Secrets of the Universe Scott Russell Sanders, 1992-10-31 Ranging from an autobiographical tour de force that describes a childhood spent with an alcoholic father to Looking at Women a reflection on male yearning and confusion to a look at the place or absence of nature in recent American fiction The Seven Deadly Virtues and Other Lively Essays Lynn Z. Bloom, 2008 This volume contains eye opening essays from a pioneering voice in creative nonfiction and composition studies Inspirational educator and writer Bloom brings to fore the trials and triumphs she has experienced in coming of age as a scholar teacher wife mother grandmother and most especially a writer A pioneer in composition studies and a chronic nonconformist Bloom is a lifelong advocate of opportunity authenticity and expression Taking a stance in favor of bold creativity in living teaching and the act of writing that ties both together she warns against the snares and sneers of the seven deadly virtues duty rationality conformity efficiency order economy and punctuality that so often subvert the mission of education and the potential of expressive communication Ranging from the comic to the confessional Bloom's memoir interweaves the pleasures and problems of a forbidden marriage and complex family the joys of cooking and travel the struggles to become a professor in an era that rejected women faculty and the risks of heeding the siren call of creative nonfiction These fifteen essays probe the assumptions and values ethical intellectual social aesthetic and inevitably political of what Bloom has found to be the most complicated challenging satisfying aspects of her loves and labors Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies Our Fathers Steven L. Shepherd, 2002-07-26 No one questions that men are profoundly influenced by their fathers but the shape and substance of that influence varies with each family In this the first anthology of nonfiction prose to explore this issue in depth editor Steven Shepherd has collected a diverse and invariably compelling group of narratives about sons and their fathers Fourteen excellent essays by some of our best writers says Anne Morris of the Austin American Statesman Among the contributors James Baldwin who reflects in his classic Notes of a Native Son on the father he barely knew partly because we shared in our different fashions the vice of stubborn pride The brothers Geoffrey and Tobias Wolff who write of their father from dramatically different perspectives A second generation undertaker Thomas Lynch who writes lovingly of burying his father And the acclaimed scholar of African American culture Henry Louis Gates Jr who grew up with a father who was not a race man yet their arguments were vital to the son's education Beyond Argument Sarah Allen, 2015-04-01 Beyond Argument offers an in depth examination of how

current ways of thinking about the writer page relation in personal essays can be reconceived according to practices in the care of the self an ethic by which writers such as Seneca Montaigne and Nietzsche lived This approach promises to revitalize the form and address many of the concerns expressed by essay scholars and writers regarding the lack of rigorous exploration we see in our students personal essays and sometimes even in our own In pursuing this approach Sarah Allen presents a version of subjectivity that enables productive debate in the essay among essays and beyond Naked Barbies, Warrior Joes, and Other Forms of Visible Gender Jeannie B. Thomas, 2003 In this folkloric examination of mass produced material culture in the United States Jeannie Banks Thomas examines the gendered sculptural forms that are among the most visible including Barbie Ken and G I Joe dolls yard figures gnomes geese and flamingos and cemetery statuary angels sports related images figures of the Virgin Mary soldiers and politicians Images of females are often emphasized or sexualized frequently through nudity or partial nudity whereas those of the male body are not only clothed but also armored in the trappings of action and aggression Thomas locates these various objects of folk art within a discussion of the post women s movement discourse on gender In addition to the items themselves Thomas explores the stories and behaviors they generate including legends of the supernatural about cemetery statues oral narratives of yard artists and accounts of pranks involving yard art narratives about children s play with Barbie Ken and G I Joe and the electronic folklore or e lore about Barbie that circulates on the Internet Turning to Earth F. Marina Schauffler, 2003 Turning to Earth offers a window into the heart of environmental change moving beyond the culture s traditional reliance on policy reforms and technological measures It charts the course of ecological conversion a dynamic inner process by which people come to ally themselves with the natural world and speak out on its behalf Stories by ecological converts illuminate a critical realm long neglected by environmental scholars and activists how the terrain of spirit psyche and conscience shape our commitment to Earth Marina Schauffler s engaging exploration of inner ecology deftly weaves together numerous autobiographical accounts with insights from the fields of ecocriticism ecopsychology environmental philosophy and environmental education An opening portrait of the writer and activist Terry Tempest Williams traces her deepening devotion to Earth Each subsequent chapter explores a key element of ecological conversion drawing primarily on the personal testimony of Williams and five other pioneering writers Rachel Carson Alice Walker Edward Abbey Scott Russell Sanders and N Scott Momaday Turning to Earth extends the parameters of contemporary environmental discussion by illustrating how substantive change hinges not just on political and institutional reforms but also on profound inner transformation The compelling life narratives of ecological converts provide inspiration and direction for the growing number of activists educators scholars and citizens committed to changing the world from the inside out The Land We Share Eric T. Freyfogle, 2003-08-08 Is private ownership an inviolate right that individuals can wield as they see fit Or is it better understood in more collective terms as an institution that communities reshape over time to promote evolving goals What should it mean to be a private landowner in an age of sprawling growth and declining biological diversity These provocative questions lie at the heart of this perceptive and wide ranging new book by legal scholar and conservationist Eric Freyfogle Bringing together insights from history law philosophy and ecology Freyfogle undertakes a fascinating inquiry into the ownership of nature leading us behind publicized and contentious disputes over open space regulation wetlands protection and wildlife habitat to reveal the foundations of and changing ideas about private ownership in America Drawing upon ideas from Thomas Jefferson Henry George and Aldo Leopold and interweaving engaging accounts of actual disputes over land use issues Freyfogle develops a powerful vision of what private ownership in America could mean an ownership system fair to owners and taxpayers alike that fosters healthy land and healthy economies

