Infurna,Eranda Jayawickreme,2021 Redesigning Research on Post Traumatic Growth offers new directions for post traumatic growth research The book illustrates the benefits of research designs that incorporate multiple methods of assessment and highlights the value of integrating various disciplines such as philosophy and multiple areas of psychology e g clinical developmental health and personality for more holistic understanding of the human capacity to overcome adversity The Fruits of Their Labor Cindy Hahamovitch,2010-06-23 In 1933 Congress granted American laborers the right of collective bargaining but farmworkers got no New Deal Cindy Hahamovitch s pathbreaking account of migrant farmworkers along the Atlantic Coast shows how growers enlisted the aid of the state in an unprecedented effort to keep their fields well stocked with labor This is the story of the farmworkers Italian immigrants from northeastern tenements African American laborers from the South and imported workers from the Caribbean who came to work in the fields of New Jersey Georgia and Florida in the decades after 1870 These farmworkers were not powerless the author argues for growers became increasingly open to negotiation as their crops ripened in the fields But farmers fought back with padrone or labor contracting schemes and work or fight forced labor campaigns Hahamovitch describes how growers efforts became more effective as federal officials assumed the role of padroni supplying farmers with foreign workers on demand Today s migrants are as desperate as ever the author concludes not because poverty is an inevitable feature of modern agricultural work but because the federal government has intervened on behalf of growers preventing farmworkers from enjoying the fruits of their labor

Catalogue of Books in the Mercantile Library, of the City of New York New York Mercantile Library Association,2022-03-08 Reprint of the original first published in 1866 Catalogue of Books in the Mercantile Library, of the City of New York Mercantile Library Association of the City of New-York,1866 Narratives on Prison Governmentality Marco Nocente,2023-09-01 Narratives on Prison Governmentality explores prison governmentality through the analysis of letters of prisoners The collection of testimonies represents the opportunities and difficulties of resisting in a place of power which in recent years has become more sophisticated and effective In recent years there has been a progressive individualisation of the prison population and a continuous erosion of solidarity The condition of prisoners is influenced by renewed governmental logic that has become more effective for management and even reproduced by the prisoners themselves Italian prison governmentality has been presented in its softest and hardest discursive forms and material regimes as part of a whole differentiated repertoire Through the narratives of prison letters the book shows the sophistication of these carceral logics from the perspective of prisoners engaged in the struggle Engaging theories of carceral geography and critical criminology the book focuses on space and time as the dimensions from which to observe power relations and governmentality Narratives on Prison Governmentality will be of great interest to students and scholars of Penology Narrative Criminology Carceral Geography and Critical Criminology Task-Based Language Learning Peter Robinson,2011-06-13 This volume contains papers addressing issues in task based research into second language learning which are essential to informed pedagogic decision making about how best to achieve this aim These issues include research into the design characteristics of pedagogic tasks that promote the accuracy fluency and complexity of learner language the role of individual differences in the motivational and other cognitive variables that demands made by pedagogic tasks draw on the extent to which tasks and teacher interventions during task performance promote the quantity and quality of interaction that facilitate L2 learning and the generalizability of task based research in laboratory contexts to classroom settings The Church Eclectic ,1891 The Selected Letters of Charles Dickens Charles Dickens,2012-02-02 Charles Dickens s letters provide vivid close up snapshots of a life lived at maximum intensity This volume offers the first selection to be made from the magisterial twelve volume British Academy Pilgrim Edition of his letters From over fourteen thousand editor Jenny Hartley has cherrypicked four hundred and fifty to give readers the essence of the Sparkler of Albion This eagerly awaited selection takes us straight to the heart of his life to show us Dickens at first hand Here he is writing out of the heat of the moment as a novelist journalist and magazine editor as a social campaigner and traveler in Europe and America and as friend lover husband and father These letters were an outlet for his high spirits sparkling wit and caustic commentary striking glimpses of the world around him as seen through his highly individual and acutely observing eye Whether you dip in or read straight through this selection of his letters captures anew the brilliance of Dickens and the sheer pleasure of being in his company Global Perspectives on Probing Narratives in Healthcare Casal, Teresa,Cabral, Maria de Jesus,2023-06-01 There is often a communication disconnect between medical caregivers including doctors nurses therapists and other assistive medical personnel and the patient While medical staff usually understand a patient s symptoms causes and treatments communicating this understanding to a patient using industry terminologies can lead to confusion and misunderstanding and similarly patients may lack the vocabulary to effectively communicate their experiences back to their caregivers A new approach to communication must be bridged between these groups by individuals who have experience on both sides of the conversation Previous studies of doctors who end up in the role of the patient reveal how these individuals have a dual perspective on illness combining their medical knowledge with their own personal medical experiences

Narratives including autobiographical accounts and fictional stories can help bridge the gap between experiential and academic knowledge of illness by expanding one's limited perspective and accessing others' points of view. Autobiographical and fictional narratives can both play a role in developing a more comprehensive understanding of illness beyond simply treating the disease. It is necessary to further examine the ethical and methodological underpinnings of narrative-based interventions in the education of healthcare professionals, practitioners, and patients.

Global Perspectives on Probing Narratives in Healthcare offers a multidisciplinary examination of theoretical and methodological uses of narratives in healthcare by bringing together medical aspects of healthcare and the study of arts and humanities. This illustrates specific applications of narratives in healthcare settings including improvement of clinical skills, performance of the caring role, and self-efficacy for building a true partnership in the patient's health journey through varied approaches, up-to-date tools, and resources that can be transferred and adapted to specific educational and healthcare contexts. This diverse collection of expert knowledge and experience is led by editors with over 20 years of teaching experience: Dr. Teresa Casal of the University of Lisbon, Portugal, and Dr. Maria de Jesus Cabral of the University of Minho, Portugal. Expertise featured in this book includes contributions from some of the most prestigious academic institutions including Columbia University in the United States, King's College in the United Kingdom, University of Padua in Italy, and more. It is an essential resource for healthcare and social science researchers, academics, advanced healthcare students, health training and education departments, healthcare practitioners, and patients' associations, and policymakers in healthcare who are looking to broaden their scope of understanding of the patient experience.

The New Statesman, 1915 Life into Story Mary Chan, 2019-01-04

First published in 1998, this collection of letters presented with scholarly introduction, notes, and glosses enters the debate on women and gender in early modern England as documents for the case of Elizabeth Wiseman, a wealthy widow. The letters and first-person narrative accounts relate to the courtship of Wiseman, ne North, by Robert Spencer in 1686-87. Widowed at the age of 37 in 1684 on the death of Robert Wiseman, she was left with a fortune of 20,000 and disliked Spencer so significantly that she made every effort to avoid him. These documents provide evidence for the circumstances and degree of agency over one's marital circumstances which could be expected and exercised by wealthy late 17th-century widowed women. Historians are provided here with a glimpse of the rich and complex texture of social life in the period. The participants were people of influence and social standing in London at the time, some with strong interest in the outcome of the discussion, and the letters provide an almost complete correspondence on the issue of courtship and marriage.
