The Rays before Satyajit Chandak Sengoopta, 2016-05-04 In the history of Indian cinema the name of Satyajit Ray needs no introduction However what remains

unvoiced is the contribution of his forebears and their tryst with Indian modernity Be it in art advertising and printing technology or in nationalism feminism and cultural reform the earlier Rays attempted to create forms of the modern that were uniquely Indian and cosmopolitan at the same time Some of the Rays especially Upendrakishore and his son Sukumar are iconic figures in Bengal But even Bengali historiography is almost exclusively concerned with the family s contributions to children s literature However as this study highlights the family also played an important role in engaging with new forms of cultural modernity Apart from producing literary works of enduring significance they engaged in diverse reformist endeavours The first comprehensive work in English on the pre Satyajit generations The Rays before Satyajit is more than a collective biography of an extraordinary family It interweaves the Ray saga with the larger history of Indian modernity

Colonial India in Children's Literature Supriya Goswami,2012 Colonial India in Children s Literature is the first book length study to explore the intersections of children s literature and defining historical moments in colonial India Engaging with important theoretical and critical literature that deals with colonialism hegemony and marginalization in children s literature Goswami proposes that British Anglo Indian and Bengali children s literature respond to five key historical events the missionary debates preceding the Charter Act of 1813 the defeat of Tipu Sultan the Mutiny of 1857 the birth of Indian nationalism and the Swadeshi movement resulting from the Partition of Bengal in 1905 Through a study of works by Mary Sherwood 1775 1851 Barbara Hofland 1770 1844 Sara Jeanette Duncan 1861 1922 Rudyard Kipling 1865 1936 Upendrakishore Ray 1863 1915 and Sukumar Ray 1887 1923 Goswami examines how children s literature negotiates and represents these momentous historical forces that unsettled Britain s imperial ambitions in India Goswami argues that nineteenth century British and Anglo Indian children s texts reflect two distinct moods in Britain s colonial enterprise in India Sherwood and Hofland writing before 1857 use the tropes of conversion and captivity as a means of awakening children to the dangers of India whereas Duncan and Kipling shift the emphasis to martial prowess adaptability and empirical knowledge as defining qualities in British and Anglo Indian children Furthermore Goswami s analysis of early nineteenth century children s texts written by women authors redresses the preoccupation with male authors and boys adventure stories that have largely informed discussions of juvenility in the context of colonial India This groundbreaking book also seeks to open up the canon by examining early twentieth century Bengali children s texts that not only draw literary inspiration from nineteenth century British children s literature but whose themes are equally shaped by empire Children's Literature and Intergenerational Relationships Justyna Deszcz-Tryhubczak,Irena Barbara Kalla,2021-04-23 Children s Literature and Intergenerational Relationships Encounters of the Playful Kind explores ways in which children s literature becomes the object and catalyst of play that brings younger and older generations closer to one another Providing examples from diverse cultural and historical contexts this collection argues that children s texts promote intergenerational play through the use of literary devices and graphic formats and that they may prompt joint play practices in the real world The book offers a distinctive contribution to children's literature scholarship by shifting critical attention away from the difference and conflict between children and adults to the exploration of inter-age interdependencies as equally crucial aspects of human life presenting a new perspective for all who research and work with children's culture in times of global aging

Art and Nationalism in Colonial India, 1850-1922 Partha Mitter, 1994 Partha Mitter's book is a pioneering study of the history of modern art on the Indian subcontinent from 1850 to 1922. The author tells the story of Indian art during the Raj set against the interplay of colonialism and nationalism. The work addresses the tensions and contradictions that attended the advent of European naturalism in India as part of the imperial design for the westernisation of the elite and traces the artistic evolution from unquestioning westernisation to the construction of Hindu national identity. Through a wide range of literary and pictorial sources Art and Nationalism in Colonial India balances the study of colonial cultural institutions and networks with the ideologies of the nationalist and intellectual movements which followed. The result is a book of immense significance both in the context of South Asian history and in the wider context of art history.