Tracing the Essay G. Douglas Atkins, 2005-12-01 The essay as a notably hard form of writing to pin down has inspired some unflattering descriptions It is a greased pig for example or a pair of baggy pants into which nearly anything and everything can fit In Tracing the Essay G Douglas Atkins embraces the very qualities that have moved others to accord the essay second class citizenship in the world of letters Drawing from the work of Montaigne and Bacon and recent practitioners such as E B White and Cynthia Ozick Atkins shows what the essay means and how it comes to mean The essay related to assaying attempting mines experience for meaning which it then carefully weighs It is a via media creature says Atkins born of and embracing tension It exists in places between experience and meaning literature and philosophy self and other process and product form and formlessness Moreover as a literary form the essay is inseparable from a way of life requiring wisdom modesty and honesty The essay was historically notes Atkins the first form to take the experience of the individual and make it the stuff of literature Atkins also considers the essay s basis in Renaissance and Reformation thinking and its participation in voyages of exploration and discovery of that age Its concern is home cosmography to use a term from seventeenth century writer William Habington Responding to influential critiques of the essay s supposed self indulgence lack of irony and absence of form Atkins argues that the essay exhibits a certain sneakiness as it proceeds in through and by means of the small and the mundane toward the spiritual and the revelatory

Bringing Learning to Life Louise Boyd Cadwell, 2003 Building on her enormously popular book Bringing Reggio Emilia Home Louise Cadwell helps American educators understand what it means to use ideas from the Reggio Approach in their classrooms In new and dynamic ways Cadwell once again takes readers inside the day to day practice of a group of early childhood educators This time she describes the growth and evolution of the work in the St Louis Reggio Collaborative over the past 10 years

One by One, the Stars Ned Stuckey-French, 2022-05 Shaped by Stories Marshall Gregory, 1997-09-01 In his latest book Marshall Gregory begins with the premise that our lives are saturated with stories ranging from magazines books films television and blogs to the words spoken by politicians pastors and teachers He then explores the ethical implication of this nearly universal human obsession with narratives Through careful readings of Katherine Anne Porter s The Graveyard Book Thurber s The Catbird Seat as well as David Copperfield and Wuthering Heights Gregory asks and answers the question How do the stories we absorb in our daily lives influence the kinds of persons we turn out to be Shaped by Stories is accessible to anyone interested in ethics popular culture and education It will encourage students and teachers to become more thoughtful and perceptive readers of stories     Reading Essays G. Douglas Atkins,2010-01-25 Approaches abound to help us beneficially enjoyably read fiction poetry and drama Here for the first time is a book that aims to do the same for the essay G Douglas Atkins performs sustained readings of more than twenty five major essays explaining how we can appreciate and understand what this currently resurgent literary form reveals about the art of living Atkins s readings cover a wide spectrum of writers in the English language and his readings are themselves essays gracefully written engaged and engaging Atkins starts with the earliest British practitioners of the form including Francis Bacon John Dryden Alexander Pope and Samuel Johnson Transcendentalist writers Henry David Thoreau and Ralph Waldo Emerson are included as are works by Americans James Baldwin Zora Neale Hurston and E B White Atkins also provides readings of a number of contemporary essayists among them Annie Dillard Scott Russell Sanders and Cynthia Ozick Many of the readings are of essays that Atkins has used successfully in the classroom with undergraduate and graduate students for many years In his introduction Atkins offers practical advice on the specific demands essays make and the unique opportunities they offer especially for college courses The book ends with a note on the writing of essays furthering the author s contention that reading should not be separated from writing Reading Essays continues in the tradition of such definitive texts as Understanding Poetry and Understanding Fiction Throughout Atkins reveals the joy delight grace freedom and wisdom of the glorious essay     The Midwestern Pastoral William Barillas,2006-02-15 The midwestern pastoral is a literary tradition of place and rural experience that celebrates an attachment to land that is mystical as well as practical based on historical and scientific knowledge as well as personal experience It is exemplified in the poetry fiction and essays of writers who express an informed love of the nature and regional landscapes of the Midwest Drawing on recent studies in cultural geography environmental history and mythology as well as literary criticism The Midwestern Pastoral Place and Landscape in Literature of the American Heartland relates Midwestern pastoral writers to their local geographies and explains their approaches William Barillas treats five important Midwestern pastoralists Willa Cather Aldo Leopold Theodore Roethke James Wright and Jim Harrison in separate chapters He also discusses Jane Smiley U S Poet Laureate Ted Kooser Paul Gruchow and others For these writers the aim of writing is not merely intellectual and aesthetic but democratic and ecological In depicting and promoting commitment to local communities human and natural they express their love for their understanding of and their sense of place in the American Midwest Students and serious readers as well as scholars in the growing field of literature and the environment will appreciate this study of writers who counter alienation and materialism in modern society     The Utne Reader ,1994-07

