Politics and Class Formation in Uganda Mahmood Mamdani, 1976 African Capitalism Paul T. Kennedy, Paul M. Kennedy, 1988-09-30 This 1988 book provides an analysis of African capitalism which offers a positive view of its role A Good African Story Andrew Rugasira, 2013-02-07 Since it was founded in 2003 Good African Coffee has helped thousands of farmers earn a decent living send their children to school and escape a spiral of debt and dependence Africa has received over 1 trillion in aid over the last fifty years and yet despite these huge inflows the continent remains mired in poverty disease and systemic corruption In A Good African Story as Andrew Rugasira recounts the very personal story of his company and the challenges that he has faced and overcome as an African entrepreneur he provides a tantalising glimpse of what Africa could be and argues that trade has achieved what years of aid have failed to deliver This is a book about Africa taking its destiny in its own hands and dictating the terms of its future Insecurities of Expulsion Anneeth Kaur Hundle, 2025-05-02 In 1972 Ugandan president Idi Amin expelled close to 80 000 South Asians of Ugandan heritage from the country by dictatorial decree In Insecurities of Expulsion Anneeth Kaur Hundle revisits this weighty historical event arguing that it is neither an exceptional nor a parochial event neither a result of primordial Afro South Asian racial conflict nor an opening into a redemptive search for Afro South Asian interracial solidarities Hundle explores the aftermaths and continuous nature of the expulsion event examining its effects and affects the images representations and differentiated experiences and memories of the event and the tense and ambivalent practices of citizenship sovereignty and governance that have emerged in the decades following the expulsion She examines Afro Asian entanglements in what she describes as transcontinental Uganda through the lenses of race ethnicity class caste religion gender and sexuality Throughout Hundle argues for stronger attention to knowledge production on global Afro South Asian connections and the continued dynamics of community citizenship and identity on the African Continent as central to envisioning Black African self determinism racial reconciliation and interracial pluralisms during shifting imperial postcolonial nationalist and geopolitical times Ethnicity In Modern Africa Brian M. du Toit, 2019-04-11 The fifteen essays written for this volume reflect the increasing importance for social scientists of ethnic rather than physical or tribal criteria for classifying modern population groups The authors from South Africa the United States South West Africa Namibia Nigeria and Scotland cover most of Africa south of the Sahara They consider the range from large national population groupings to small scale societies attempting to maintain their social boundaries and discuss such topics as emergent nationalism ethnic divisiveness social distance voluntary association and the role of women The first section is concerned with particular communities peoples and ethnic groups and treats traditional tribal groupings as well as communities delineated on phenotypic grounds In the second section the focus turns to modern situations of interaction the two major themes discussed here are situational ethnicity and situational realignment The third section deals with color one of the physical criteria of ethnic identification here the authors discuss the political and legal implications of a system based on color The last essay reports on current changes in attitude and organization within the countries of white ruled southern Africa Black Africa Robert C. Mitchell, Donald G. Morrison, John N. Paden, 1989-07-17 Black Africa presents political economic and social data for 41 black African nations The first edition was published in 1972 and included only data on 32 countries which was the total number of independent African nations at that time Enlarging on the first edition this second edition covers in detail important aspects of the countries included from demography to political development and social mobilization to a modern comparative analysis of African states Black Africa is a complete and comprehensive handbook The first edition of Black Africa won a Book of the Year Award from the American Library Association Land Grabbing in Africa Fassil Demissie, 2017-10-02 The sign that Africa is on Sale has been appearing with regular frequency in major newspaper accounts across the world indicating that large amounts expanses of Africa s rich farmlands are being sold to transnational investors usually on long term leases at a rate not seen in decades indeed not since the colonial period Transnational and national economic actors from various business sectors oil and auto mining and forestry food and chemical bioenergy etc are eagerly acquiring or declaring their intention to acquire large areas of land on which to build maintain or extend large scale extractive and agro industrial enterprises to help secure their own food and energy needs into the future This book provides a critical appraisal of the growing phenomenon of land grabbing in Africa Far from being a technical issue associated good governance the problem of land grabbing by transnational corporation and states is a serious threat for the food security of millions of Africans and is undoubtedly one of the great challenges of our time for development on the continent The case studies illustrate that African states are also complicit in the massive land grabbing by actively participating in isolated development while excluding the local communities The case studies reveal key features that characterize how the global land grab plays out in specific localities in Africa This book was published as a special issue of African Identities On the Subject of Citizenship Suren Pillay, 2023-01-26 This volume brings together reflections on citizenship political violence race ethnicity and gender by some of the most critical voices of our times Detailed and wide ranging individual reflections take the writings of prominent Ugandan political theorist Mahmood Mamdani as a touchstone for thinking about the world from Africa Contributors apply this theory to argue that we cannot make sense of the political contentions of difference identity and citizenship today without understanding the legacies of colonial rule on our world Chapters examine the persistence of the past and how we must reckon with its tragedies its injustices and its utopias in order to chart a new politics the politics of possible futures that are more inclusive and more egalitarian and that can think of difference in more equitable ways In a time when the call to decolonize knowledge and politics rings loud and clear this is both a timely and a crucial intervention African Politics in Comparative Perspective Goran Hyden, 2013 This revised and expanded second edition of African Politics in Comparative Perspective reviews fifty years of research on politics in Africa and addresses some issues in a new light keeping in mind the changes in Africa since the first edition was written in 2004

