One Soldier's Memories World War II:

One Soldier's Memories Steven E. Danish, 1999-09-01 American Media and the Memory of World War II Debra Ramsay, 2015-02-11 For three generations of Americans World War II has been a touchstone for the understanding of conflict and of America's role in global affairs But if World War II helped shape the perception of war for Americans American media in turn shape the understanding and memory of World War II Concentrating on key popular films television series and digital games from the last two decades this book explores the critical influence World War II continues to exert on a generation of Americans born over thirty years after the conflict ended It explains how the war was configured in the media of the wartime generation and how it came to be repurposed by their progeny the Baby Boomers In doing so it identifies the framework underpinning the mediation of World War II memory in the current generation's media and develops a model that provides insight into the strategies of representation that shape the American perspective of war in general World War II Memory and Contested Commemorations in Europe and Russia Jennifer A. Yoder, 2024 Instrumentalization of the wartime past for political gain is the subject of this study of eleven World War II commemorations Using a comparative conceptually original approach Yoder identifies the actors who manipulate memory surrounding wartime anniversaries such as the bombing of Dresden and ceremonies to honor fallen soldiers and fascist collaborators The cases of memory contestation span three geographic regions Western Europe Eastern Europe and Russia recognizing that each developed distinctive interpretations of the war and different patterns of memory politics This empirically rich study reveals the grievances that motivate memory challengers and their strategies for shaping the commemoration discourses and rituals The memory challengers toolkit includes varieties of emotional manipulation subtle distortion revisionism and full scale denial The study finds that while there are differences in context and strategy across cases and regions there are also areas of convergence Moreover a memory challenge in one country can spill over into others with serious consequences for foreign relations While World War II Memory and Contested Commemorations in Europe and Russia deals with debates and narratives about events in the last century its focus is on power persuasion and identity in the present Postwar Soldiers Jörg Echternkamp, 2020-03-20 Contemporary historians have transformed our understanding of the German military in World War II debunking the clean Wehrmacht myth that held most soldiers innocent of wartime atrocities Considerably less attention has been paid to those soldiers at the end of hostilities In Postwar Soldiers Jörg Echternkamp analyzes three themes in the early history of West Germany interpretations of the war during its conclusion and the occupation period military veteran communities self-perceptions and the public rehabilitation of the image of the German soldier As Echternkamp shows public controversies around these topics helped to drive the social processes that legitimized the democratic postwar order Snow & Steel Peter Caddick-Adams, 2015 A new assessment of the Battle of the Bulge the largest and bloodiest battle fought by U S forces in World War II offers a balanced perspective that considers both the German and American viewpoints and discusses the failings of intelligence Hitler's strategic grasp effects of weather and influence of terrain and differences in weaponry understanding of aerial warfare and doctrine Friction, Fragmentation, and Diversity Kirsti Salmi-Niklander, Sofia Laine, Päivi Salmesvuori, Ulla Savolainen, Riikka Taavetti, 2025-10-01 This collection focuses on difficult memories and diverse identities related to conflicts and localized politics of memories The contemporary and history oriented case studies discuss politicized memories and pasts the frictions of justice and reconciliation and the diversity and fragmentation of difficult memories Friction Fragmentation and Diversity Localized Politics of European Memories brings together methodological discussions from oral history research cultural memory studies and the study of contemporary protest movements The politicization of memories is analyzed in various contexts ranging from everyday interaction and diverse cultural representations to politics of the archive and politics as legal processes The politicization of memories takes place on multiple analytical levels those inherent to the sources the ways in which the collections are utilized archived or presented and in the re evaluation of existing research U.S. Militarism and the Terrain of Memory John Bechtold, 2024-08-01 This book analyzes how the Iraqi city of Fallujah became registered as a setting for military heroics in American memory In 2004 the U S military conducted two disastrous assaults in Fallujah Iraq More than 1 000 citizens were killed and according to the military's own estimate upwards of 200 000 people were displaced because of the violence Yet despite this human catastrophe the kind of information that emerged in the public domain during the battle foregrounded the soldier's experience in war while effacing the destruction of Iraqi bodies This tendency to foreground the soldier body is a direct result of the military's intervention in what they conceptualize as the information environment This book draws from the second assault in Fallujah as a case study to explicate the military's investment in this perspectival space which is a consequence both of the mediatization of contemporary war and of the need to influence knowledge considered unfavorable to military operations In short the military enlists the media in their targeting process to produce information that is then deployed as persuasive force to modify the beliefs of specific target populations When the cultural texts produced by the media are remediated in the public domain after war they can be thought of as martial constructs because they originated during war through the military's systemized attempt to influence knowledge That is these texts trace to a specific battlefield objective This book reframes the notion of propaganda as a generalized public relations strategy into a more acute and coordinated attempt to decontextualize specific knowledge in the information environment This book will be of much interest to students of media and communication studies war studies memory studies and international relations Memory, War and Trauma Nigel C. Hunt, 2010-05-13 Many millions of people are affected by the trauma of war Psychologists have a good understanding of how experiences of war impact on memory but the significance of external environmental influences is often disregarded Memory War and Trauma focuses on our understanding of the psychosocial impact of war in its broadest sense Nigel C Hunt argues that in order to understand war trauma it is critical to develop an understanding not only of the individual perspective but also of how societal and cultural factors impact on the outcome of an individual's experience. This is a compelling book which helps to demonstrate why some people suffer from post-traumatic stress while other people don't and how narrative understanding is important to the healing process. Its multidisciplinary perspective will enable a deeper understanding of both individual traumatic stress and the structures of memory.

