Esters, Amie Patchen, Isha DeCoito, Neil Knobloch, 2021-07-27 This book will fill a void in the literature around research and program design and the impact of such experiences on learning outcomes within urban agricultural contexts In particular this book will cover topics such as STEM integration science learning student engagement learning gardens and curriculum design

Learning Gardens and Sustainability Education Dilafruz Williams, Jonathan Brown, 2013-05-13 Offering a fresh approach to bringing life to schools and schools to life this book goes beyond touting the benefits of learning gardens to survey them as a whole systems design solution with potential to address myriad interrelated social ecological and educational issues The theoretical and conceptual framework presented creatively places soil at the center of the discourse on sustainability education and learning garden design and pedagogy Seven elements and attributes of living soil and learning gardens are presented as a guide for sustainability education cultivating a sense of place fostering curiosity and wonder discovering rhythm and scale valuing biocultural diversity embracing practical experience nurturing interconnectedness The living soil of learning gardens forms the basis of a new metaphoric language serving to contest dominant mechanistic metaphors presently influencing educational discourse Student voices and examples from urban schools provide practical understanding of how bringing life to schools can indeed bring schools to life

Science in the Making at the Margin Jrene

Rahm,2010-01-01 We know little about diverse youths engagement in science outside of school the form such engagement takes and its impact on science literacy development and identity as a potential insider to science We need to know more about why how and for whom out of school settings make a difference Science in the Making at the Margin offers some answers through an in depth and theoretically well grounded multisited ethnography of three very different out of school settings an afterschool program for girls only a youth garden program and a Math and Science Upward Bound Program Grounded in sociocultural historical theory this book explores youths meaning making of science and co constructions of new levels of understandings of science as well as how they come to position themselves in relation to science through participation in science practices at the margin The author highlights the multiplicity of learning becoming and hybridity that constitute the learning of science in the three sites studied Her analysis suggests that most youth position themselves as science users as youth who are creating with and learning through science with others in textually rich environments and situations and in ways that are meaningful to them Their identity as users of science is grounded in the forms of engagement supported by the three science practices The challenge is then to leverage such literacy beyond the practices themselves

Culturally Affirming Literacy Practices for Urban Elementary Students Lakia M. Scott,Barbara

Purdum-Cassidy,2016-08-17 The nation s demographic of public schools are more ethnically racially and linguistically diverse than ever before Strauss 2014 However there are still educational policies and practices that call to question whether traditionally marginalized students receive an equitable education This is demonstrated in national achievement trends which highlight disproportionality ratings among minoritized student groups Also when examining school discipline policies expulsion ratings special education services and school choice movements all seem to handicap educational opportunity for low income Black and Brown students As American schools become more and more diverse it is imperative that the literacy practices used to teach young students of color reflect the nation s changing demographic This book provides practical insights guided by conceptual and contextual knowledge in understanding how to teach urban African American and Hispanic Latino a students by discussing issues associated with critical pedagogies literacy and culturally appropriate instructional strategies that have demonstrated success for traditionally marginalized student populations This book examines culturally affirming literacy practices from three main components 1 scholarship 2 the field of practice and 3

teacher education models Each of these three are significant in understanding how to teach minoritized populations As such chapters have been organized into three main sections that address scholarship and research trends in the field and implications for teacher education models all in order to advance the literacy achievement of African American and Hispanic Latino a students

Collecting and Interpreting Qualitative Materials Norman K. Denzin, Yvonna S. Lincoln, 2012-10-24 This book is the third of three paperback volumes taken from The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research Fourth Edition It introduces the researcher to basic methods of gathering analyzing and interpreting qualitative empirical materials Part 1 moves from narrative inquiry to critical arts based inquiry to oral history observations visual methodologies and autoethnographic methods It then takes up analysis methods including computer assisted methodologies focus groups as well as strategies for analyzing talk and text The chapters in Part II discuss evidence interpretive adequacy forms of representation post qualitative inquiry the new information technologies and research the politics of evidence writing and evaluation practices

Children, Place and Sustainability Margaret Somerville, Monica Green, 2016-04-29 Through focusing on children s sustainability learning this book examines how school education can address the current environmental problems It explores children s responses in literacy and language arts based approaches and indigenous studies as well as scientific pedagogies to provide a unique insight into how children learn
