Latin America's Potential in Nation Branding: A closer look at Brazil's, Chile's and Colombia's practices Eva Niesing, 2013-09-27 In the globalized world of today a well elaborated long term oriented nation branding strategy can help nations to improve and to better control of their nation image Nation branding activities increase the countries competitiveness in the global marketplace and help to foster the tourism arrivals inward foreign direct investment flows and exports and further they help to attract talented workforce and students Despite its growing importance most Latin American countries still have not engaged enough in the area of nation branding and mostly only focus their activities on the tourism promotion The region's countries have a good image regarding soft factors such as their people and tourism attractions but have a weak image regarding their products and investment opportunities Brazil has a relatively good nation image in many dimensions but still has not developed an extensive nation branding strategy Chile and Colombia are among the Latin American countries which have started to conduct more complete nation branding activities Although such advances can be observed there is still a lot of improvement potential in the nation branding practices of Latin American countries

Brazilian Bulletin, 1965 Brazil International Monetary Fund. Western Hemisphere Dept., 2013-10-23 This Selected Issues paper analyzes pace of economic growth for Brazil Moderating activity and stubbornly elevated inflation since 2010 have led to a reevaluation of Brazil's long term potential growth rate Growth accounting suggests that potential growth is probably lower than was widely assumed in recent years and now stands at about 31.2 percent The demographic dividend of a rapidly expanding labor force is fading and further structural declines in unemployment are likely to be limited Potential growth will rely more on the pace of capital deepening and productivity growth Lifting both may require successful implementation of the infrastructure investment program higher domestic saving and structural reforms

FCO from its efforts to promote a stronger bilateral relationship between the UK and Brazil The rise of Brazil as a world power represents an opportunity for the UK not a threat and the FCO is correct to identify Brazil's potential to be a good news story for the UK The UK has taken the correct preliminary steps to strengthen the bilateral relationship The UK's support for permanent Brazilian membership of the UN Security Council as part of a wider UN reform is to be particularly welcomed Brazil as a developing democratic country can play a vital role in representing the global South The Government must maintain its efforts in this area As Brazil increasingly accepts the global leadership role that its growing economy will bring it will play a key role in the promotion of UK national interests such as energy security the trade in narcotics and the maintenance of the environment while the commercial opportunity that Brazil represents is a vital plank of the Government's ambition to increase trade overseas The turning away of a Royal Navy vessel is a serious matter The committee regrets that Brazil felt the need to refuse docking permission to HMS Clyde in January this year and further regrets a general hardening of Brazil's position towards the Falklands The committee is pressing for answers from the FCO as to how this situation was allowed to develop
