Pure And Untouched:

Pure and Untouched Barbara Cartland,1999 Write in Tune: Contemporary Music in Fiction Erich Hertz,Jeffrey Roessner,2014-05-22 Contemporary popular music provides the soundtrack for a host of recent novels but little critical attention has been paid to the intersection of these important art forms Write in Tune addresses this gap by offering the first full length study of the relationship between recent music and fiction With essays from an array of international scholars the collection focuses on how writers weave rock punk and jazz into their narratives both to develop characters and themes and to investigate various fan and celebrity cultures surrounding contemporary music Write in Tune covers major writers from America and England including Don DeLillo Jonathan Franzen Zadie Smith and Jim Crace But it also explores how popular music culture is reflected in postcolonial Latino and Australian fiction Ultimately the book brings critical awareness to the power of music in shaping contemporary culture and offers new perspectives on central issues of gender race and national identity

Environment and Tourism Andrew Holden,2016-04-25 The global demand for tourism continues to increase as economic growth creates opportunities for its consumption as a lifestyle option across cultures The spatial reach of recreational tourism into remoter environments reflects a desire to reconnect to nature that is partially created by the global trend toward urbanisation At the same time anthropogenic created environmental problems have led us to re evaluate our relationship to nature and the values that are held by the environment This third edition of Environment and Tourism incorporates additional material on environmental philosophies and ontologies of nature and how these influence our understanding of tourism s relationship with the natural environment In an epoch representing a critical juncture for the future well being of the planet based on our relationship to nature the text has been updated to reflect the growth in significance of the interaction between tourism and the natural environment as a part of this discourse It communicates a range of key conceptual debates on the ethics and economics of the consuming nature for tourism and relates these to real world examples whilst evaluating environmental planning and management responses The book seeks to highlight the relevance of the significance of tourism for nature within the framework of society as a system of inter connected places across space and time exploring the relationship of the environments of where tourists come from with the ones that they travel to The updated features include new chapters on philosophies and constructs of the environment environmental ethics and tourist consumption an extensive range of international case studies used to illustrate the theoretical ideas presented boxes offering bite sized insights and think points designed to encourage students to further engage with the topics discussed Environment and Tourism emphasises a holistic view of the tourism system and how it interacts with nature illustrating the positive and negative effects of this relationship It emphasises how ontologies of the environment influence the planning and management of tourism for natural resource conservation and human development It is an invaluable tool for anyone studying Human Geography Tourism and Environmental Studies as well as for policy makers and consultants working in the field of tourism development , Marion and Derrida on The Gift and Desire: Debating the Generosity of Things Jason Alvis, 2016-01-13 This book examines the various encounters between Jean Luc Marion and Jacques Derrida on the gift considers their many differences on desire and demonstrates how these topics hold the keys to some of phenomenology's most pressing structural questions especially regarding deconstructive approaches within the field The book claims that the topic of desire is a central lynchpin to understanding the two thinkers conflict over the gift for the gift is reducible to the desire to give which initiates a turn to the topic of generosity To what degree might loving also imply giving How far might it be suggested that love is reducible to desire and intentionality It is demonstrated how Derrida the generative father of deconstruction rejects the possibility of any potential relation between the gift and desire on the account that desire is bound to calculative repetition economical appropriation and subject centered interests that hinder deconstruction Whereas Marion a representative of the phenomenological tradition demands a unique union between the gift and desire which are both represented in his reduction to givenness and erotic reduction The book is the first extensive attempt to contextualize the stark differences between Marion and Derrida within the phenomenological legacy Husserl Heidegger Kant supplies readers with in depth accounts of the topics of the gift love and desire and demonstrates another means through which the appearing of phenomena might be understood namely according to the generosity of things
