RETURN

NISA

Author of the acclaimed Nisa:
The Life and Words of a
!Kung Woman

Marjorie Shostak
RETURN TO NISA

Harvard

"Just after twenty years, Marjorie Shostak's Nisa is my all-time favorite woman's life story. But I have always wondered what happened to Nisa. How did this great woman live as her hunting and gathering life disappeared in the wake of the transformation sweeping modern Africa? And what was the effect on Nisa of her close association with Shostak, the anthropologist who first told her story for the world to read? Return to Nisa gives some compelling and deeply moving answers, as Marjorie Shostak describes with eloquence and wonder the uncertainties and friendship — sometimes tense — between women from such different worlds. Each woman has life and combats death on different terms, yet both are measured through time, change, and personal loss by their shared survival. A remarkable story, beautifully told."

—KIMBLE BLUMER BARR, AUTHOR OF WOMAN NATURE

"Typical, spiritual, wise, Return to Nisa completes a circle started decades ago in the encounter between an American writer and a strong but victim of the Kalahari Desert. Part ethnography, part personal odyssey, the book's engrossing narrative is made more poignant by the author's circumstances, for in addition to facing an alien culture and the rigors of the desert, Marjorie Shostak was facing her own mortality in the form of an advancing cancer. Rarely have the personal dimensions of ethnographic fieldwork been so eloquently articulated and confronted. Nisa's complex place in Marjorie's healing journey lies at the heart of the story. As one who have shared both, I cherish this remarkable book."

—KIMBERLY A. GILL, PROFESSOR OF ANTHROPOLOGY

"Return to Nisa describes a valiant journey, a search for healing on the edge of the Kalahari. This moving journal, now brought to fruition by Marjorie Shostak's friends after her untimely death, shares the author's bonds of friendship. It is an ode to distant love and to hope, to the flesh and to the spirit, to all that is glorious in life and all we leave behind."

DAUGHTER OF MARJORIE SHOSTAK

Return To Nisa:

Return to Nisa Marjorie Shostak, 2009-06-01 The story of two women one a hunter gatherer in Botswana the other an ailing American anthropologist this powerful book returns the reader to territory that Marjorie Shostak wrote of so poignantly in the now classic Nisa The Life and Words of a Kung Woman Here however the ground has perceptibly shifted First published in 1981 Nisa served as a stirring introduction to anthropology's most basic question Can there be true understanding between people of profoundly different cultures Diagnosed with breast cancer and troubled by a sense of work yet unfinished Shostak returned to Botswana in 1989 This book tells simply and directly of her rediscovery of the Kung people she had come to know years before the aging blunt demanding Nisa her stalwart husband Bo understanding Kxoma fragile Hwantla and Royal translator and guide In Shostak's words we clearly see Kung life the dry grasslands the healing dances the threatening military presence And we see Shostak herself passionately curious reporting the discomforts and confusion of fieldwork along with its fascination By turns amused and frustrated she describes the disappointments and chastening lessons that inevitably follow when anthropologists like her younger self romanticize the Kung Throughout we observe a woman of threatened health but enormous vitality as she pursues the promise she once discovered in the Kung people and above all in Nisa At the core of the book is the remarkable relationship between these two women from different worlds They are often caught off guard by the limits of their mutual understanding Still their determination to reach out to each other lingers in the reader's mind long after the story ends providing an eloquent response to questions that Nisa so memorably posed It was not that we had become the best of friends or like close family It was simply that she and I had the most straightforward connection I had ever had with anyone before or since It was as if the Kung culture and my talks with Nisa touched something beyond reason in me Even though I didn't necessarily like everything Nisa said nor everything about her my heart had been captured But how often I wished Nisa had been more noble more selfless and more philosophical Nisa had to be known well to be appreciated for she was complex and difficult She probably would say much the same about me We both wanted things from each other and neither of us got as much as we hoped for That we both got some of what we wanted well that made our friendship extremely valuable from the Epilogue Mother's Milk Bernice L.

Hausman, 2014-02-04 Mother's Milk examines why nursing a baby is an ideologically charged experience in contemporary culture Drawing upon medical studies feminist scholarship anthropological literature and an intimate knowledge of breastfeeding itself Bernice Hausman demonstrates what is at stake in mothers' infant feeding choices economically socially and in terms of women's rights Breastfeeding controversies she argues reveal social tensions around the meaning of women's bodies the authority of science and the value of maternity in American culture A provocative and multi-faceted work Mother's Milk will be of interest to anyone concerned with the politics of women's embodiment Brainpark Anna Sanderson, 2006 A series of essays meditations and true stories this book approaches the big subjects sex faith family art in wonderfully fresh