Japanese Army Stragglers and Memories of the War in Japan, 1950-75 Beatrice Trefalt, 2013-01-11 This book charts comprehensively the various discoveries in Southeast Asia and the Pacific of Japanese soldiers still fighting the Second World War many years after it had ended. It explores their return to Japan and their impact on the Japanese people, revealing changing attitudes to war veterans and war casualties, families as well as the ambivalence of memories of the war.

Contested and Shared Places of Memory Jorg Hackmann, Marko Lehti, 2013-09-13 The Baltic Russian debates on the past have become a hot spot of European memory politics. Violent protests and international tensions accompanying the removal of the Bronze Soldier monument which commemorated the Soviet liberation of Tallinn in 1944 from the city centre in April 2007 have demonstrated the political impact that contested sites of memory may still reveal. In this publication, collective memories that are related to major traits of the 20th century in North Eastern Europe, the Holocaust, Nazi and Soviet occupation and re-emerging nationalisms are examined through a prism of different approaches. They comprise reflections on national templates of collective memory, the political use of history, cultural and political aspects of war memorials and recent discourses on the Holocaust. Furthermore, places of memory in architecture and urbanism are addressed and lead to the question of which prospects common transnational forms of memory may unfold. After decades of frozen forms of commemoration under Soviet hegemony, the Baltic case offers an interesting insight into collective memory and history politics and their linkage to current political and inter-ethnic relationships. The past seems to be remembered differently in the European peripheries than it is in its centre. Europe is diverse and so are its memories. This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Baltic Studies.

Austrian Historical Memory and National Identity Gunter Bischof, 2017-11-30 When the Hapsburg monarchy disintegrated after World War I, Austria was not considered to be a viable entity. In a vacuum of national identity, the hapless country drifted toward a larger Germany. After World War II, Austrian elites constructed a new identity based on being a victim of Nazi Germany. Cold war Austria, however, envisioned herself as a neutral island, blessed between and separate from both superpower blocs. Now, with her membership in the European Union secured, Austria is reconstructing her painful historical memory and national identity. In 1996, she celebrates her 1000-year anniversary. In this volume of Contemporary Austrian Studies, Franz Mathis and Brigitte Mazohl Wallnig argue that regional identities in Austria have deeper historical roots than the many artificial and ineffective attempts to construct a national identity. Heidemarie Uhl, Anton Pelinka, and Brigitte Bailer discuss the post-World War II construction of the victim mythology. Robert Herzstein analyses the crucial impact of the 1986 Waldheim election imploding Austria's comforting historical memory as a nation of victims. Wolfram Kaiser shows Austria's difficult adjustments to the European Union and the larger challenges of constructing a new European identity Chad Berry's analysis of American World War II memory establishes a useful counterpoint to construction of historical memory in a different national context A special forum on Austrian intelligence studies presents a fascinating reconstruction by Timothy Naftali of the investigation by Anglo American counterintelligence into the retreat of Hitler's troops into the Alps during World War II Rudiger Overmans research note presents statistics on lower death rates of Austrian soldiers in the German army Review essays by Gunther Kronenbitter and Gunter Bischof book reviews and a 1995 survey of Austrian politics round out the volume Austrian Historical Memory and National Identity will be of intense interest to foreign policy analysts historians and scholars concerned with the unique elements of identity and nationality in Central European politics

