regulations and how they challenged and disturbed state categorizations and regulations. Highly interdisciplinary in scope with contributions by pioneering United States and European scholars in this field, this book will be a fundamental read for scholars, researchers and students interested in tracing the genealogy of racial thinking in Europe and beyond and its enduring operativity.

Pallant,2022-06-16 Ivor the Engine Noggin the Nog Pingwings Pogles Wood Clangers and Bagpuss the iconic animations produced by the Canterbury based Smallfilms studio between 1958 and 1984 constitute a significant thread of British cultural history The lasting appeal of the imagined worlds created by Smallfilms is evident in the highly successful BBC reboot of Clangers 2015 present which has introduced a whole new audience to the pink moon mice As well as the shows likely to be familiar to readers this history expands the Smallfilms story to include those less well known animated shows that nonetheless played an important part in the studio s history Through extensive studio access interviews with many key Smallfilms collaborators press and audience analysis Chris Pallant provides a comprehensive and definitive historical record of the studio s work Beyond Bagpuss is illustrated with 100 images from the Smallfilms archive including those that have not previously been published Racism, Sexism, and the Media Clint C. Wilson,Felix Gutierrez,Lena Chao,2013 This fourth edition presents current information in the rapidly evolving field of minorities interaction with mass communications including the portrayals of minorities in the media advertising and public relations The British Sitcom Spinoff Film

Stephen Glynn,2023-12-07 This book constitutes the first full volume dedicated to an academic analysis of theatrically released spinoff films derived from British radio and television sitcoms Regularly maligned as the nadir of British film production and marginalised as a last resort for the financially bereft industry during the 1970s this study demonstrates that the sitcom spinoff film has instead been a persistent and important presence in British cinema from the 1940s to the present day and includes occasional works with distinct artistic merit Alongside an investigation of the economic imperative underpinning these productions i e the exploitation of proven product with a ready made audience it is argued that with a longevity stretching from Arthur Askey and his wartime Band Waggon 1940 to the crew of Krupt FM and their recent People Just Do Nothing Big in Japan 2021 the British sitcom spinoff can be interpreted as following a full generic life cycle Starting with the formative stage where works from Hi Gang 1941 to I Only Arsked 1958 establish the genre s characteristics the spinoff genre moves to its classic stage where secure for form and content it enjoys considerable popular success with films like Till Death Us Do Part 1969 On the Buses 1971 The Likely Lads 1976 and Rising Damp 1980 the genre s revival since the late 1990s reveals a more parodic final stage with films like The League of Gentlemen's Apocalypse 2005 adopting a consciously self reflective mode It is also posited that the sitcom spinoff film is a viable source for social history with the often stereotypical re presentations of characters and events an often blatant ideological metonym for the concerns of wider British society notably in issues of class race gender and sexuality
