Dostoevsky's Unfinished Journey Robin Feuer Miller, Professor Robin Feuer Miller, 2007-01-01 How does Dostoevsky's fiction illuminate questions that are important to us today? What does the author have to say about memory and invention the nature of evidence and why we read? How did his readings of such writers as Rousseau, Maupassant and Dickens filter into his own novelistic consciousness? And what happens to a novel like Crime and Punishment when it is the subject of a classroom discussion or a conversation? In this original and wide ranging book Dostoevsky scholar Robin Feuer Miller approaches the author's major works from a variety of angles and offers a new set of keys to understanding Dostoevsky's world. Taking Dostoevsky's own conversion as her point of departure Miller explores themes of conversion and healing in his fiction where spiritual and artistic transfigurations abound. She also addresses questions of literary influence, intertextuality and the potency of what the author termed ideas in the air. For readers new to Dostoevsky's writings as well as those deeply familiar with them Miller offers lucid insights into his works and into their continuing power to engage readers in our own times.

My Journey Home Mette Christensen, 2014-01-20 I initially wrote this book to retrieve my voice and it took on a life of its own. There are so many people that are struggling with their emotions and finding their voice. They have no understanding why their life is crumbling all around them. By sharing my story it is my hope that you will find the courage to go within and throw off the shackles of pain and suffering to stand tall in the full glory of your essence, the love that you are and to retrieve your voice. To live in and from the peace, joy, grace and power that is your essence is what we are here to be and do. We are the one that we have been waiting for. If my story opens the door for just one person to find the peace and love they have been yearning for it would have been worth everything. Life's journeys are great adventures for all of us. But if we were really lucky some of them take us beyond anything we might have imagined. Mette Christensen's journey is surely one of those. We're fortunate indeed to have her share it. George Greene PhD I believe fervently in being the change that I want to see. It all starts with us as individuals. This book is about one amazing woman's journey through a lifetime and how it can transcend for all of us. It just starts from within you. It is filled with key reminders of
