Married Or Single:

Why Singles are Not Married and the Married are Single Mike Marra,2006-01 With all of this turmoil around us we definitely have a need for God love family and patriotism These ingredients are the foundations of a great nation They re the power to defeat the enemy They provide a desire to thrive toward oneness and uniqueness Our strength and foundation for values morals passion and prosperity are found within these virtues Because we are designed for relationship and the need to love one another selflessly we now ache and grieve for attention and the feeling of love due to our selfishness The yearning for love stems from coast to coast and throughout the nations True love is difficult to achieve because our advancements have actually divided hurt and depressed people beyond our comprehension The world has turned its back on God and what He intended life to be Yet there are myriads of reasons excuses and blame for the high rates of divorce and singleness

Don't Get Married Until You Are Single Sam O. Opeche, 2017-12-19 Sam Opeche didn t know his mum until he turned 19 His parents were divorced when he was just six Something always told him that growing up wouldn t have been so difficult if his parents had stayed together He found that there s his dad s side of the story his mum s side of the story and then there s the truth Since then a lot of his time has been spent on trying to search for the truth Could his parent s divorce have been prevented or was it inevitable Could there have been something different in the mix that may have helped them weather the storms or could it be that they were just not made for each other It wasn t until years later as he faced up to his own personal challenges in marriage that it dawned on him what the solution could have been Don t Get Married Until You Are Single but if you are married already seek singleness and self love and your marriage will blossom to new dimensions of fulfilment Married & Single Life Audrey Palm Riker,Holly E. happiness and life satisfaction of 517 single adults with a matched sample of 521 married adults. Contrary to the findings of most previous studies, the married respondents did not report better physical health than the single respondents. The married respondents were however significantly happier, less frequently depressed, and more satisfied with their lives. Further analyses showed that social support was a better predictor of life satisfaction and depressive symptomatology than marital status per se. But being married is still a factor in psychological well-being, happiness, and life satisfaction at least insofar as the primary affectional bond provides the requisite social support. Other factors which contribute to the quality of single life were assessed and discussed.