Landscapes with Figures Robert L. Root,2007-04-01 For some a sense of place is about travel about plunging oneself into new settings For others it is about being and knowing home This book is a collection of essays memoirs nature writing and travel narratives that document the impact this sense of place has on writing In locations as familiar as Cape Cod or Mesa Verde and as exotic as Krak w or Kyrgyzstan thirteen accomplished writers of contemporary creative nonfiction share some of their most memorable work disclosing how place alters our perception and influences our insight Taking readers to deserts and forests islands and mountains Landscapes with Figures is an encounter not only with places but also with writers themselves Each contribution is accompanied by an author s commentary that discusses the relationship to place in his or her writing The authors reveal the connections they feel to the places they write about the role that place plays in the choices they make in relating their experiences and the strategies and work habits that produce such writing This compilation is at once a wide ranging anthology of the nonfiction of place for the armchair traveler and a book about writing for those who aspire to understand and practice the craft carrying with it the invitation to reflect on one s own special places Writers Without Borders Lynn Z. Bloom,2008-07-02 In Writers Without Borders Writing and Teaching Writing in Troubled Times Lynn Z Bloom presents groundbreaking research on the nature of essays and on the political philosophical ethical and pragmatic considerations that influence how we read write and teach them in times troubled by terrorism transgressive students and uses and abuses of the Internet Writers Without Borders reinforces Bloom s reputation for presenting innovative and sophisticated research with a writer s art and a teacher s heart Each of the eleven essays addresses in its own way the essay itself as one way to live and learn with others Swift's Satires on Modernism: Battlegrounds of Reading and Writing G. Atkins,2012-12-17 More than three centuries later Jonathan Swift s writing remains striking and relevant In this engaging study Atkins brings forty plus years of critical experience to bear on some of the greatest satires ever written revealing new contexts for understanding post Reformation reading practices and the development of the modern personal essay Virtual America John Opie,2008-01-01 Virtual America traces the complex relationship between Americans technology and their environment as it has unfolded over the past several centuries Throughout history Americans have constructed mental pictures of unique places such as the American West that have taken on more authority than the actual gritty landscapes This disconnect from reality is magnified by the new world of virtual realities on the computer screen where personal immersion in interactive simulations becomes the default environment Virtual America identifies the connections or lack thereof between our individual selves an American identity and the geography out there John Opie examines what he calls First Nature the natural world Second Nature metropolitan infrastructure built environment and Third Nature virtual reality in cyberspace He also explores how Americans have historically dreamed about a better life in daily ordinary existence and then fulfilled it through the Engineered America of our built environment the Consumer America of material well being and the Triumphant America of our conviction that we are the world s exceptional model But these dream worlds have also encouraged placelessness and thus indifference to our dwelling in home ground Finally Opie explores Last Nature a sense of place and argues that when we identify an authentic place we can locate authenticity of self a reification of place and self by their connectedness      Going Away to Think Scott Slovic, 2016-10-01 Scott Slovic has spent his life as a teacher writer environmental activist and leader in the field of ecocritical literary studies In Going Away to Think he reflects on the twin motivations of his life the commitment to do some good in the world and the impulse to enjoy life and participate fully in its most intense moments and he examines the tension created by his efforts to balance these two poles of his responsibility These essays reveal the complex inner life of one of this generation s most important environmental critics and literary activists They range from profound discussions of the role and responsibilities of scholarship to deeply personal ruminations on the impact of family crises and the influence of his wide ranging travels
