Photography and the USA Mick Gidley,2010-11-15 From Ansel Adams to Carleton Watkins Diane Arbus to Weegee Richard Avedon to James VanDerZee American photographers have recorded their vast multicultural nation in images that for more than a hundred years have come to define the USA In Photography and the USA Mick Gidley explores not only the medium of photography and the efforts to capture key events and moments through photographs but also the many ways in which the medium has played a formative role in American culture. Photography and the USA encompasses the major movements, figures and works that are crucial to understanding American photography but also pays attention to more obscure aspects of photography's history. Focusing on works that reveal many different facets of America, its landscapes and its people, Gidley explores the ambiguities of American history and culture. We encounter images that range from an anti-lynching demo in 1934 to Dorothea Lange's poster 'All races serve the crops in California', an early photographic view of Niagara Falls, against the painstaking detail of Edward Weston's 'Pepper No. 30', a fireman's fight in the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 to the Ground Zero images of 2001 by Joel Meyerowitz, an 1890s 'Wanted' image to Elliot Erwitt's shot of the Nixon-Khrushchev Kitchen Debate. Organizing his narrative around the themes of history, technology, the document and the emblem, Mick Gidley not only presents a history of photography but also reveals the complexities inherent in reading photographs themselves. A concise yet comprehensive overview of photography in the United States, this book is an excellent introduction to the subject for American Studies or visual arts students or for anyone interested in US history or culture.

In Review; Canadian Books for Children, 1974 One man's gold rush, Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 Frozen in Silver Ronald T. Bailey, 1997

In 1898 men and women from all over the world converged on Alaska. Gold had been discovered in the Yukon Territory, all winter long eager gold seekers struggled over the mountain passes connecting Canada with the United States. A small group of photographers chronicled this epic, creating images of men and women laboring through blinding snowstorms over the windswept, ice-covered mountains. One of that group was a young Swedish immigrant by the name of P. E. Larson. Frozen in Silver documents how this man used the recent medium of photography to earn a living as a merchant and tradesman. From the relative tranquility of a Minnesota photographic studio he moved westward. And like thousands of others he made his way to the Klondike Gold Rush, although with camera in hand. In addition to preserving the rich photographic record of the Great Stampede to the Klondike, Larson recorded contemporary Western life and culture, including that of the hard-rock mining community of Goldfield, Nevada. Frozen in Silver is a riveting story of one man's trek through a time and place that have been captured on film and now in print.

Ezra Meeker braved the Oregon Trail in 1852 and accumulated a fortune in the Puget Sound growing business. Suddenly at the dawn of the new century he lost his wealth and despite his advanced age ventured to Alaska and the treacherous Klondike. Four years of letters, most from Ezra to his beloved wife Eliza Jane, relay the details of his risky scheme to transport and sell more than 60 tons of groceries to Yukon gold miners.