The Literary Utopias of Cultural Communities, 1790-1910 Margu rite Corporaal, Evert Jan van Leeuwen, 2010 This volume of essays by scholars in the field of English and American studies brings together a variety of perspectives on the utopian literature originating from cultural communities from 1790-1910. Ranging from the Lunar society to the Nationalist movement and from the Transcendentalists to the Indian Monday Club the fifteen peer-reviewed articles examine a wide range of contexts in which utopian literature was written and will be of interest to scholars in the field of cultural and literary studies alike. Moreover the volume presents the reader with a unique overview of developments in Utopian thinking and literature throughout the long nineteenth century. Specific attention is paid to the transatlantic nature of cultural communities in which utopian writings were produced and read as well as to the colonial contexts of nineteenth century utopian literature. As such the collection offers a novel approach to a tradition of utopian writing that was essentially transcultural. Margu rite Corporaal Radboud University Nijmegen and Evert Jan van Leeuwen Leiden University are lecturers in English and American literature in the Netherlands.

Plant Thinkers of Twentieth-Century Bengal Sumana Roy, 2024-08-02 This book delves into the unconventional perspectives of writers and artists from Twentieth Century Bengal exploring their roles as plant thinkers. By examining the works of figures such as Rabindranath Tagore Bibhutibhusan Bandyopadhyay Jibanananda Das Shakti Chattopadhyay Satyajit Ray and others the narrative delves into how their stories songs art and films deeply influenced Bengali life and thought. Embracing themes of forest and garden grass and root weeds and magical plants these thinkers including Jagadish Chandra Bose with his scientific experiments derived their worldviews poetics and politics from the intricate world of plants. The work not only explores Bose's scientific research and philosophy but also delves into religious rituals that fostered a profound connection with the natural world. Through a nuanced examination of the affective relationship between individuals and the plant world the narrative uncovers a subterranean invocation of plant philosophy in both actions and words. Moreover it highlights the political possibilities beyond the confines of the nation state that emanated from such profound thinking As the book unfolds it weaves a rich tapestry of living practices and artistic expressions rooted in plant philosophy By contemplating the sap and flow of these influences it prompts readers to reflect on what contemporary consciousness can glean from these thinkers

Translations of Bengali Works Into English

,2004 Bibliography of translated Bengali imprints into English chiefly on Bengali literature Translation as Growth Udaya Narayana Singh, 2010 Sukumar Ray Subhadra Sen Gupta, 2003 Sukumar Ray was the first humorist in Bengali literature His witty poems anarchic plays and hilarious stories have enchanted many generations of readers Many phrases invented by him have become a part of the Bengali language Sukumar Ray introduced humour to Indian Literature and his irrepressible voice still fills our lives with an innocent insanity and the unadulterated joy of laughter Vikram Seth's Poetics of Pastiche Mélanie Heydari, 2024-09-21 Vikram Seth is a critical enigma He is recognized as one of the most important Indian Anglophone authors of his generation his individual works have been widely reviewed yet his work has rarely been approached as a whole and remains surprisingly understudied Perhaps the chief reason for the paucity of critical response to the full compass of Seth's work is his disregard for intellectual fashion Indeed Seth is at once very popular and deliberately unfashionable His literary affiliations are conservative seemingly uninterested in any revisionary narrative he is equally unconcerned by the interpenetration of cultures in our globalized world representing assimilation rather than cultural difference He defies the expectations of both postcolonial and world literature therefore to discuss his critical neglect is to shed light on the limitations of these labels As the most thorough attempt to map a general poetics in Seth s work this study the first of its kind on this writer develops a new critical methodology to capture the nuances of Seth s literary strategies It provides scholars and students insight into the key features of Seth s work and uncovers a consistent authorial strategy running through his seemingly disconnected body of work namely a systematic use of intertextual practices Satyajit Ray Andrew Robinson,1989-01-01 Profiles the life of the Indian director and discusses the making of each of his films The Invention of Private Life Sudipta Kaviraj,2015-03-17 The essays in this volume which lie at the intersection of the study of literature social theory and intellectual history locate serious reflections on modernity s complexities in the vibrant currents of modern Indian literature particularly in the realms of fiction poetry and autobiography Sudipta Kaviraj shows that Indian writers did more than adopt new literary trends in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries They deployed these innovations to interrogate fundamental philosophical questions of modernity Issues central to modern European social theory grew into significant themes within Indian literary reflection such as the influence of modernity on the nature of the self the nature of historicity the problem of evil the character of power under the conditions of modern history and the experience of power as felt by an individual subject of the modern state How does modern politics affect the personality of a sensitive individual Is love possible between intensely self conscious people and how do individuals cope with the transience of affections or the fragility of social ties Kaviraj argues that these inquiries inform the heart of modern Indian literary tradition and that writers such as Bankimchandra Chattopadhyay Rabindranath Tagore and Sibnath Sastri performed immeasurably important work helping readers to think through the predicament of modern times
