Research and Technological Innovation Alberto Quadrio Curzio, Marco Fortis, 2005 To explain the importance of scientific research and technological innovation for industrial countries and in particular for the EU in order to improve or to maintain economic leadership is the central idea of this volume It starts with a historical and theoretical perspective on scientific technological innovation and its importance for industrial growth Then it analyzes EU policy framework and strategies for RD and it presents several national success stories both from EU and non EU countries to confirm the theoretical perspective

Research and Technological Innovation. The Challenge for a New Europe. Edited By Alberto Quadrio Curzio and Marco Fortis KNUD HARTUNG, Martin G. Moehrle, 2007

Resources, Production and Structural Dynamics Mauro L. Baranzini, Claudia Rotondi, Roberto Scazzieri, 2015-04-30 Economists since the First Industrial Revolution have been interested in the links between economic growth and resources often pointing to resource scarcities as a hindrance to growth Offering a counter perspective this volume highlights the positive role that scarcities can play in inducing technical progress and economic growth It outlines a structural framework for the political economy of scarcity and rents and offers a novel way of organizing the evidence concerning the role of resources in industrial growth This book proposes a major shift in the treatment of scarcity issues by focusing on bottlenecks and opportunities arising within the production system and will appeal to economists and policy makers interested in the role of resources as triggers of structural change

Industrial Clusters John F. Wilson, Chris Corker, Joe Lane, 2022-07-01 Industrial Clusters shows the latest state of knowledge on the topic of industrial clusters with a particular focus on clustering in the UK bringing together a chronological coverage of the phenomenon This set of original essays by a group of leading business and industrial historians offers fresh perspectives about clusters and clustering A primary emphasis of the collection is how knowledge is generated and disseminated across a cluster and whether these processes stimulated innovation and consequently longer term sustainability This analysis also prompts questions about which unit of analysis to examine from the entrepreneurs and firms they created through to the industry as a whole and district in which they are located or whether one should look outside the region for explanatory factors Covering regions as diverse as North Wales the Scottish Highlands the City of London the Potteries Sheffield and Lancashire the essays have been channelled to provide a detailed understanding of these issues The editors have also provided a challenging Conclusion that suggests a new research agenda that could well unravel some of the mysteries associated with clustering This edited collection will be of interest to international researchers academics and students in the fields of business and management history innovation industrialisation and clusters

Daniels,2017-05-15 The acquisition and management of information is central to the operation and marketing of many service providing firms and other organizations Their varied knowledge requirements influence approaches to organizational structure relationships to other organizations the location of operations and entry into new markets In this book an international and interdisciplinary team of leading scholars examines the attributes of knowledge acquisition and diffusion within and across service providing organizations Using a variety of case examples they pay particular attention to the processes of internationalization and the ways in which service providing organizations affect regional economic development Social, Managerial, and Organizational Dimensions of Enterprise Information Systems Cruz-Cunha, Maria Manuela,2009-09-30 Discusses the technological developments main issues challenges opportunities and trends impacting every part of small to medium sized enterprises Knowledge Flows, Technological Change and Regional Growth in the European Union Małgorzata Runiewicz-Wardyn,2013-06-14 The book provides conceptual and empirical insights into the complex relationship between knowledge flows and regional growth in the EU The author critically scrutinizes and enhances the RIS Regional Innovation System approach discussing innovation as a technological institutional and evolutionary process Moreover she advances the ongoing discourse on the role of space and technological proximity in the process of innovation and technological externalities The book closes with an investigation of the role of technological change and knowledge spillovers in the dynamic growth and catching up of EU regions Designing Culture Anne Balsamo,2011-07-19 The cultural theorist and media designer Anne Balsamo calls for transforming learning practices to inspire culturally attuned technological imaginations The Innovation Union in Europe Elias G. Carayannis,George M. Korres,2013-01-01 One of the most important economic events in recent decades has been the on going process of European integration This book provides a basic yet rigorous understanding of the current issues and problems of economic integration and innovation in Europe and argues that national or regional economic development depends mainly on technical change social and human capital and knowledge creation and diffusion This is clearly evident in the role of the Quadruple Innovation Helix of government university industry and civil society Uniquely the book examines the many aspects and consequences of the integration process that are obscure or as yet under researched The authors explore a wide range of topics methodologies and perspectives in order to provide a stimulating and wide ranging analyses The Innovation Union in Europe will be of interest to students economic theorists empirical and social scientists policy makers as well as the informed general reader Economic Challenges for Europe After the Pandemic Luigi Paganetto,2022-10-05 This book focuses on the recovery and new normal in a post Covid scenario drawing important lessons from the pandemic and proposing new ideas for sustainable development endogenous dynamism and inclusive growth The book presents different ideas and perspectives about the present and the future reflecting on four main fields of our economic reality macroeconomics governments technology and society It discusses important topics for future economic scenarios beginning with an estimation of the economic consequences of the absence of an equitable distribution of vaccines Further topics discussed include the government's debts sustainability the probability of an inflation deflation or of a stagflation scenario as well as the impact of US and European economic policies on economic growth The book further investigates the economic costs of the pandemic which have fallen most heavily on those least able to bear them It examines governments subsidies which supported people and firms through wage subsidies unemployment benefits and other fiscal measures and discusses the question of whether more investment in health care education and other public services will still be needed In a time of immense change and global challenges this book is a must read for scholars researchers and students of economics as well as policy makers interested in a better understanding of economic growth energy environment migration development digital transformation and demography

