THE 1 SELECT WORKS OF PORPHYRY ON ABSTINENCE FROM ANIMAL FOOD BOOK THE FIRST 1 Hearing from some of our acquaintance 0 Firmus that you having rejected a fleshless diet have again returned to animal food at first I did not credit the report when I considered your temperance and the reverence which you have been taught to pay to those ancient and pious men from whom we have received the precepts of philosophy But when others who came after these confirmed this report it appeared to me that it would be too rustic and remote from the rational method of persuasion to reprehend you who neither according to the proverb flying from evil have found something better nor according to Empedocles having lamented your former life have converted yourself to one that is more excellent I have therefore thought it worthy of the friendship which subsists between us and also adapted to those who have arranged their life con 1 Porphyry elsewhere calls this Firmus Castricius his friend and fellow disciple See more concerning him in Porphyry s Life of Plotinus B formably to truth to disclose your errors through a confutation derived from an argumentative discussion 2 For when I considered with myself what could be the cause of this alteration in your diet I could by no means suppose that it was for the sake of health and strength as the vulgar and idiots would say since on the contrary you yourself when you were with us confessed that a fleshless diet contributed both to health and to the proper endurance of philosophic labours and experience testifies that in saying this you spoke the truth It appears therefore that you have returned to your former illegitimate conduct either through deception0 because you think it Sotheby & Co. (London, England),1895 The Medieval World of Nature Joyce E. Salisbury,2019-06-26 Originally published in 1993 The Medieval World of Nature looks at how the natural world was viewed by medieval society The book presents the argument that the pragmatic medieval view of the natural world of animals and plants existed simply to serve medieval society It discusses the medieval concept of animals as food labour and sport and addresses how the biblical charge of assuming dominion over animals and plants was rooted in the medieval sensibility of control The book also looks at the idea of plants and animals as not only pragmatic but as allegories within the medieval world utilizing animals to draw morality tales which were viewed with as much importance as scientific information This book provides a unique and interesting look at the everyday medieval world Narratives of Kingship in Eurasian Empires, 1300-1800 Richard van

Leeuwen,2017-08-28 In Narratives of Kingship in Eurasian Empires 1300 1800 Richard van Leeuwen analyses representations and constructions of the idea of kingship in fictional texts of various genres especially belonging to the intermediate layer between popular and official literature The analysis shows how ideologies of power are embedded in the literary and cultural imagination of societies their cultural values and conceptualizations of authority By referring to examples from various empires Chinese Indian Persian Arabic Turkish European the parallels between literary traditions are laid bare revealing remarkable common concerns The process of interaction and transmission are highlighted to illustrate how literature served as a repository for ideological and cultural values transforming power into authority in various imperial environments
