The Cultural Moment in Tourism Laura Jane Smith, Emma Waterton, Steve Watson, 2012-07-26 This book is a response to the burgeoning interest in cultural tourism and the associated need for a coherently theorized approach for understanding the practices that such an interest creates Cultural tourism has become an important and popular aspect of contemporary tourism studies as well as providing a rich seam of upscale product development opportunities in the industry as a whole Much of the related literature however focuses upon describing and categorizing cultural tourism from a supply side perspective This has prompted the taxonomizing of cultural tourists on the basis of their level of involvement and interest in cultural tourism products and or their economic worth as a sought after market segment There have been few recent attempts at a rigorous re theorization of the issues beyond conventional representational theories this book aims to fill that void This groundbreaking volume provides a theoretical and empirical account of what it means to be a cultural or heritage tourist It achieves this by exploring the interactions of people with places spaces intangible heritage and ways of life not as linear alignments but as seductive moments of encounter engagement performance and meaning making which are constitutive of cultural experience in its broadest sense The book further explores encounters in cultural tourism as events that capture and constitute important social relations involving power and authority self consciousness and social position gender and space history and the present It also explores the consequences these insights have for our understanding of culture and heritage and its management in the context of tourist activity In capturing the cultural moment this book provides a better understanding of the motivations on site activities meaning constructions and other cultural work done by both tourists and tourist operators The volume confronts and explores the cultural political and economical interrelations between culture heritage and the tourism industry In so doing it also investigates how this co mingling of identity representation and social life may be better apprehended with the wider shift in critical thought towards notions of affect and performativity The book is a fundamental and influential contribution to research in this field It will be of significant value to students academics and researchers interested in this broad topic area      Post-Conflict Heritage, Postcolonial Tourism Tim Winter,2007-11-08 Weaving together a political analysis of heritage policies with an understanding of tourism as a series of intersecting cultural economies this book explores a decade of world heritage and tourism in Angkor      The Seductions of Psychoanalysis John Forrester,1991-10-25 Reflection on the history of psychoanalysis its conceptual foundations and its relation to other disciplines      The Seductions of Pilgrimage Michael A. Di Giovine,David Picard,2016-03-09 The Seductions of Pilgrimage explores the simultaneously attractive and repellent beguiling and alluring forms of seduction in pilgrimage It focuses on the varied discursive imaginative and practical mechanisms of seduction that draw individual pilgrims to a pilgrimage site the objects places and paradigms that pilgrims leave behind as they embark on their hyper meaningful travel experience and the often unforeseen elements that lead pilgrims off their desired course Presenting the first comprehensive study of the role of seduction on individual pilgrims in the study of pilgrimage and tourism it will appeal to scholars of anthropology cultural geography tourism heritage and religious studies      Divine Enticement:Theological Seductions Karmen Mackendrick,2013 Divine Enticement argues for a reconception of theology and its subject matter as modes of seduction of both body and mind Theological language as evocation opens onto rereadings of faith sacrament ethics prayer and scripture The conclusion argues for a sense of theology as calling upon infinite possibility      Tourism and Cuba Lauren Duffy,Carol Kline,2020-05-07 Cuba has experienced many social economic and political changes since Raul Castro retained presidency of the island nation in 2008 This comprehensive volume examines how Cuba has restructured some of its core economic policies in order to tackle stagnation these include allowing for more legalized private enterprises reducing the number of State employed workers and fostering additional outside investments The authors explore the surge of entrepreneurial activity in tourism among Cuban residents due to these reforms whether that be offering new tourism products or expanding traditional ones Though the current diplomatic climate suggests continued uncertainty the ripple effect of a potentially thawing relationship between Cuba and the USA resulted in an unexpected surge of international tourists wishing to experience Cuba before it opened to the American travel market This book highlights the factors that are influencing and in some cases complicating tourism planning and development in Cuba The authors explore a wide range of topics including tourism and land use policy competitiveness responsible practices gender and ethical advertising the role of tour guides emergence of casa particulares experiential learning and solidarity and authenticity through local art This book will interest students researchers politicians and investors with a focus on Cuba It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Tourism Planning Development

A Landscape of Travel Jenny T. Chio, 2014-03-28 While the number of domestic leisure travelers has increased dramatically in reform era China the persistent gap between urban and rural living standards attests to ongoing social economic and political inequalities The state has widely touted tourism for its potential to bring wealth and modernity to rural ethnic minority communities but the policies underlying the development of tourism obscure some complicated realities In tourism after all one person's leisure is another person's labor A Landscape of Travel investigates the contested meanings and unintended consequences of tourism for those people whose lives and livelihoods are most at stake in China's rural ethnic tourism industry the residents of village destinations Drawing on ethnographic research conducted in Ping'an a Zhuang village in Guangxi and Upper Jidao a Miao village in Guizhou Jenny Chio analyzes the myriad challenges and possibilities confronted by villagers who are called upon to do the work of tourism She addresses the shifting significance of migration and rural mobility the visual politics of tourist photography and the effects of touristic desires for exotic difference on village social relations In this way Chio illuminates the contemporary regimes of labor and leisure and the changing imagination of what it means to be rural ethnic and modern in China today

Real Tourism Claudio Minca, Tim Oakes, 2012 Over the past decade tourism studies has broken out of its traditional institutional affiliation with business and management programs to take its legitimate place as an interdisciplinary social science field of cutting edge scholarship The field has emerged as central to ongoing debates in social theory concerning such diverse topics as postcolonialism mobility and postmodernism to name just a few While there has been a diverse body of empirical research on this transformation the theoretical discussions in tourism studies remain largely attached to theories of modernity and Anglocentric assumptions about tourism There is a need for the field to come to terms theoretically with the contemporary and future realities of tourism as a truly global phenomenon Real Tourism is a significant volume which sets this new theoretical agenda engaging directly with what tourism does in practice and in place and demonstrates the need for a theoretical intervention that moves tourism scholarship beyond the province of Anglophone thinking The volume achieves this by explicitly bridging the western and the non western scholarship on tourism reframing theoretical discussions around the real practices instead of abstract typologies and radically delinking tourism theory from the grand narratives of modernity and assumptions about authenticity identity tradition and development The book brings together leading academics in the field and provides provocative multidisciplinary and multi contextual reflection on the future of tourism This original timely and compelling volume puts forward new post modernist ideas and arguments about tourism today and in the future It is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in Tourism

Shelley's Textual Seductions Samuel Lyndon

Gladden,2016-01-08 First published in 2002 This book surveys how and to what effect Shelley uses erotic narratives to mask political rhetoric within his attempts to describe and bring forth utopia Posing erotic relationships as both an exemplar of the inequities of power and a paradigm for alternative social orders that dismantle oppressive structures it argues Shelley s work imagines a space where the rigidity of tyranny succumbs to the liberation of ecstatic union From the Romantics to the Aesthetes it argues that this model contributed to a counter tradition in British literature which situates the erotic as a trope for political discourse This work will be of interest to students of literature     The dying faith, by Lara George Chetwynd Griffith,1884
