the fields of Technical and Professional Communication Writing Studies Rhetoric and Design Qualitative Research in Technical Communication James Conklin,George F. Hayhoe,2010-10-27 This volume brings together a representative sample from the growing body of work in qualitative research in technical communication Including examples of qualitative methodologies including ethnography case study focus groups action research grounded theory and interview research used by technical communicators to strengthen their practice the result is a rich harmony of perspectives as diverse as the field of technical communication itself Civic Engagement and Technical Communication James M. Dubinsky,J. Harrison

Carpenter,2023-04-14 This special issue on civic engagement and technical communication focuses on the ways educators can help students become actively engaged members of society particularly a rhetorical democracy The first essay examines the concept of community as a locus for civic engagement and question some of the definitions of community seen embedded in current pedagogical practices The next article seeks to shape understanding of practice The tension of developing students civic awareness and engagement is the topic of the third paper The fourth article helps students gain skills and organization awareness and improves the perceived relevance of the work The final two essays approach the issue of civic engagement from slightly different angles one examining the role of teacher as both rhetor and instructor and the other looking to the past for possible solutions for the future By continuing the conversation about the relationship between technical communication and the public good and focusing specifically on pedagogical strategies and their theoretical and historical underpinnings the authors in this special issue clarify roles that technical communication and technical communicators play in civil society as well as ways curricula can be shaped to prepare students to fill those roles Research Strategies for Small Businesses Don E. Gudmundson,2016-07-22 This book originally published in 1996 develops a model of information gathering for small businesses Whilst all small business owners gather and process some information the quality and types of information gathered is limited Size and resource constraints force small business owners to make difficult decisions related to the research that they conduct The model developed in this book is tested in part through a study of the information gathering practices of small owners managers in the landscaping industry in Wisconsin USA The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric Lynée Lewis Gaillet, Winifred Bryan Horner, 2010-03-15 Through two previous editions The Present State of Scholarship in Historical and Contemporary Rhetoric has not only introduced new scholars to interdisciplinary research but also become a standard research tool in a number of fields and pointed the way toward future study Adopting research methodologies of revision and recovery this latest edition includes all new material while still following the format of the original and is constructed around bibliographical surveys of both primary and secondary works addressing the Classical Medieval Renaissance and eighteenth through twentieth century periods within the history of rhetoric The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric doesn't simply update but rather recasts study in the history of rhetoric The authors experienced and well known scholars in their respective fields redefine existing strands of rhetorical study within the periods expand the scope of rhetorical engagement and include additional figures and their works The globalization and expansion of rhetoric are demonstrated in each of these parts and seen clearly in the inclusion of more female rhetors discussions of historical and contemporary electronic resources and examinations of rhetorical practices falling outside the academy and the traditional canon New to this edition is a cumulative review of twentieth century rhetoric along with a thematic index designed to facilitate interdisciplinary or specialized study and scholarly research across the traditional historical periods As programs incorporating rhetorical studies continue to expand at the university level students and researchers are in need of up to date bibliographical resources No other work matches the scope and approach of The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric which carries scholarship on rhetoric into the twenty first century

Research Methods for the Digital Humanities lewis levenberg, Tai Neilson, David Rheams, 2018-11-04 This volume introduces the reader to the wide range of methods that digital humanities employ and offers a practical guide to the study interpretation and presentation of cultural material and practices In this instance the editors consider digital humanities to include both the use of computing to understand cultural material in new ways and the application of theories and methods from the humanities to interpret new technologies Each chapter provides a step by step guide to cutting edge methodologies so that students can make informed decisions about the methods they use consider ethical practices follow practical procedures and present their work effectively Readers will develop practical and reflexive understandings of the software and digital devices that they study and use for research and the book will help new researchers collaborate and contribute to their scholarly communities and to public discourse As contemporary humanities work becomes increasingly interdisciplinary and increasingly permeated by and with digital technologies this volume helps new researchers navigate an evolving academic environment Humanities and social sciences students will find this textbook an invaluable resource for assessing and creating digital projects Re/Orienting Writing Studies William P. Banks, Matthew B. Cox, Caroline Dadas, 2019-04-15

