Nationalism and African Intellectuals Toyin Falola, 2004 An examination of the attempt by Western educated African intellectuals to create a better Africa through connecting nationalism to knowledge from the anti colonial movement to the present day This book is about how African intellectuals influenced primarily by nationalism have addressed the inter related issues of power identity politics self assertion and autonomy for themselves and their continent from the mid nineteenth century onward Their major goal was to create a better Africa by connecting nationalism to knowledge The results have been mixed from the glorious euphoria of the success of anti colonial movements to the depressing circumstances of the African condition as we enter a new millennium As the intellectual elite is a creation of the Western formal school system the ideas it generated are also connected to the larger world of scholarship This world is in turn shaped by European contacts with Africa from the fifteenth century onward the politics of the Cold War and the subsequent collapse of the Soviet Union In essence Africa and its elite cannot be fully understood without also considering the West and changing global politics Neither can the academic and media contributions by non Africans be ignored as these also affect the ways that Africans think about themselves and their continent Nationalism and African Intellectuals examines intellectuals ambivalent relationships with the colonial apparatus and subsequent nation state formations the contradictions manifested within pan Africanism and nationalism and the relation of academic institutions and intellectual production to the state during the nationalism period and beyond Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin

L'ecrivain Caribéen, Guerrier de L'imaginaire Kathleen Gyssels, Bénédicte Ledent, 2008 This bilingual collection illustrates the concept of the Warrior of the Imaginary as defined by Patrick Chamoiseau in a multi faceted corpus of texts Francophone contributions explore the role of the Caribbean writer in works by Chamoiseau, Édouard Glissant, Daniel Maximin and Joseph Zobel. Essays in English focus not only on familiar writers: Dionne Brand, Edwidge Danticat, Wilson Harris, Jamaica Kincaid, Caryl Phillips, Derek Walcott, but also on less widely studied voices: Robert Antoni, Albert Helman. Other contributions deal with such fighting areas as Afro-Brazilian music, film, and Mutabaruka's militant poetry. The whole testifies to a surprisingly coherent imaginary, one that goes beyond the balkanization of the Caribbean archipelago. Dans ce collectif bilingue, le concept de Guerrier de l'imaginaire, tel que défini par Patrick Chamoiseau, est illustré par un corpus de textes variés. Plusieurs des articles en français engagent directement le cycle romanesque de l'auteur martiniquais, d'autres tendent à l'interrogation de la fonction de l'auteur caribéen. En lecture glissantienne, maximinienne et zobelienne, tradues en anglais, portent sur des écrivains dont le renom n'est plus à faire: Dionne Brand, Edwidge Danticat, Wilson Harris, Jamaica Kincaid, Caryl Phillips, Derek Walcott, mais donnent aussi la parole des auteurs jusqu'présent moins étudiés: Robert Antoni, Albert Helman. Enfin, quelques-unes des contributions portent sur d'autres terrains de lutte, comme la musique afro-brésilienne, le cinéma ou la poésie militante de Mutabaruka. L'ensemble témoigne d'un imaginaire tonnamment confluant au-delà de la balkanisation de l'archipel caribéen.

We Are Not What We Seem Roderick D. Bush, 2000-03. An Indispensable Book of The Black World Today website. A fresh new look at the Black Power movement and its leaders. Much has been written about the Black Power movement in the United States. Most of this work, however, tends to focus on the personalities of the movement. In We Are Not What We Seem, Roderick D. Bush takes a fresh look at Black Power and other African American social movements with a specific emphasis on the role of the urban poor in the struggle for Black rights. Bush traces the trajectory of African American social movements from the time of Booker T. Washington to the present, providing an integrated discussion of class. He addresses questions crucial to any understanding of Black politics: Is the Black Power movement simply another version of the traditional American ethnic politics, or does it have wider social import? What role has the federal government played in implicitly grooming social conservatives like Louis Farrakhan to assume leadership positions, as opposed to leftist grassroots, class-oriented leaders? Bush avoids the traditional liberal and social democratic approaches in favor of a more universalistic perspective that offers new insights into the history of Black movements in the U.S.