The book synthesizes insights from different scholarly approaches and offers an original interpretation of the knowledge accumulated in the field. Goran Hyden discusses how research on African politics relates to the study of politics in other regions and mainstream theories in comparative politics. He focuses on such key issues as why politics trumps economics, rule is personal, state is weak and policies are made with a communal rather than an individual lens. The book also discusses why, in the light of these conditions, agriculture is problematic, gender contested, ethnicity manipulated and relations with Western powers a matter of defiance.

The Author Believes That With Their Great Economic Strength, Industriousness And Ability To Articulate, The Asians Played A Pivotal Role In The Transition Of These Countries From Colonies To Independent States. Crisis of Legitimacy and Political Violence in Uganda, 1890 to 1979 Ogenga Otunnu, 2016-12-26 This book demonstrates that societies experiencing prolonged and severe crises of legitimacy are prone to intense and persistent political violence. The most significant factor accounting for the persistence of intense political violence in Uganda is the severe crisis of legitimacy of the state, its institutions, political incumbents and their challengers. This crisis of legitimacy, which is shaped by both internal and external forces, past and present, accounts for the remarkable continuity in the history of political violence since the construction of the state.

Global Taxation Philipp Genschel, Laura Seelkopf, 2022 The volume analyses the rise of modern taxation around the world from the late eighteenth century to today. It is based on a new Tax Introduction Dataset that records the historical dates of first adoption of six key taxes of the modern state in 220 countries worldwide, 1750-2018. The taxes include personal and corporate income tax, inheritance tax, social security contributions as well as general sales taxes and VAT. Based on these data, the chapters map the diffusion of modern taxation across space, time, tax and mode of tax adoption, sovereign or colonial. They explore the applicability of Western theories of fiscal development to non-Western contexts. They highlight the role of colonial tax introductions for fiscal development and state formation in Africa and Asia. And they compare the correlates of tax introduction across time and across different types of tax.

When Humans Become Migrants Marie-Bénédicte Dembour, 2015-03-26 The treatment of migrants is one of the most challenging issues that human rights as a political philosophy faces today. It has increasingly become a contentious issue for many governments and international organizations around the world. The controversies surrounding immigration can lead to practices at odds with the ethical message embodied in the concept of human rights and the notion of migrants as a group which should be treated in a distinct manner. This book examines the way in which two institutions tasked with ensuring the protection of human rights, the European Court of Human Rights and Inter American

Court of Human Rights treat claims lodged by migrants It combines legal sociological and historical analysis to show that the two courts were the product of different backgrounds which led to differing attitudes towards migrants in their founding texts and that these differences were reinforced in their developing case law The book assesses the case law of both courts in detail to argue that they approach migrant cases from fundamentally different perspectives It asserts that the European Court of Human Rights treats migrants first as aliens and then but only as a second step in its reasoning as human beings By contrast the Inter American Court of Human Rights approaches migrants first as human beings and secondly as foreigners if they are Dembour argues therefore that the Inter American Court of Human Rights takes a fundamentally more human rights driven approach to this issue The book shows how these trends formed at the courts and assesses whether their approaches have changed over time It also assesses in detail the issue of the detention of irregular migrants Ultimately it analyses whether the divergence in the case law of the two courts is likely to continue or whether they could potentially adopt a more unified practice

Religious and Ethical Perspectives on Global Migration Elizabeth W. Collier, Charles R. Strain, 2014-06-05 Religious and Ethical Perspectives on Global Migration examines the complicated social ethics of migration in today's world Editors Elizabeth W Collier and Charles R Strain bring the perspectives of an international group of scholars toward a theory of justice and ethical understanding for the nearly two hundred million migrants who have left their homes seeking asylum from political persecution greater freedom and safety economic opportunity or reunion with family members Migrants move out of fear desperation hope love for their families or a myriad of other complex motivations Faced with both the needs and flows of people and the walls that impede them what actions ought we both individually and collectively take What is the moral responsibility of those of us in particular who reside comfortably in our native lands There is no univocal response to these questions Instead multiple perspectives on migration must be examined This book begins by looking at different geographic regions around the world and highlighting particular issues within each Finding that religious traditions represent the strongest countervailing sources of values to the homogenizing tendencies of economic globalization the study then offers a plurality of religious perspectives The final chapters examine the salient issues and the proposed solutions that have emerged specifically within the U S context These studies range from militarization of the U S border with Mexico to the impact of migrants on native born low skilled workers Encompassing a wide range of cultural and scholarly voices Religious and Ethical Perspectives on Global Migration provides insight for ethics moral philosophy social and political philosophy religious studies social justice globalization and identity formation
