Ghana Armed Forces in Lebanon and Liberia Peace Operations

Emmanuel Wekem Kotia, 2015-04-22 Africa Nations have contributed to peace operations in conflict zones across the world since the deployment of the United Nations Operations in the Congo in 1960 This has placed Africa as a major stakeholder in the maintenance of peace and security For over fifty years Ghana has earned the international reputation as one of the largest and consistent Troop Contributing Country in United Nations mandated peace operations While Ghana has long been an active contributor to peace operations there are few or no comparative studies that systematically analyze the actual roles played by troops in many of the different conflict context where they have served This book therefore focuses on a comparison of two peace operations undertaken by the forces of an African Nation in two different missions in Lebanon and Liberia

Negotiating Arab-Israeli Peace Laura Zittrain Eisenberg, Neil Caplan, 1998 In an innovative study two historians of the Arab Israeli conflict reflect on what their craft can contribute to peacemaking Middle East Quarterly A fine overview of the troubled Arab Israeli negotiations since Camp David filled with sound analysis and a wealth of documentary material Students and diplomats alike will benefit from this thoughtful study William B Quandt Byrd Professor of Government and Foreign Affairs University of Virginia This timely book will be invaluable for students of Middle East international relations and for policy makers who seek a mutually acceptable resolution of this protracted conflict Michael Brecher McGill University No matter where one stands on the issues this valuable work commends itself to students peace makers and anyone concerned about the Arab Israeli conflict and its peaceful resolution Philip Mattar Institute for Palestine Studies Eisenberg and Caplan offer the reader lessons of the past and sound guidance for the present and the future a well researched and well written book Itamar Rabinovich Tel Aviv University What must change before the Arab Israeli conflict is resolved diplomatically By illuminating recurring factors that seem to doom peacemaking Negotiating Arab Israeli Peace offers a fresh interpretation of how when and why the process does and does not work and points to diplomatic strategies that may produce an enduring peace

The Routledge History of World Peace since 1750 Christian Philip

Peterson, William M. Knoblauch, Michael Loadenthal, 2018-10-10 The Routledge History of World Peace since 1750 examines the varied and multifaceted scholarship surrounding the topic of peace and engages in a fruitful dialogue about the global history of peace since 1750 Interdisciplinary in nature the book includes contributions from authors working in fields as diverse as history philosophy literature art sociology and Peace Studies The book crosses the divide between historical inquiry and Peace Studies scholarship with traditional aspects of peace promotion sitting alongside expansive analyses of peace through other lenses including specific regional investigations of the Middle East Africa Latin America and other parts of the world Divided thematically into six parts that are loosely chronological in structure the book offers a broad overview of peace issues such as peacebuilding state building and or conflict resolution in individual countries or regions and indicates the unique challenges of achieving peace from a range of perspectives Global in scope and supported by regional and temporal case studies the volume is an essential resource for educators activists and policymakers involved in promoting peace and curbing violence as well as students and scholars of Peace Studies history and their related fields

The Internationalization of Internal Conflicts Amy L. Freedman, 2016-04-29 Internal security crises from environmental disaster extreme poverty and deprivation armed conflicts or ethnic or religious conflict provide sites of opportunity for those seeking to internationalize conflicts Domestic conflicts in Africa the Middle East and Southeast Asia have started as internal problems but have taken on regional and international dimensions as parties to the conflict within the country and sympathetic external forces have joined forces with each other for mutual gain This book examines the international dimension to internal conflicts and asks under what conditions do domestic conflicts become opportunities for regional or global actors to become involved Why have some countries been able to successfully deal with this problem while others have not Who are the actors who seek to internationalize conflicts Why and with what means do they become involved and how do their agendas get internalized localized Cases include the separatist movements in the Philippines Southern Thailand Aceh Indonesia and the civil wars in Rwanda Congo and Sierra Leone Liberia Lebanon and Iraq This book finds that a combination of greater democratization internally coupled with constructive outside mediation efforts can produce conditions necessary to prevent conflicts from escalating or diffusing and can facilitate peace building Several chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Asian Security