African American Leadership Ronald W. Walters, 1999-01-01. Written by two preeminent scholars of the subject, this book provides a panoramic view of the theory, research, and praxis of African American leadership. Walters and Smith offer a great deal to students of black leadership, as well as important strategy and policy recommendations for black leaders. The book first presents a comprehensive assessment of the social science research literature on black leadership. It finds that older studies (1930s to 1960s) dealt with the nascent formation of leadership theory where blacks were located predominantly in the context of southern politics and had to adopt a conservative to moderate leadership style. The authors also review and evaluate research on black leadership from the 1970s to the present and suggest attention be given to studies of leadership that involve community-level leadership, female leaders, black mayors, and black conservatives. African American Leadership also focuses on the practice of black leadership Knowledge and Change in African Universities Michael Cross, amasa ndofirepi, 2017-01-28 While African universities retain their core function as primary institutions for advancement of knowledge they have undergone fundamental changes in this regard These changes have been triggered by a multiplicity of factors including the need to address past economic and social imbalances higher education expansion alongside demographic and economic growth concerns and student throughput and success with the realization that greater participation has not meant greater equity Constraining these changes is largely the failure to recognize the encroachment of the profit motive into the academy or a shift from a public good knowledge learning regime to a neo liberal knowledge learning regime Neo liberalism with its emphasis on the economic and market function of the university rather than the social function is increasingly destabilizing higher education particularly in the domain of knowledge making it increasingly unresponsive to local social and cultural needs Corporate organizational practices commodification and commercialization of knowledge dictated by market ethics dominate university practices in Africa with negative impact on professional values norms and beliefs Under such circumstances African humanist progressive virtues e g social solidarity compassion positive human relations and citizenship democratic principles equity and social justice and the commitment to decolonization ideals guided by altruism and common good are under serious threat The book goes a long way in unraveling how African universities can respond to these challenges at the levels of institutional management academic scholarship the structure of knowledge production and distribution institutional culture policy and curriculum The Rise and Fall of the Garvey Movement in the Urban South, 1918-1942 Claudrena N. Harold, 2014-06-03 More than simply providing a regional history of one of the most important Pan African movements of the twentieth century this book demonstrates the ways in which racial class and spatial dynamics resulted in complex and at times competing articulations of black nationalism The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political

Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920-2010: When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies This Side of Paradise Curtis Tilleraas, 2012-06-05 The Power of African Cultures Toyin Falola, 2003 An analysis of the ties between culture and every aspect of African life using Africa's past to explain present situations This book focuses on the modern cultures of Africa from the consequences of the imposition of Western rule to the current struggles to define national identities in the context of neo liberal economic policies and globalization The book argues that it is against the backdrop of foreign influences that Africa has defined for itself notions of identity and development African cultures have been evolving in response to change and in other ways solidly rooted in a shared past The book successfully deconstructs the last one hundred and fifty years of cultures that have been disrupted replaced and resurrected The Power of African Cultures challenges many preconceived notions such as male dominance and female submission the supposed unity of ethnic groups and contemporary Western stereotypes of Africans It also shows the dynamism of African cultures to adapt to foreign imposition even as colonial rule forced the adoption of foreign institutions and cultures African cultures appropriated these elements Traditions were reworked symbols redefined and the past situated in contemporary problems in order to accommodate the modern era Toyin Falola is a Fellow of the Nigerian Academy of Letters and Fellow of the Historical Society of Nigeria He is the recipient of the 2006 Cheikh Anta Diop Award for Exemplary Scholarship in African Studies and the 2008 Quintessence Award by the Africa Writers Endowment He holds an honorary doctorate from Monmouth University and he is University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin where he is also the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities His books include Nationalism and African Intellectuals and Violence in Nigeria both from the University of Rochester Press African Diaspora Identities John A. Arthur, 2010-08-20 African Diaspora Identities provides insights into the complex transnational processes involved in shaping the migratory identities of African immigrants It seeks to understand the durability of these African transnational migrant identities and their impact on inter minority group relationships John A. Arthur demonstrates that the identities African immigrants construct often transcend country specific cultures and normative belief systems He illuminates the fact that these transnational migrant identities are an amalgamation of multiple identities formed in varied social transnational settings The United States has become a site for the cultural formations manifestations and contestations of the newer identities that these immigrants seek to depict in cross cultural and global settings Relying mostly on their strong human capital resources education and family Africans are devising creative encompassing and robust ways to position and reposition their new identities In combining their African cultural forms and identities with new roles norms and beliefs that they imbibe in the United States and everywhere else they have settled Africans are redefining what it means to be black in a race ethnicity and color conscious American society

