Die deutsche Literatur des 20. Jahrhunderts Hermann Wiegmann, 2005 Phantoms of War in Contemporary German Literature, Films and Discourse A. Fuchs, 2008-01-09 Phantoms of War in Contemporary German Literature Films and Discourse offers an up to date and comprehensive analysis of fundamental shifts in German cultural memory Focusing on the resurgence of family stories in fiction autobiography and in film this study challenges the institutional boundaries of Germany s memory culture that have guided and arguably limited German identity debates Essays on contemporary German literature are complemented by explorations of heritage films and museum discourse Together these essays put forward a compelling theory of family narratives and a critical evaluation of generational discourse Generational Shifts in Contemporary German Culture Laurel Cohen-Pfister, Susanne Vees-Gulani, 2010 The concept of the generation in today s German culture and literature and its role in German identity In the debates since 1945 on German history and culture the concept of generations has become ever more prominent Recent and ongoing shifts in how the various generations are seen and see themselves in relation to history and to each other have taken on key importance in contemporary German cultural studies The seismic events of twentieth century German history are no longer solely first generational lived experiences but are also historical moments seen through the eyes of successor generations The generation seen as a category of memory thus holds a key to major shifts in German identity The changing generational perspectives of German writers and filmmakers not only reflect but also influence these trends exposing both the expected differences between generational views and unexpected continuities Moreover as younger artists reframe recent history older generations like the 1968ers are also contributing to these shifts by reassessing their own experiences and cultural contributions This volume of new essays applies current discourse on generations in German culture to contemporary works dealing with major sociohistorical events since the Nazi period Contributors Svea Br unert Laurel Cohen Pfister Friederike Eigler Thomas C Fox Katharina Gerstenberger Erin McGlothlin Brad Prager Ilka Rasch Susanne Rinner Caroline Schaumann Maria Stehle Reinhild Steingr ver Susanne Vees Gulani Laurel Cohen Pfister is Associate Professor of German at Gettysburg College and Susanne Vees Gulani is Assistant Professor of German and Comparative Literature at Case Western Reserve University

Textual Responses to German Unification Carol Anne Costabile-Heming, Rachel J. Halverson, Kristie A. Foell, 2013-07-05 The unification of the two German states changed the geo political economic social and cultural borders of Germany and Europe This volume in three parts researches how East German and West German authors and directors reacted to these radical changes The basis of this research are fictional autobiographical journalistic and cinematic texts The authors and directors presented in this volume not only comment on the changes which they themselves experienced but also voice their changing attitudes to their own past within the divided Germany

Contemporary Italian Women Writers and Traces of the Fantastic Danielle Hipkins, 2017-12-02 Contemporary fantastic fiction particularly that written by women often challenges traditional literary practice At the same time the predominantly male authored canon of fantastic literature offers a problematic range of gender stereotypes for female authors to re write Fantastic tropes of space in particular enable three important contemporary Italian female writers Paola Capriolo b 1962 Francesca Duranti b 1935 and Rossana Ombres b 1931 to encounter and counter anxieties about writing from the female subject All three writers begin by exploring the hermetic fantastic space of enclosure with a critical or troubled eye but eventually opt for wider national and often international spaces in which only a fantastic trace remains This shift mirrors their own increasingly confident distance from male authored literary models and demonstrates the creative input that these writers bring to the literary canon by redefining its generic boundaries

Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history anthropology testimonies and the representation of life stories in non verbal art forms Twenty Years on Renate Reichtien,Dennis Tate,2011 Twenty years on from the dramatic events that led to the opening of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of the GDR the subjective dimension of German unification is still far from complete The nature of the East German state remains a matter of cultural as well as political debate This volume of new research focuses on competing memories of the GDR and the ways they have evolved in the mass media literature and film since 1989 90 Taking as its point of departure the impact of iconic visual images of the fall of the Wall on our understanding of the historical GDR the volume first considers the decade of cultural conflict that followed unification and then the emergence of a more complex and diverse textual memory of the GDR since the Berlin Republic was established in 1999 It highlights competing generational perspectives on the GDR era and the unexpected afterlife of the GDR in recent publications The volume as a whole shows the vitality of eastern German culture two decades after the demise of the GDR and the centrality of these memory debates to the success of Germany s unification process Conceptions of Postwar German Masculinity Roy Jerome,2001-05-16

