Modern Business Process Automation Arthur H. M. ter Hofstede, Wil M. P. van der Aalst, Michael Adams, Nick Russell, 2009-11-18 The eld of Business Process Management BPM is marred by a seemingly e less sequence of proposed industry standards Contrary to other elds e g civil or electronic engineering these standards are not the result of a widely supported consolidation of well understood and well established concepts and practices In the BPM domain it is frequently the case that BPM vendors opportunistically become involved in the creation of proposed standards to exert or maintain their influence and interests in the eld Despite the initial fervor associated with such standardization activities it is no less frequent that vendors either choose to drop their support for standards that they earlier championed on an opportunistic basis or elect only to partially support them in their commercial offerings Moreover the results of the standardization processes themselves are a concern BPM standards tend to deal with complex concepts yet they are never properly defined and all too often not informed by established research The result is a plethora of languages and tools with no consensus on concepts and their implementation They also fail to provide clear direction in the way in which BPM standards should evolve One can also observe a dichotomy between the business side of BPM and its technical side While it is clear that the application of BPM will fail if not placed in a proper business context it is equally clear that its application will go nowhere if it remains merely a motivational exercise with schemas of business processes hanging on the wall gathering dust

Wilson,2018-03-20 My grandchildren and I were standing at the edge of a still lake feeding the ducks when my granddaughter picked up a pebble and tossed it into the lake The pebble quickly sank to the bottom of the lake but the effect of the pebble created many ripples They keep spreading and spreading from the center and there was no way to stop them The Ripple Effect is based on the concept that we are connected We can and do affect each other The result is a building of community that will affect how we treat others and the way we live our lives All of us have passion for something as well as a vision and hope to use our gifts and talents for a greater purpose The Ripple Effect was originally written as a textbook for a character class curriculum using an athletic medium designed to change the culture of sport that provided collegiate student athletes with application model for character driven athletics Today it has become a resource that provides a guide that can apply to anyone who has an interest in desiring to pursue competitive excellence that emulates Christ We live in a culture today that promotes comfort not challenges We want instant gratification free from consequences of our choices Our choices and actions represent who we are what we believe and define our character The ripple effect provides a foundation for a person to better understand who they can become The most important relationship a person will ever have is with themselves The question is are we doing the best they can to become more than they have become Each ripple has a message which is the pebble a theme which is the ripple effect and an application that provides the action necessary to develop and improve character To reach significance in the athletic arena as well as life one needs to be able to embrace competition establish quality relationships and develop values rules of the road that become the lifestyle What happens when we experience the tumultuous journey that she and Smoky traveled from the day she first saw Smoky to his retirement from horse racing as the One Eyed Wonder some 11 years later It is truly a Cinderella story to be enjoyed by anyone who loves animals New York Supreme Court Appellate Division, Third Department , 'The block grant schemes' elementary science and common things J.