The African Diaspora Toyin Falola, 2013 The African diaspora is arguably the most important event in modern African history From the fifteenth century to the present millions of Africans have been dispersed many of them forcibly others driven by economic need or political persecution to other continents creating large communities with African origins living outside their native lands The majority of these communities are in North America This historic displacement has meant that Africans are irrevocably connected to economic and political developments in the West and globally Among the known legacies of the diaspora are slavery colonialism racism poverty and underdevelopment yet the ways in which these same factors worked to spur the scattering of Africans are not fully understood by those who were part of this migration or by scholars historians and policymakers In this definitive study of the diaspora in North America Toyin Falola offers a causal history of the western dispersion of Africans and its effects on the modern world Reengaging old and familiar debates and framing new ones that enrich the discourse surrounding Africa Falola isolates the thread running nearly six centuries that connects the history of slavery the transatlantic slave trade and current migrations A boon to scholars and policymakers and accessible to the general reader the book explores diverse narratives of migration and shows that the cultures that migrated from Africa to the Americas have the capacity to unite and create a new pan Africanist movement within the globalized world Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin He is the 2011 recipient of the Distinguished Africanist Award from the African Studies Association and serves as the vice president of the International Scientific Committee of the UNESCO Slave Route Project His previous books published by the University of Rochester Press include The Power of African Cultures and Nationalism and African Intellectuals

Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908 1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics Equality Or Discrimination? Natalie Kimbrough, 2007 Equality or Discrimination strives to close the gap in existing literature and address the often neglected field of research on the discrimination of African Americans in the U S Armed Forces during the Vietnam War Despite the awakened interest of academics authors artists and experts from a multitude of fields and the vast selection of literature on the Vietnam War and its veterans African Americans have received little attention until now Based on initial findings Dr Kimbrough analyzes key issues including whether or not African Americans experienced racial discrimination while serving. The study also focuses on whether the Vietnam War was indeed the first fully integrated conflict in which the U S attempted to engage in militarily without racial division. The findings contradict the traditional image of equality in the U S Armed Forces and provide the basis for the dissertation. Proving that soldiers in the Vietnam War were NOT treated equally Dr Kimbrough argues that African Americans experienced various forms of discrimination during a tumultuous time in U S history in which the opposite treatment of its soldiers was required.

Winter in America Daniel Robert McClure, 2021-10-22 Neoliberalism took shape in the 1930s and 1940s as a transnational political philosophy and system of economic political and cultural relations. Resting on the fundamental premise that the free market should be unfettered by government intrusion neoliberal policies have primarily redirected the state's prerogatives away from the postwar Keynesian welfare system and toward the insulation of finance and corporate America from democratic pressure. As neoliberal ideas gained political currency in the 1960s and 1970s a reactionary cultural turn catalyzed their ascension. The cinema music magazine culture and current events discourse of the 1970s provided the space of negotiation permitting these ideas to take hold and be challenged. Daniel Robert McClure's book follows the interaction between culture and economics during the transition from Keynesianism in the mid 1960s to the triumph of neoliberalism at the dawn of the 1980s. From the 1965 debate between William F Buckley and James Baldwin through the pages of BusinessWeek and Playboy to the rise of exploitation cinema in the 1970s McClure tracks the increasingly shared perception by white males that they had lost their long standing rights and that a great neoliberal reckoning might restore America's repressive racial sexual gendered and classed foundations in the wake of the 1960s.

Transnationalism Eliezer Ben Rafael, Yitzhak Sternberg, 2009 This book deals with transnationalism and captures its singularity as a generalized phenomenon. The profusion of transnational communities is a factor of fluidity in social orders and represents confrontations between contingencies and basic socio cultural drives. It has created a new era different from the past at essential respects. This is an age of enriching cultural diversity fraught with threatening risks inextricably linked to contemporary globalization. National sovereignty is eroded from above by global processes from below by aspirations of sub national groups and from the sides by transnational allegiances. This is the backdrop against which this book delves into the fundamental issues relating to the nature scope and overall significance of transnationalism.