Examines masculinity in German culture society and literature from 1945 to the present The Man in the Pulpit Ruth Rehmman,1997-01-01 The Man in the Pulpit is a courageous autobiographical novel by the distinguished and widely praised German novelist Ruth Rehmman Its narrator like Rehmman herself is a middle class citizen of West Germany in the 1970s more than a quarter century after the horrors of the Nazi years Prodded by questions from her children the narrator begins to reexamine her childhood and the father a stern imposing Lutheran minister who dominated it Her memories lead her to a fresh painful understanding of how her father who died in 1940 tragically reconciled himself to the moral and political outrages of National Socialism The father s moral compromises stand in large measure for the failures of Germany as a whole His critical views of the Weimar Republic his apolitical stance in the face of Nazi aggression the unsatisfactory guidance he offers his family and parishioners all contribute to the portrait of a man who fails to find sufficient moral understanding and resolve in the face of the Nazi nightmare As her story unfolds Rehmman provides uncommon insights into how the terrible alliance in Germany between those who were honorable and those who were dishonorable could have occurred From the opening memory of father and daughter walking together singing and joking to the final deathbed scene there is no episode no emotion that does not vibrate with restrained intensity The relationship between daughter and father is both distant and intimate simple and complex happy and angry and it always takes place in a larger historical context Splintered Innocence Peter Heint,2014-02-04 The consequences of war are well known yet the long term psychological impact on children of these traumatic experiences has been a neglected topic in therapeutic literature This book is Designed to help counsellors and therapists working with adults who have suffered war trauma in childhood Based on the author s own clinical practice Drawn on his innovative style of intuitive discovery and exploration of childhood war trauma Makes practical suggestions for mental health professionals working with such patients This book will be invaluable to all those working with

Jews, Germans, Memory Y. Michal Bodemann, 2025-10-01 How was it possible that a new and sizeable Jewish community developed after the Holocaust in Germany of all places Jews Germans Memory undertakes to assess the past present and future of German Jewish relations in the light of recent political changes and the opening up of historical resources This welcome new volume investigates how the groundwork was laid for the new Jewish community in the post war period with different objectives by Jewish leaders and German politicians Its contributors touch upon history literature the media ethnicity politics and social movements and attempt to answer the question of how Jews are socially constructed and how the glorious German Jewish past and the Holocaust have been remembered in the course of recent decades In recent years German Jewry has seen fundamental transformations with the influx from Eastern Europe and a new leadership in the community A new self definition even self assurance and reappraisal in Israel and elsewhere has evolved Historians scholars of cultural studies and those interested in debates on memory and ethnicity will all find something of interest in this diverse volume Jews Germans Memory joins in debate Michael Brenner Micha Brumlik Dan Diner Cilly Kugelman and Martin L w Beer among the most prominent younger Jewish intellectuals in Germany today with others who have long observed Germany from both inside and outside Y Michal Bodemann John Borneman Andrei Markovits Robin Ostrow Moishe Postone Frank Stern and Jack Zipes Y Michal Bodemann is Professor of Sociology University of Toronto Recasting Autobiography Barbara Kosta, 1994 For all four Kosta demonstrates autobiography is at once a process of remembering and working through national and personal trauma a task of mourning and healing and an act of self invention Exploring Intensification Maria Napoli, Miriam Ravetto, 2017-09-30 This book is the first collective volume specifically devoted to the multifaceted phenomenon of intensification which has been traditionally regarded as related to the expression of degree scaling a quality downwards or upwards In spite of the large amount of studies on intensifiers there is still a need for the characterization of intensification as a distinct functional category in the domain of modification The eighteen papers of the volume contribute to this aim with a new approach mainly corpus based They focus on intensification from different perspectives both synchronic and diachronic and theoretical frameworks concern ancient languages Hittite Greek Latin and modern languages mainly Italian German English Kiswahili and involve different levels of analysis They also identify and examine different types of intensifiers applied to different forms and structures such as adverbs adjectives evaluative affixes discourse markers reduplication exclamative clauses coordination prosodic elements and shed light on issues which have not been extensively studied so far The Many Faces of Germany John A. McCarthy, Walter Grunzweig, Thomas Koebner, 2004-04-01 With the fall of the Berlin Wall and the shifting of American foreign policy away from old Europe long established patterns of interaction between Germany and the U S have come under review Although seemingly disconnected from the cultural and intellectual world political developments were not without their influence on the humanities and their curricula during the past century In retrospect we can speak of the many different roles Germany has played in American eyes The Many Faces of Germany seeks to acknowledge the importance of those incarnations for the study of German culture and history on both sides of the Atlantic One of the major questions raised by the contributors is whether the transformations in the transatlantic dynamics and in the importance of Germany for the U S have had a major influence on the study of things German in the U S internally The volume gathers together leading voices of the older and younger generations of social historians literary scholars film critics and cultural historians

