Inside Assisted Living J. Kevin Eckert, Paula C. Carder, Leslie A. Morgan, Ann Christine Frankowski, Erin G. Roth, 2009-06-15 Assisted living is the fastest growing alternative to skilled nursing care for frail older persons in the United States The expectations settings and missions of these residences are varied making it difficult for prospective residents and their families to anticipate what it would be like to live in them This book is a unique portal into the real world of assisted living and the key issues facing consumers providers and policy makers Drawing on in depth interviews with residents their family members staffers and administrators Inside Assisted Living opens the window on day to day life in six different types of assisted living residence From Miss Helen at Valley Glen Home to Mr Sidney at Laurel Ridge the detailed profiles of individuals show the commonalities among the residences while highlighting the positive and negative aspects of each The voices of those living visiting and working in the homes clarify the important local social relations staff dynamics leadership and national funding regulation aging in place challenges presented by assisted living Introductory and concluding chapters synthesize new findings that cross the six settings and reflect issues vital to all participants The book also features an appendix detailing the research process involved in creating the profiles

Humanistic Design of Assisted Living John P. Marsden, 2005-05-13 Marsden provides an overview of assisted living s evolution and then addresses the current information resources available to designers drawing on consumer based research he discusses successful humanistic design and presents a conceptual framework with six themes familiar housing cues protective enclosure caring cues human scale usability and naturalness He applies this framework to specific guidelines for building exteriors interior entries and common living rooms and dining rooms His recommendations are supported by photographs that demonstrate effective design strategies as well as some less successful examples This book presents essential design guidelines for housing owners operators administrators policy makers gerontologists interior designers and architects

BOOK JACKET The Assisted Living Residence Stephen M. Golant, Joan Hyde, 2008-07-14 Wolf Margaret A Wylde Jack York Sheryl Zimmerman Environmental Gerontology Graham D. Rowles, PhD, Miriam Bernard, PhD, 2013 This book addresses issues on both sides of the Atlantic examines the theoretical underpinnings of environmental gerontology and provides useful practical applications and guiding principles Recommended Choice Current Reviews for Academic Libraries

The environments in which people live out their later lives have a strong impact on their identity and provide opportunities for nourishing social interactions This volume translates the insights derived from contemporary research on residential environments and public spaces that enhance well being into practical recommendations for the design of such beneficial community environments The text is grounded in the conceptual and theoretical underpinnings of current research on place attachment environmental meaning and community living in later life Emphasis is placed on how to design residential spaces that facilitate the development of a sense of place or home and investigation is made into the kinds of lifestyles such spaces foster and support A major theme pervading the text is the juxtaposition of private and public space The book also addresses such themes as the transformation of spaces into places of personal identification and attachment the need for shared intergenerational spaces and consideration of diverse populations when designing public spaces The book also considers how emerging public policy agendas affect the development and management of environments for the elderly

Environmental Gerontology includes the contributions of scholars in anthropology architecture economics education geography gerontology planning psychology sociology and numerous health sciences who hail from North America Europe and Asia With its strong interdisciplinary focus this text offers innovative and judicious recommendations for the creation of community environments that are truly beneficial for older adults

Key Features Provides an up to date synthesis of the latest research on the meaning of place to older people and its relationship to well being Offers fresh insight and critical perspectives on community planning and environmental design Considers private residences retirement communities long term care facilities and public and private community spaces Includes guiding principles for environmental design and practice relevant to the documented needs of older people Synthesizes contributions from international scholars in many disciplines

The Many Faces of Health, Competence and Well-Being in Old Age Hans-Werner Wahl, Herrmann Brenner, Heidrun Mollenkopf, Dietrich Rothenbacher, Christoph Rott, 2006-01-09 The main aim of the book is to provide an interdisciplinary treatment of a set of key issues of current ageing research i e health competence and well being These key issues are addressed based on three converging research streams social ecological research which assumes that major processes and outcomes of ageing such as day to day competence are shaped by social and physical spatial environments geropsychology research which is driven by a life span developmental conception of ageing and epidemiology which offers most fundamental disease function and prevention related data Each of the three major research directions are outlined by a short introduction followed by three chapters treating in an empirical manner most recent key research questions All chapters are then also discussed by renowned ageing experts This volume links ageing research with policy considerations and implications and establishes a link between European research and the knowledge base of the international scientific community concerned with ageing This book will be of great interest to scholars and graduate students in ageing research in the social and behavioural field as well as in epidemiology geriatrics geropsychiatry demography and biogerontology Ageing with Dignity in Hong Kong and Asia Vincent Tin Sing Law, Ben Yuk Fai Fong, 2022-09-12 This book advocates the application of holistic and humanistic approaches in elderly care and services to achieve the goal of ageing with dignity in Hong Kong and Asia It responds to the needs of an increasing ageing population that has to deal with related health needs in long term care community health and social services particularly for chronic conditions and psychosocial support The book consists of three sections on policy and development of aged care holistic and humanistic care for older adults and capacity building for ageing with dignity respectively Topics include the latest initiatives in aged care appropriate services and delivery models lifestyle modification psychosocial and environmental considerations professional development technologies and social capital The chapters review and discuss these issues within a global context illustrated by examples from Asian countries underpinned by locally based empirical research Contributors include academics and practitioners from diversified professional backgrounds that include medicine nursing pharmacy traditional Chinese medicine dietetics and allied health The book traverses into territories in the social sciences life sciences and sports sciences while also touching on areas of business and administration hospitality law public policy and information technology in connection with public health The contents serve as a topical reference for tertiary studies in ageing and related disciplines such as well being and are also useful to policymakers community and public health practitioners health executives and interns working in areas of policy and practice pertinent to care development health delivery models planning quality ethics better health promotion professional training and monitoring for older adults Aging and Development Peter G. Coleman, Ann O'Hanlon, 2017-02-03 The psychology of aging usually focuses upon cognitive changes with a particular focus on dementia and other forms of cognitive decline But getting older is about more than simply changes to the brain and related health issues Changes to our social and emotional lives are also hugely significant as we adapt across our lifespan The second edition of Aging and Development is the only textbook available that responds to the growing interest in social personal and emotional development in older age Ideally suited to complement texts on cognitive change the book provides a holistic developmental perspective on aging It highlights a range of issues including the development of personal meaning and spirituality improvements in emotional control uses of reminiscence and life review the importance of healthy attitudes to aging as well as the maintenance of close personal relationships It does not avoid the difficult issues of late life decline but illustrates how even in circumstances of physical and mental frailty a positive sense of self can be created and enhanced Fully updated to provide the most cutting edge overview on this burgeoning topic of interest Aging and Development includes a glossary and list of useful websites both on the study of gerontology and the psychology of aging It will be essential reading for all students of developmental psychology as well as anyone either training to work or already working with older people