Memory, Politics, and Yugoslav Migrations to Postwar Germany Christopher A. Molnar, 2019-01-11 This historical study persuasively links the reception of Yugoslav migrants to West Germany's shifting relationship to the Nazi past essential reading Tara Zahra author of The Great Departure During Europe's 2015 refugee crisis more than a hundred thousand asylum seekers from the western Balkans sought refuge in Germany This was nothing new however Immigrants from the Balkans have streamed into West Germany in massive numbers since the end of the Second World War In fact Yugoslavs became the country's second largest immigrant group Yet their impact has received little critical attention until now Memory Politics and Yugoslav Migrations to Postwar Germany tells the story of how Germans received the many thousands of Yugoslavs who migrated to Germany as political emigres labor migrants asylum seekers and war refugees from 1945 to the mid 1990s With a particular focus on German policies and attitudes toward immigrants Christopher Molnar argues that considerations of race played only a marginal role in German attitudes and policies towards Yugoslavs Rather the history of Yugoslavs in postwar Germany was most profoundly shaped by the memory of World War II and the shifting Cold War context Molnar shows how immigration was a central aspect of how Germany negotiated the meaning and legacy of the war

Shared History, Divided Memory Elazar Barkan, Elizabeth A. Cole, Kai Struve, 2007 Memory, Identity, and Commemorations of World War II Mike Mochizuki, Daqing Yang, 2018-04-11 Why do some governments and societies attach great significance to a particular anniversary year whereas others seem less inclined to do so What motivates the orchestration of elaborate commemorative activities in some countries What are they supposed to accomplish for both domestic and international audience In what ways do commemorations in Asia Pacific fit into the global memory culture of war commemoration In what ways are these commemorations intertwined with current international politics This book presents the first large scale analysis of how countries in the Asia Pacific and beyond commemorated the seventieth anniversaries of the end of World War II Consisting of in depth case studies of China Taiwan Korea Japan Singapore the Philippines United States Russia and Germany this unique collective effort demonstrates how memories of the past as reflected in public commemorations and contemporary politics both internal and international profoundly affect each other

Professional Journal of the United States Army ,2009-12 US Public Memory, Rhetoric, and the National Mall Roger C. Aden,2018-04-26 US Public Memory Rhetoric and the National Mall examines the nation s front yard understanding it as both a public face the United States presents to the world and a site where its less apparent moral story is told This book provides a uniquely thorough interdisciplinary and integrated examination of how the National Mall shares a moral story of the United States and in so doing reveals the soul of the nation The contributors explore 11 different memorials monuments and museums found across the Mall considering how each rhetorically remembers a key element of the nation s past what the rhetorical memory tells us about the nation s soul and how each site must thus be understood in relation to the commemorative landscape of the Mall Congressional Record United States. Memory Michael Dolski,Sam Edwards,John Buckley,2014-03-15 Over the past sixty five years the Allied invasion of Northwestern France in June 1944 known as D Day has come to stand as something more than a major battle The assault itself formed a vital component of Allied victory in the Second World War D Day developed into a sign and symbol as a word it carries with it a series of ideas and associations that have come to symbolize different things to different people and nations As such the commemorative activities linked to the battle offer a window for viewing the various belligerents in their postwar years This book examines the commonalities and differences in national collective memories of D Day Chapters cover the main forces on the day of battle including the United States Great Britain Canada France and Germany In addition a chapter on Russian memory of the invasion explores other views of the battle The overall thrust of the book shows that memories of the past vary over time link to present day needs and also still have a clear national and cultural specificity These memories arise in a multitude of locations such as film books monuments anniversary celebrations and news media representations