Peace for Lebanon? Memory and Conflict in Lebanon Craig Larkin, 2012-03-15 This book examines the legacy of Lebanon s civil war and how the population and the youth in particular are dealing with their national past Drawing on extensive qualitative research and social observation the author explores the efforts of those who wish to remember so as not to repeat past mistakes and those who wish to forget In considering how the Lebanese youth are negotiating this collective memory Larkin addresses issues of Lebanese post war amnesia and the gradual emergence of new memory discourses and public debates Lebanese nationalism and historical memory visual memory and mnemonic landscapes oral memory and post war narratives war memory as an agent of ethnic conflict and a tool for reconciliation and peace building trans generational trauma or postmemory Shedding new light on trauma and the persistence of ethnic and religious hostility this book offers a unique insight into Lebanon s recurring communal tensions and a fresh perspective on the issue of war memory As such this is an essential addition to the existing literature on Lebanon and will be relevant for scholars of sociology Middle East studies anthropology politics and history

Economic Challenges facing Middle Eastern and North African Countries Nemat Shafik,2016-07-27 An authoritative analysis of economic performance in Middle Eastern and North African countries are presented by scholars in the region The papers focus on the implications of changes in the world economy in the role of the private sector and in the need for human resource development Country studies are presented for Egypt the economies of the Gulf Cooperation Council Iran Jordan Lebanon Morocco Palestine Sudan Syria Tunisia and Turkey

Defying Victimhood Albrecht Schnabel,Anara Tabyshalieva,2012 Opportunities for sustainable peacebuilding are lost and sustainable peace is at risk when significant stakeholders in a society s future are excluded from efforts to heal the wounds of war and build a new society and a new state Yet women are routinely marginalized unnoticed and underutilized in such efforts Defying Victimhood uses comparative case studies and country studies from post conflict contexts in different parts of world to produce insights for understanding women as both victims and peacebuilders The book traces the road that women take from victimhood to empowerment and highlights the essential partnerships between women and children and how they contribute to survival and peace Drawing particularly on African cases the authors examine national and global efforts to right past wrongs as well as the roles of women in political and security institutions They argue that for women in post conflict societies defying victimhood means being an activist peacebuilder and above all a full participant in post war social economic political and security structures access to which all too often has unjustly and unwisely been denied

China and the Middle East Since World War II Muhamad S. Olimat,2014-10-27 This book examines Sino Middle Eastern relations on a bilateral level since World War II It highlights the depth of China s involvement in the region with each country on a five dimensional approach energy security trade relations political relations arms sales security cooperation and cultural relations Regarding each of these criteria the Middle East holds a strategic significance to China s national security vital interests territorial integrity sovereignty regime survival and economic prosperity China has been an integral part of the political developments on the Middle Eastern political scene It has supported the region s quest for independence and national liberation exchanged diplomatic recognition with the region and established political partnerships with the Middle East Trade relations are an essential element of China s involvement in the Middle East Their bilateral trade volume exceeds 220 billion annually and is steadily heading toward 500 billion by the end of 2015 The Middle East supplies fifty four percent of China s energy needs and is expected to provide seventy percent of China s imports by 2020 Energy security has become the core of Sino Middle Eastern relations and the main goal of its increasing involvement in the region China has also become a main source of arms sales to the region The Middle East influenced Chinese culture and language immensely simultaneously influenced by Chinese culture traditions and customs Apparently the peoples of the Middle East are enthusiastic about China s role in the region However the American so called pivoting out and China's imminent pivoting in brings tremendous levels of anxiety in the region. A similar situation occurred a century ago when the people of the region, the social and political movements in the Middle East and the governments of the region solicited and welcomed the American involvement in the region, something they deeply resent and regret. China seems to be going through the same path and the people of the region have begun to scrutinize its presence. If Beijing continues its inconsistent policy in the region, its injudicious support to autocracies, it will defiantly mobilize popular resentment against its involvement in the Middle East. Therefore, its presence might not endure in comparison to the American, British or French presence in the Middle East.

