Visual Culture: What is visual culture studies? Joanne Morra, Marquard Smith, 2006 These texts represent both the formation of visual culture and the ways in which it has transformed and continues to transform our understanding and experience of the world as a visual domain

SAGE Visual Methods Jason Hughes, 2012-07-23 In contemporary Western societies the visual domain has come to assume a hitherto unprecedented cultural centrality Daily life is replete with a potentially endless stream of images and other visual messages from the electronic and paper based billboards of the street to the TV and Internet feeds of the home The visual has become imbued with a symbolic potency a signifying power that seemingly eclipses that of all other sensory data The central aim of this four volume collection is to explore key approaches to visual research methods and to consider some of the core principles issues debates and controversies surrounding the use of visual techniques in relation to three key enterprises 1 documentation and representation 2 interpretation and classification and 3 elicitation and collaboration Volume One Principles Issues Debates and Controversies in Visual Research serves as a theoretical backdrop to the field as a whole It introduces core epistemological ethical and methodological debates that effectively cut across the four volume collection as a whole Volume Two Documentation and Representation illustrates approaches to visual documentation and representation from classical documentaries to contemporary state of the art modes of visual anthropology and ethnography Volume Three Interpretation and Classification examines core debates surrounding and approaches to visual analysis Volume Four Elicitation and Collaboration explores participative approaches to visual inquiry

An Analysis of John Berger's Ways of Seeing Emmanouil Kalkanis, 2018-02-21 Ways of Seeing is a key art historical work that continues to provoke widespread debate It is comprised of seven different essays three of which are pictorial and the other containing texts and images Berger first examines the relationship between seeing and knowing discussing how our assumptions affect how we see a painting He moves on to consider the role of women in artwork particularly regarding the female nude The third essay deals with oil painting looking at the relationship between subjects and ownership Finally Berger addresses the idea of ownership in a consumerist society discussing the power of imagery in advertising with particular regards to photography Shakespeare, Film Studies, and the Visual Cultures of Modernity A. Guneratne, 2016-04-30 This book is the first in depth cultural history of cinema's polyvalent and often contradictory appropriations of Shakespearean drama and performance traditions The author argues that these adaptations have helped shape multiple aspects of film from cinematic style to genre and narrative construction

Theorizing Images Žarko Paić, 2016-04-26 This book uncovers an underlying dispute over the role images play in contemporary society and consequently over their values and purposes Two decades after the concepts of the pictorial and the iconic turn changed our vernacular involvement with regard to images it has become clear that it was not only a newly discovered social political or sexual construction of the visual field that brought turbulence into disciplinary knowledge but that images have their own pictorial logic with powers exceeding those that are purely iconic or visually discernible Instead of underscoring previously defined concepts of the picture the contributors to this book view visual studies and Bildwissenschaft merely as a place for the theory of images making a case for the hotly debated topic of their powers and weaknesses on the one hand and of their respective theories on the other Therefore as the title indicates this book theorizes images but it does not present a theory of images because visual studies cannot lead to a unified theory of images unless a unified ontology of images can be agreed upon first Although that would be a different task altogether all the contributions in this book in different ways and at different paces by theorizing images in their aesthetic historical media and technological guises pave the way for the future of visual culture and for the image science that will make this future more comprehensible

Farewell to Visual Studies James Elkins, Gustav Frank, Sunil Manghani, 2015-10-28 Each of the five volumes in the Stone Art Theory Institutes series brings together a range of scholars who are not always directly familiar with one another's work The outcome of each of these convergences is an extensive and unpredictable conversation on knotty and provocative issues about art This fifth and final volume in the series focuses on the identity nature and future of visual studies discussing critical questions about its history objects and methods The contributors question the canon of literature of visual studies and the place of visual studies with relation to theories of vision visuality epistemology politics and art history giving voice to a variety of inter and transdisciplinary perspectives Rather than dismissing visual studies as its provocative title might suggest this volume aims to engage a critical discussion of the state of visual studies today how it might move forward and what it might leave behind to evolve in productive ways The contributors are Emmanuel Alloa Nell Andrew Linda Bez Rub Martin A Berger Hans Dam Christensen Isabelle Decobecq Bernhard J Dotzler Johanna Drucker James Elkins Michele Emmer Yolaine Escande Gustav Frank Theodore Gracyk Asbjørn Grønstad Stephan Günzel Charles W Haxthausen Miguel Hernández Navarro Tom Holert K van Kesteren Charlotte Klonk Tirza True Latimer Mark Linder Sunil Manghani Anna Notaro Julia Orell Mark
