Memorable Negroes In Cleavelands Past:

A Ghetto Takes Shape Kenneth L. Kusmer, 1976 In 1865 the Cleveland Leader boasted that an indication of the civilized spirit of the city of Cleveland is found in the fact that colored children attend our schools colored people are permitted to attend all public lectures and public affairs where the fashion and culture of the city congregate and nobody is offended Yet by 1915 the African Americans and the Color Line in Ohio, 1915-1930 William Wayne Giffin, 2005 A study of African Americans in Ohio notably Cleveland Columbus and Cincinnati Giffin argues that the color line in Ohio hardened as the Great Migration gained force His data shows too that the color line varied according to urban area hardening progressively as one traveled South in the state The History of Black Business in America Juliet E. K. Walker, 2009 In this wide ranging study Stephen Foster explores Puritanism in England and America from its roots in the Elizabethan era to the end of the seventeenth century Focusing on Puritanism as a cultural and political phenomenon as well as a religious movement Foster addresses parallel developments on both sides of the Atlantic and firmly embeds New England Puritanism within its English context He provides not only an elaborate critique of current interpretations of Puritan ideology but also an original and insightful portrayal of its dynamism According to Foster Puritanism represented a loose and incomplete alliance of progressive Protestants lay and clerical aristocratic and humble who never decided whether they were the vanguard or the remnant Indeed in Foster's analysis changes in New England Puritanism after the first decades of settlement did not indicate secularization and decline but instead were part of a pattern of change conflict and accommodation that had begun in England He views the Puritans own claims of declension as partisan propositions in an internal controversy as old as the Puritan movement itself The result of these stresses and adaptations he argues was continued vitality in American Puritanism during the second half of the seventeenth century Foster draws insights from a broad range of sources in England and America including sermons diaries spiritual autobiographies and colony town and court records Moreover his presentation of the history of the English and American Puritan movements in tandem brings out the fatal flaws of the former as well as the modest but essential strengths of the latter Generations Past, 1988 This book is a selected list of books in the collections of the Library of Congress compiled primarily for researchers of Afro American lineages Included in this bibliography are guidebooks bibliographies genealogies collective biographies United States local histories directories and other works pertaining specifically to Afro Americans Emphasis is on books that contain information about lesser known individuals of the nineteenth century and earlier although Afro American business and city directories published through 1959 are listed Cleveland, Second Edition Carol Poh Miller, Robert Wheeler, 1997 This highly successful short history of Cleveland has now been revised and brought up to date through 1996 the bicentennial year including two new chapters and new illustrations and charts Black Pioneers of Science and Invention Louis Haber, 1991 Traces the lives of fourteen black scientists and inventors who have made significant contributions in the various fields of science and industry Cleveland William Dennis Keating, Norman Krumholz, David C. Perry, 1995 An analysis of the political economy social development and history of Cleveland from 1796 to the present As one of the oldest communities in the United States the author looks at it as a model of transformation for other industrial cities Visions of the Western Reserve Robert Anthony Wheeler, 2000 The documents range from an Indian captivity narrative to narratives of exploration to records left by a missionary to a young girl's remarkable record of growing up on the frontier to accounts by immigrants of life in a new world BOOK JACKET Carry Me Home Cuyahoga Christine Petrell Kallevig, 1996-06 Carl B. Stokes and the Rise of Black Political Power Leonard N. Moore, 2003 As the first elected black mayor of a major U S city Cleveland's Carl B Stokes embodied the transformation of the civil rights movement from a vehicle of protest to one of black political power In this wide ranging political biography Leonard N Moore examines the convictions and alliances that brought Stokes to power Impelled by the problems plaguing Cleveland's ghettos in the decades following World War II Stokes and other Clevelanders questioned how the sit ins and marches of the civil rights movement could correct the exclusionary zoning practices police brutality substandard housing and de facto school segregation that African Americans in the country's northern urban centers viewed as evidence of their oppression As civil unrest in the country's ghettos turned to violence in the 1960s Cleveland was one of the first cities to heed the call of Malcolm X's infamous The Ballot or the Bullet speech Understanding the importance of controlling the city's political system Cleveland's blacks utilized their substantial voting base to put Stokes in office in 1967 Stokes was committed to showing the country that an African American could be an effective political leader He employed an ambitious and radically progressive agenda to clean up Cleveland's ghettos reform law enforcement move public housing to middle class neighborhoods and jump start black economic power Hindered by resistance from the black middle class and the Cleveland City Council spurned by the media and fellow politicians who deemed him a black nationalist and unable to prove that black leadership could thwart black unrest Stokes finished his four years in office with many of his legislative goals unfulfilled Focusing on Stokes and Cleveland but attending to themes that affected many urban centers after the second great migration of African Americans to the North Moore balances Stokes's failures and successes to provide a thorough and engaging portrait of his life and his pioneering contributions to a distinct African American political culture that continues to shape American life Ohio and Its People George W. Knepper, 2003 The bicentennial edition of this publication has been revised and updated and includes an additional chapter which examines Ohio through to the end of the 20th century George W Knepper presents contemporary information on the national and state political arenas the economy and the environment Making a Place for Ourselves Vanessa Northington Gamble, 1995-03-23 Making a Place for Ourselves examines an important but not widely chronicled event at the intersection of African American history and American medical history the black hospital movement A practical response to the racial realities of American life the movement was a self help endeavor immediate improvement of separate medical institutions insured the advancement and health of African Americans until the slow process of integration could occur Recognizing that their careers depended on access to hospitals black physicians associated with the two leading black medical societies the National Medical Association NMA and the National Hospital Association NHA initiated the movement in the 1920s in order to upgrade the medical and education programs at black hospitals Vanessa Northington Gamble examines the activities of these physicians and those of black community organizations local and federal governments and major health care organizations She focuses on three case studies Cleveland Chicago and Tuskegee to demonstrate how the black hospital movement reflected the goals needs and divisions within the African American community and the state of American race relations Examining ideological tensions within the black community over the existence of black hospitals Gamble shows that black hospitals were essential for the professional lives of black physicians before the emergence of the civil rights movement More broadly Making a Place for Ourselves clearly and powerfully documents how issues of race and racism have affected the development of the American hospital system

Confronting the Odds Bessie House-Soremekun, 2002 An interest in the history of African American entrepreneurship has produced a number of studies of economic development on the national level but very few have examined this growth at the local level Against All Odds was written to bridge that gap Bessie House Soremekun provides a historical analysis of black entrepreneurship in Cleveland Ohio from the early 1800s to the present day Soremekun's statistical analysis of the factors that contributed to the success of African American businesses in Cleveland is supported by extensive research and her policy recommendations about how entrepreneurship could be stimulated through public and private programs are thought provoking In addition examining historical and current trends of African American entrepreneurship Soremekun presents brief biographies of several successful entrepreneurs among them best selling author George Fraser and internationally acclaimed architect Robert P Madison The book also documents the life histories of business owners who have had unsuccessful business experiences compares black male and female business owners and offers insights into why some businesses succeed while others fail Against All