Rebuilding War-Torn States Graciana del Castillo, 2008-09-25
Post conflict economic reconstruction is a critical part of the political economy of peacetime and one of the most important challenges in any peace building or state building strategy. After wars end, countries must negotiate a multi-pronged transition to peace. Violence must give way to public security, lawlessness, political exclusion and violation of human rights must give way to the rule of law and participatory government, ethnic, religious, ideological or class/caste confrontation must give way to national reconciliation and ravaged and mismanaged war economies must be reconstructed and transformed into functioning market economies that enable people to earn a decent living. Yet how can these vitally important tasks each be successfully managed? How should we go about rehabilitating basic services and physical and human infrastructure? Which policies and institutions are necessary to reactivate the economy in the short run and ensure sustainable development in the long run? What steps should countries take to bring about national reconciliation and the consolidation of peace? In all of these cases, unless the political objectives of peacetime prevail at all times, peace will be ephemeral while policies that pursue purely economic objectives can have tragic consequences. This book argues that any strategy for post conflict economic reconstruction must be based on five premises and examines specific post conflict reconstruction experiences to identify not only where these premises have been disregarded but also where policies have worked and the specific conditions that have influenced their success and failure.

The Political Economy of Middle East Peace J.W. Wright Jr., 2013-06-17
The Political Economy of Middle East Peace looks at the political economy of the Middle Eastern peace process with a focus on the politics of trade. Contributors investigate the ways new commercial alliances develop as a result of economic agencies established via the Arab-Israeli peace process and look at institutions which contribute to redirection of Arab intra and inter regional trade such as the Palestine Monetary Authority, the Middle East Development Bank and free trade zone agencies in Aquaba and Dubai.

International Peacebuilding and Local Resistance Roger Mac Ginty, 2011-05-26
Using the case studies of Afghanistan, Iraq, Bosnia, Lebanon and Northern Ireland, this book dissects internationally supported peace interventions. Looking at issues of security, statebuilding, civil society and economic and constitutional reform, it proposes using the concept of hybridity to understand the dynamics of societies in transition.

Rethinking the Liberal Peace Shahrbanou Tadjbakhsh, 2011-03-08
This book presents a critical analysis of the liberal peace project and offers possible alternatives and models In the past decade the model used for reconstructing societies after conflicts has been based on liberal assumptions about the pacifying effects of open markets and open societies Yet despite the vast resources invested in helping establish the precepts of this liberal peace outcomes have left much to be desired The book argues that failures in the liberal peace project are not only due to efficiency problems related to its adaptation in adverse local environments but mostly due to problems of legitimacy of turning an ideal into a doctrine for action The aim of the book is to scrutinize assumptions about the value of democratization and marketization and realities on the ground by combining theoretical discussions with empirical evidence from key post conflict settings such as Iraq and Afghanistan These show the disparities that exist between the ideals and the reality of the liberal peace project as seen by external peacebuilders and domestic actors The book then proposes various alternatives and modifications to better accommodate local perspectives values and agency in attempts to forge a new consensus This book will be of great interest to students of peacebuilding peacekeeping statebuilding war and conflict studies international security and IR Lebanon Tom

Najem,2012-03-12 Written in a clear and systematic manner this highly topical read fills a conspicuous gap in existing academic literature on the contemporary political environment and society in Lebanon Divided into two parts Part One examines the pre civil war system the circumstances of its formation its unique characteristics its weaknesses and dynamics and Part Two analyses how circumstances resulting from the civil war combined with essential pre war elements to define the contemporary political processes in Lebanon Peacekeeping in South Lebanon Vanessa F. Newby,2018-06-08 Although the concept of credibility has been identified by the United Nations as a significant factor in successful peacekeeping operations its role has largely been ignored in the literature on peacekeeping at the local level In this book Newby provides the first detailed examination of credibility s essential place in peacekeeping With empirically rich analysis Newby explores the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon UNIFIL and its navigation of political tensions in one of the world s geopolitical flashpoints a place where the mission s work is constrained by weak local legitimacy born of a complex political situation Identifying four types of credibility technical material security and responsiveness Newby traces the ways in which building credibility served UNIFIL and has enabled the mission to exercise its mandate despite significant challenges on the ground Peacekeeping in South Lebanon unpacks the day to day business of running a peace mission and argues that credibility should be regarded as an independent construct when considering how a peacekeeping operation functions and survives
