One Hundred And Fifty Years Of Irish Railways:

One Hundred and Fifty Years of Irish Railways Fergus Mulligan, 1990-10 In the Tracks of the West Clare Railway Edmund Lenihan, 2008 Although trains are unlikely to ever again run between Ennis and Kilkee the legend of this little branch line of the southern railway system will live on as long as there are people who look back fondly on the past Anyone with even a superficial acquaintance with Clare will know what a wealth of varied scenery it contains together with abundant archaeological sites and historical remains spanning over 5 000 years of human habitation Not least of these are the earthworks of the West and South Clare Railways Eddie Lenihan believes that a time will come when parts of these lines will be preserved as national monuments but until that happens their destruction will continue For what was a railway is now a disjointed succession of pieces linking not just places but in a way two worlds one unhurried and traditional the other brash frenzied and modern In the Tracks of the West Clare Railway paints an evocative picture of a time when the railway breathed life into West Clare

Lost Railway Journeys from Around the World Anthony Lambert, 2018-11-13 From the great cathedral like railways stations of the steam age to obscure lines built through spectacular landscapes to open up countries before the advent of motorised road transport this book is a celebration of our lost railway heritage and the lines that can no longer be travelled Through stunning images Lost Railway Journeys from Around the World evokes the romance and drama of these journeys taking the reader as close as they can possibly get to this lost world of dining cars sleeping cars station porters and international rail travel Organised by continent all of these routes have stories to tell and the lost journeys are captured in the old postcards and posters that accompany photographs drawn from collections and archives across the world

A New History of Ireland Theodore William Moody, Francis X. Martin, Francis John Byrne, 1976 A New History of Ireland in nine volumes provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the middleages down to the present day Back cover

Fifty Years of Railway Life in England, Scotland and Ireland Joseph Tatlow, 1920 The Horse in Early Modern English Culture Kevin De Ornellas, 2013-11-18 Kevin De Ornellas argues that in Renaissance England the relationship between horse and rider works as an unambiguous symbol of domination by the strong over the weak There was little sentimental concern for animal welfare leading to the routine abuse of the material animal This unproblematic practical exploitation of the horse led to the currency of the horse rider relationship as a trope or symbol of exploitation in the literature of the period Engaging with fiction plays poems and non fictional prose works of late Tudor and early Stuart England De Ornellas demonstrates that the horse a bridled unwilling slave becomes a yardstick against which the oppression of England s poor women increasingly uninfluential clergyman and deluded gamblers is measured The status of the bitted harnessed horse was a low one in early modern England to be compared to such a beast is a demonstration of inferiority and subjugation To think anything else is to be na ve about the realities of horse management in the period and is to be na ve

about the realities of the exploitation of horses and other mammals in the present day world The Demographic Imagination and the Nineteenth-Century City Nicholas Daly,2015-03-30 Provocative account exploring how a population explosion transformed nineteenth century European and American culture creating shared narratives of urban life A New History of Ireland Volume VII J. Butler,2021-09-01 This interdisciplinary collection focuses on the history of the future and in particular how Irish people in the nineteenth century thought about their future in many different ways and contexts It spans the long nineteenth century from c 1800 to c 1914 and includes both people living on the island of Ireland and the Irish abroad women and men the religious and the secular the governing and the governed It explores both individually and collectively the various hopes dreams fears and visions of the future that permeated through nineteenth century Ireland and Irish life The collection also analyses how the Irish future was conceptualized and understood in different cultural contexts how visions of the future shifted in relation to the present and the past and how the future was instrumentalized for political religious or other social agendas It attempts to go beyond the usual political or religious discourses on what the future might hold for Irish people and consider a broader spectrum of witnesses from a mixture of historical and literary sources CONTRIBUTORS Patrick Bethel Richard J Butler Pauline Collombier Lakeman Sophie Cooper Catherine Healy Peter Hession Rapha l Ingelbien Jim Kelly Fiona Lyons Aoife O Leary McNeice Patrick Maume Christopher P Morash Loughlin J Sweeney The Gentleman's Magazine, and Historical Chronicle, for the Year ... ,1846 The New-York Quarterly ,1854 New-York Quarterly Magazine ,1854 Railway Locomotives and Cars ,1843 Railway Mechanical and Electrical Engineer ,1834 The History of Galway Sean Spellissy,1999 Railway Adventures and Anecdotes: Extending Over More Than Fifty Years Richard Pike,1884 Railway and Marine News ,1929 The Railway Magazine ,1911 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2000
