and political conditions Over a period of nearly twenty years Farha Ghannam lived and conducted research in al Zawiya a low income neighborhood not far from Tahrir Square in northern Cairo Detailing her daily encounters and ongoing interviews she develops life stories that reveal the everyday practices and struggles of the neighborhood over the years We meet Hiba and her husband as they celebrate the birth of their first son and begin to teach him how to become a man Samer a forty year old man trying to find a suitable wife Abu Hosni who struggled with different illnesses and other local men and women who share their reactions to the uprising and the changing situation in Egypt Against this backdrop of individual experiences Ghannam develops the concept of masculine trajectories to account for the various paths men can take to embody social norms In showing how men work to realize a male ideal she counters the prevalent dehumanizing stereotypes of Middle Eastern men all too frequently reproduced in media reports and opens new spaces for rethinking patriarchal structures and their constraining effects on both men and women Praise for Live and Die Like a Man In a book that lives up to its name anthropologist Ghannam explores what it means to be a man Her thick descriptions amassed over 20 years of research will make readers laugh cry and gasp at the lives of these individuals By examining the construct of manhood Ghannam is charting new territory in Middle Eastern studies Summing Up Highly recommended CHOICE With its focus on masculinity Farha Ghannam s thoughtful ethnography Live and Die Like a Man makes important interventions into the anthropological scholarship on gender childhood and family in the Middle East Her ethnographic sensibility perfectly grasps the dynamic and complex intertwining of male and female ways of being and self presentation and how that interrelationship forms men s lives International Journal of Middle East Studies Fitness Doping Jesper Andreasson, Thomas Johansson, 2019-06-25 This book compiles several years of multi faceted qualitative research on fitness doping to provide a fresh insight into how the growing phenomenon intersects with issues of gender body and health in contemporary society Drawing on biographical interviews as well as online and offline ethnography Andreasson and Johansson analyse how in the context of the global development of gym and fitness culture particular doping trajectories are formulated and users come into contact with doping They also explore users internalisation of particular values practices and communications and analyse how this influences understandings of the self health gender and the body as well as tying this into wider beliefs regarding individual freedom and the law This insight into doping goes beyond elite and organised sports and will be of interest to students and scholars across the sociology of sport leisure studies and gender and body politics Men and Masculinities in Christianity and Judaism Bjorn Krondorfer, 2013-02-12 Bjorn Krondorfer one of the leading scholars in this field has collected 35 key texts that have shaped this field within the wider area of the study of gender religion and culture The texts in this critical reader engage actively and critically with the position of men in society and church men s privileged relation to the sacred and to religious authority the ideals of masculinity as engendered by religious discourse and alternative trajectories of being in the world whether spiritually relationally or sexually Each of the texts is introduced by the editor and accompanied by