The Triple Challenge for Europe Jan Fagerberg, Staffan Laestadius, Ben R. Martin, 2015-10-15 Europe is confronted by an intimidating triple challenge economic stagnation climate change and a governance crisis This book demonstrates how these three challenges are closely inter related A return to economic growth cannot come at the expense of greater risk of irreversible climate change Instead what is required is a reconceptualization of what is intended by economic development and a fundamental transformation of the economy to a new green trajectory based on rapidly diminishing emission of greenhouse gases This entails a much greater emphasis on innovation in all its forms not just technological Innovation policy must be placed at the very heart of industrial policy and indeed of economic policy more broadly Other parts of the world are also facing varying forms of the triple challenge and while the governance challenge may not be exactly the same as for Europe and the EU Europe is uniquely placed to take the lead in addressing the triple challenge While this may well entail certain costs in the short term it will undoubtedly bring considerable benefits in the longer term It should also encourage countries in other parts of the world to follow Europe's lead in this transformation process thereby ensuring that climate change is kept within manageable bounds Addressing the triple challenge would thus provide Europe and its citizens with a new sense of purpose revitalizing the EU and the European project over the decades to come

Silva, 2019-11-14 Technological Change and Industrial Transformation Vicky Xiaoyan Long, Magnus Holmén, 2021-08-18 Industrial transformation is a research and teaching field with a focus on the phenomenon and mechanisms of industrial development and renewal It concerns changes in economic activities caused by innovation competition and collaboration and has a rich heritage of evolutionary economics institutional economics industrial dynamics technology history and innovation studies It borrows concepts and models from the social sciences sociology history political sciences business management economics behavioural sciences and also from technology and engineering studies In this book the authors present the key theories frameworks and concepts of industrial transformation and use empirical cases to describe and explain the causes processes and outcomes of transformation in the context of digitalization and sustainability They stress that industrial transformation consists both of Darwinian survival of the fittest selection and of intentional pursuits of innovation and of industrial capabilities creation The work argues that managing the global trends of transformation is not only about new technology and innovation existing institutional settings and dynamic interactions between technological change organizational adaptation and economic activities also have a profound impact on future trajectories The areas under investigation are of great relevance for strategic management decisions and industrial and technology policies and understanding the mechanisms underlying transformation and sustainable growth ECIE 2023

Mode 3 Knowledge Production in Quadruple Helix Innovation Systems Elias G. Carayannis, David F.J.

Campbell, 2011-12-02 Developed and developing economies alike face increased resource scarcity and competitive rivalry In this context science and technology appear as an essential source of competitive and sustainable advantage at national and regional levels However the key determinant of their efficacy is the quality and quantity of entrepreneurship enabled innovation that unlocks and captures the benefits of the science enterprise in the form of private public or hybrid goods Linking basic and applied research with the market via technology transfer and commercialization mechanisms including government university industry partnerships and capital investments constitutes the essential trigger mechanism and driving force of sustainable competitive advantage and prosperity In this volume the authors define the terms and principles of knowledge creation diffusion and use and establish a theoretical framework for their study In particular they focus on the Quadruple Helix model through which government academia industry and civil society are seen as key actors promoting a democratic approach to innovation through which strategy development and decision making are exposed to feedback from key stakeholders resulting in socially accountable policies and practices