Re Orienting Writing Studies is an exploration of the intersections among queer theory rhetoric and research methods in writing studies Focusing careful theoretical attention on common research practices this collection demonstrates how queer rhetorics of writing composing textual analysis history assessment and embodiment identity significantly alter both methods and methodologies in writing studies The chapters represent a diverse set of research locations and experiences from which to articulate a new set of innovative research practices While the humanities have engaged queer theory extensively research methods have often been hermeneutic or interpretive At the same time social science approaches in composition research have foregrounded inquiry on human participants but have often struggled to understand where lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer people fit into empirical research projects Re Orienting Writing Studies works at the intersections of humanities and social science methodologies to offer new insight into using queer methods for data collection and queer practices for framing research Contributors Chanon Adsanatham Jean Bessette Nicole I Caswell Michael J Faris Hillery Glasby Deborah Kuzawa Maria Novotny G Patterson Stacey Waite Stephanie West Puckett Handbook of Research Design and Social Measurement Delbert C. Miller, Neil J. Salkind, 2002-01-16

If a student researcher had only one handbook on their bookshelf Miller and Salkind's Handbook would certainly have to be it With the updated material the addition of the section on ethical issues which is so well done that I'm recommending it to the departmental representative to the university IRB and a new Part 4 on Qualitative Methods the new Handbook is an indispensable resource for researchers Dan Cover Department of Sociology Furman University I have observed that most instructors want to teach methodology their way to imbue the course with their own approach Miller Salkind allows one to do this easily The book is both conceptually strong e.g. very good coverage of epistemology research design and statistics and at the same time provides a wealth of practical knowledge scales indices professional organizations computer applications etc In addition it covers the waterfront of methodology Michael L Vasu Director of Information Technology North Carolina State University A unique and excellent reference tool for all social science researchers and a good textbook for graduate students and senior year undergraduate classes These students are about to enter the real life of research and need a handy and comprehensive tool as a starting point that offers shortcuts for getting into real research projects For a small project the book offers enough information to get the project started For big projects the book is ideal for information on where to look for things and examples Jianhong Liu Department of Sociology Rhode Island College The book considered a necessity by many social science researchers and their students has been revised and updated while retaining the features that made it so useful The emphasis in this new edition is on the tools graduate students and more advanced researchers need to conduct high quality research Features Benefits Provides step by step instruction for students research training by beginning with how to find a creative idea a middle range theory and initial hypothesis and proceeds through design proposal collection and analysis of data followed by writing reporting and publication Section on scales and indices are organized so that readers can quickly locate and find the type of scale or index in which they may be interested All sections are now followed by useful and well considered reference sections so that readers can read more about each topic Includes updated coverage on new scales internal and external validity and new analytic techniques with extensive references on each Presents extensive coverage of how to prepare manuscripts for publication including a list of all journals covered by Sociological Abstracts along with the editorial office address and URL for each entry Discusses the importance of policy research with presentation and discussion of specific models as an adjunct to both applied and basic research techniques Provides extensive coverage of funding opportunities including those offered by the National Institutes of Health the National Science Foundation and a directory of private funding sources including relevant contact information New to this edition New Part 4 by John Creswell and Ray Maietta provides a comprehensive introduction to qualitative methods including a review of existing computer applications for collecting and analyzing data New and more current reviews and commentaries have replaced dated or no longer relevant excerpts Thousands of new references on the assessment of important sociological variables as well as references to such topics as statistical analysis computer applications and specific topics Thoroughly updated information on the use of computers and online research techniques including beginning and intermediate material about the Internet and its use by the modern research scientist Coherent and thoughtful review of the most popular statistical analysis software packages New guidelines and discussion of ethical practices in social and behavioral science research including extensive coverage of institutional review board procedures and activities Expansion of social indicators to include international coverage Plus there is an extensive and well organized table of contents with four levels of headings and for the first time in the history of the book a comprehensive index

Engaging Research Communities in Writing Studies Johanna Phelps, 2021-04-20

This book invites readers to reconsider how writing studies researchers work with Institutional Review Boards IRBs on behalf of their communities and argues that engaging with IRBs during the research design process helps practitioners conduct research more quickly and effectively Using empirical data from both writing studies and extra disciplinary contexts Dr Johanna Phelps presents findings from two discipline wide studies as well as metadata from two IRBs to develop a principled engagement framework for writing studies researchers to interact with their communities Phelps further examines the many facets of conducting research with human participants from comprehending federal policy updates to pondering specific ethical issues to developing detailed research designs and explores the confluence of ethics policy and methodology in a thoroughgoing philosophical investigation of writing studies as a public good This engaging and timely exploration of research design will be an important resource for scholars and students of writing studies rhetoric and composition technical and professional communication cultural rhetoric literacy studies research design research methodologies research ethics IRBs justice and critical theory Chapter 4 and Interchapter 4 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access
