Nahum Tate:

Verse in English from Eighteenth-century Ireland Andrew Carpenter, 1998 This pioneering anthology introduces many previously neglected eighteenth century writers to a general readership and will lead to a re examination of the entire canon of Irish verse in English Between 1700 and 1800 Dublin was second only to London as a center for the printing of poetry in English Many fine poets were active during this period However because Irish eighteenth century verse in English has to a great extent escaped the scholar and the anthologist it is hardly known at all The most innovative aspect of this new anthology is the inclusion of many poetic voices entirely unknown to modern readers Although the anthology contains the work of well known figures such as John Toland Thomas Parnell Jonathan Swift Patrick Delany Laetitia Pilkington and Oliver Goldsmith there are many verses by lesser known writers and nearly eighty anonymous poems which come from the broadsheets manuscripts and chapbooks of the time What emerges is an entirely new perspective on life in eighteenth century Ireland We hear the voice of a hard working farmer s wife from county Derry of a rambling weaver from county Antrim and that of a woman dying from drink We learn about whale fishing in county Donegal about farming in county Kerry and bull baiting in Dublin In fact almost every aspect of life in eighteenth century Ireland is described vividly energetically with humor and feeling in the verse of this anthology Among the most moving poems are those by Irish speaking poets who use amhran or song meter and internal assonance both borrowed from Irish in their English verse Equally interesting is the work of the weaver poets of Ulster who wrote in vigorous and energetic Ulster Scots The anthology also includes political poems dating from the reign of James II to the Act of Union as well as a selection of lesser known nationalist and Orange songs Each poem is fully annotated and the book also contains a glossary of terms in Hiberno English and Ulster Scots

Resistant Structures Richard Strier, 2023-09-01 Taking Wittgenstein s Don t think but look as his motto Richard Strier argues against the application of a priori schemes to Renaissance and all texts He argues for the possibility and desirability of rigorously attentive but pre theoretical reading His approach privileges particularity and attempts to respect the resistant structures of texts He opposes theories critical and historical that dictate in advance what texts must or cannot say or do The first part of the book Against Schemes demonstrates in discussions of Rosemond Tuve Stephen Greenblatt and Stanley Fish among others how both historicist and purely theoretical approaches can equally produce distortion of particulars The second part Against Received Ideas shows how a variety of texts by Shakespeare Donne Herbert and others have been seen through the lenses of fixed mainly conservative ideas in ways that have obscured their actual surprising and sometimes surprisingly radical content Taking Wittgenstein s Don t think but look as his motto Richard Strier argues against the application of a priori schemes to Renaissance and all texts He argues for the possibility and desirability of rigorously attentive but pre theoretical read
