Selected Issues In Logic And Communication:

Selected Issues in Logic and Communication Trudy Govier, 1988 Selected Issues in Logic and Communication is the first anthology to explore the many points of intersection between the realms of critical thinking and modern mass communication. It raises important questions about how the mass media influence thought and considers whether a free marketplace of ideas is still a viable concept today. Selected Issues in Global Health Communications Muhiuddin Haider, Heather Platter, Bridget Higginbotham, 2018-09-26 This book was written to give scholars an opportunity to examine selected issues in health communication. There are many challenges in health communication such as the shortage of evaluations on social marketing interventions, the need for a framework to easily apply social marketing practices to campaigns, and the difficulty of applying theory to improve communication. To address these challenges, the four chapters, including an introductory chapter, introduce several health communication topics including social marketing, the application of theory and message design to promote social communication. Readers can expect concise topic overviews with clear steps and examples of how to apply the methods discussed in each chapter. High Speed Circuits For Lightwave Communications, Selected Topics

In Electronics And Systems, Vol 1 Keh-chung Wang, 1999-01-25 High speed circuits are crucial for increasing the bandwidth of transmission and switching of voice/video data over optical fiber networks. The ever increasing demand for bit rates higher than those available due to the explosion of Internet traffic has driven engineers to develop integrated circuits of performance approaching 100 Gb/s. Commercial lightwave products using high speed circuits of 10 Gb/s and beyond are readily available. High Speed Circuits for Lightwave Communications presents the latest information on circuit design, measured results, applications, and product development. It covers electronic and optoelectronic circuits for transmission, receiving, and cross point switching. These circuits were implemented with various state-of-the-art IC technologies including Si BJT, GaAs MESFET, HEMT, HBT, as well as InP HEMT and HBT. The book, written by more than 50 experts, will benefit graduate students, researchers, and engineers who are interested in or work in this exciting and challenging field of optical communications. Propaganda and Information Warfare in the Twenty-First Century Scot Macdonald, 2006-12-05

This is the first book to analyze how the technology to alter images and rapidly distribute them can be used for propaganda and to support deception operations. In the past, propagandists and those seeking to conduct deception operations used crude methods to alter images of real people, events, and objects which could usually be detected relatively easily. Today, however, computers allow propagandists to create any imaginable image, still or moving, with appropriate accompanying audio. Furthermore, it is becoming extremely difficult to detect that an image has been manipulated, and the Internet, television, and global media make it possible to disseminate altered images around the world almost instantaneously. Given that the United States is the sole superpower, few if any adversaries will attempt to fight the US military conventionally on the battlefield. Therefore, adversaries will use propaganda and deception, especially altered images, in an attempt to level the battlefield or to win a war against the United States without even having to fight militarily Propaganda and Information Warfare in the 21st Century will be of great interest to students of information war propaganda public diplomacy and security studies in general

Selected Issues in Logic and Communication Trudy Govier, 1998-06-30 Reasonable Responses Catherine E. Hundleby, 2017-01-17 This tribute to the breadth and influence of Trudy Govier's philosophical work begins with her early scholarship in argumentation theory paying special attention its pedagogical expression Most people first encounter Trudy Govier's work and many people only encounter it through her textbooks especially A Practical Study of Argument published in many editions In addition to the work on argumentation that has continued throughout her career much of Govier's later work addresses social philosophy and the problems of trust and response to moral wrongs The introduction by Catherine Hundleby situates Govier's research along the path of her unusual academic life While following the timeline of Govier's research publication in this collection the authors build on her work and suggest certain new connections between her argumentation theory and social philosophy A Practical Study of Argument first published in 1985 situates Govier among a distinct segment of informal logicians whose concerns about teaching reasoning to post secondary students orient their research Takuzo Konishi argues Moira Kloster evaluates Govier's progress in the challenge of providing critical thinking education to diverse and changing social contexts Shifting gears to social philosophy but still addressing education Laura Elizabeth Pinto explores the significance of Govier's work on trust for explaining the problem of audit culture for teaching At the centre of this volume social philosophy receives an abstract meta ethical defense from Linda Radzik Moving solidly into the domain of normative social philosophy Alice MacLachlan reconsiders Govier's condemnation of revenge by viewing it as a form of moral address but she notes how revenge as an act of communication contrasts with argumentation in lacking the respect that Govier maintains is intrinsic to argumentation MacLachlan ultimately agrees that revenge is morally indefensible The practical challenges of addressing others in the aftermath of wrongdoing especially in public contexts can make it difficult to distinguish between victims and combatants or wrongdoers Alistair Little and Wilhelm Verwoerd explain and Kathryn Norlock argues that forgiveness is psychologically vexed too People may recognize transformation to be in principle possible for all people Norlock argues and yet we may find the evidence regarding some particular evildoer sufficient to count that person as an exception Finally Govier responds to the various papers Anyone Who Has a View F.H. van Eemeren, J. Anthony Blair, Charles A. Willard, A. Francisca Snoeck Henkemans, 2012-12-06 This volume of the Argumentation Library contains a collection of twenty six theoretical contributions to the study of argumentation Together they provide an overview of recent developments in the theory of argumentation which does justice to the theoretical variety in the field In Anyone Who Has a View the subject of argumentation is approached from different angles Both the formal and informal logical approaches and the rhetorical and communicative approaches are represented in various ways We are convinced that the collection of essays as a whole will be of interest not only to those engaged directly in the study of argumentation but also to scholars from a variety of disciplines who are interested in the recent developments in this field. The book opens with an essay by the informal logician Robert C. Pinto. For all the differences between them, James B. Freeman, Harvey Siegel, Ralph H. Johnson, Hans V. Hansen, and J. Anthony Blair are also prominent members of that movement. Some informal logicians either eschew or simply do not use formal methods in their approach to argumentation, while others such as David Hitchcock use both formal and informal methods. Erik C. W. Krabbe is a logician who proudly defends a formal dialectical approach to argumentation. Daniel H. Cohen, Frans H. van Eemeren, Peter Houtlosser, Fred J. Kauffeld, C. Scott Jacobs, Christian Kock, Christian Plantin, Sorin Stati, Chris Reed, Douglas N. English as an International Language Education Ahmed Sahlane, Rosalind Pritchard, 2023-09-16. This volume provides an overview of current issues in English as an International Language (EIL) education and critical intercultural literacy pedagogy. The different chapters are inspired by critical interculturality as a decolonial project that seeks to interrogate the structures, conditions, and mechanisms of colonial power relations that still pervade our increasingly globalising postcolonial societies; they tend to perpetuate forms of discrimination such as sexism, racism, classism, heterosexism, and linguicism. Divided into five sections, this collection critically examines English Language Teaching textbooks, integration of intercultural dimensions, the promotion of intercultural literacy in teacher education programs, the management of cultural diversity in multicultural professional business and educational situations, and the decolonisation of the curriculum in various global educational and professional situations. The book presents a range of linguistic approaches as a means of examining the nature of intercultural communication pertaining in EIL varied international contexts. The chapters also reflect a wide diversity of perspectives from local contexts with global relevance and applicability. This book is an indispensable reference for business leaders, international relations stakeholders, education and linguistics students, educationists, textbook designers, teacher trainers, and researchers of language and culture, critical pedagogy, multiculturalism studies, TESOL, and English as a lingua franca (ELF).