Recasting German Identity Stuart Taberner, Frank Finlay, 2002 A collection of essays offering a nuanced understanding of the complex question of identity in today's Germany This collection of fifteen essays by scholars from the UK the US Germany and Scandinavia revisits the question of German identity Unlike previous books on this topic however the focus is not exclusively on national identity in the aftermath of Hitler Instead the concentration is upon the plurality of ethnic sexual political geographical and cultural identities in modern Germany and on their often fragmentary nature as the country struggles with the challenges of unification and international developments such as globalization multiculturalism and postmodernism The multifaceted nature of German identity demands a variety of approaches thus the essays are interdisciplinary drawing upon historical sociological and literary sources They are organized with reference to three distinct sections Berlin Political Formations and Difference yet at the same time they illuminate one another across the volume offering a nuanced understanding of the complex question of identity in today's Germany Topics include the new self understanding of the Berlin Republic Berlin as a public showcase the Berlin architecture debate the Walser Bubis debate fictions of German history and the end of the GDR the impact of the German student movement on the FRG Prime Minister Biedenkopf and the myth of Saxon identity women in post 1989 Germany trains as symbols and the function of the foreign in post 1989 fiction identity construction among Turks in Germany and Turkish self representation in post 1989 fiction the state of German literature today Contributors Frank Brunssen Ulrike Zitzlsperger Janet Stewart Kathrin Sch del Karen Leeder Ingo Cornils Peter Thompson Chris Szejnmann Sabine Lang Simon Ward Roswitha Skare Eva Kolinsky Margaret Littler Katharina Gerstenberger and Stuart Parkes Stuart Taberner is Lecturer in German and Frank Finlay is Professor of German and Head of the Department of German both at the University of Leeds UK

The Father Luigi Zoja, 2018-02-07 Countless children throughout the world grow up without fathers In this revised and updated edition of The Father accompanied by a new preface Luigi Zoja studies the reasons for this and assesses the contribution of this phenomenon to social and psychological problems Using examples from classical antiquity to the present day Zoja views the origins and evolution of the father from a Jungian perspective He argues that the father's role in bringing up children is a social construction that has been subject to change throughout history and goes on to examine the consequences and consider the crisis facing fatherhood today No other existing book faces the subject of fatherhood from such a broad and multidisciplinary perspective Covering these issues from historical sociological and psychological points of view this revised edition of The Father includes a complete reworking of the final part of the book focusing on the condition of the father in today's globalized world and with a particular look at the role historical trauma and grief play in family relationships The book will be of special interest to analytical psychologists and Jungian psychotherapists in practice and in training academics and students of Jungian and post Jungian studies sociology anthropology gender studies and history

The Cambridge Companion to Modern German Culture Eva Kolinsky, Wilfried van der Will, 1999-01-28 One of the most intriguing questions of our time is how some of the masterpieces of modernity originated in a country in which personal liberty and democracy were slow to emerge This Companion provides an authoritative account of modern German culture since the onset of industrialisation the rise of mass society and the nation state Newly written and researched by experts in their respective fields individual chapters trace developments in German culture including national identity class Jews in German society minorities and women the functions of folk and mass culture poetry drama theatre dance music art architecture cinema and mass media from the nineteenth century to the present Guidance is given for further reading and a chronology is provided In its totality the Companion shows how the political and social processes that shaped modern Germany are intertwined with cultural genres and their agendas of creative expression
