Sheckels,Nicholas Birns,Liliana Zavaglia,2018-10-12 Richard Flanagan Critical Essays is the first book to be published about the life and work of this major world author Written by twelve leading critics from Australia Europe and North America these richly varied essays offer new ways of understanding Flanagan's contribution to Tasmanian Australian and world literature Flanagan's fictional worlds offer empathetic often poignant renderings of those whose voices have been lost beneath official accounts of history stories from a small region that have made their mark on a global scale Considering his seven novels as well as his non-fiction journalism and correspondence this collection examines the historical and geographical factors that have shaped Flanagan's representation of Tasmanian identity This collection offers new insights into a determinedly regional writer and the impact he has had on a local national and global scale Guy Davenport Andre Furlani,2007-07-20 Guy Davenport 1927-2005 an American writer of fiction poetry criticism and essays a translator painter intellectual and teacher brought a breadth and depth of knowledge to his pursuits that few other writers could approach let alone appraise In Andre Furlani this twentieth century American master has finally found an apt critical reader In this first sustained critical study of Davenport Furlani elucidates the depths of Davenport's fiction and its poetic precedents brings a rare understanding to the author's reworking of twentieth century literature and intellectual history and offers unusual insight into his compositional technique Furlani explores key themes across the spectrum of Davenport's fiction pastoral utopia twentieth century dystopia sexual ethics the mythologizing of childhood the inseparability of the archaic and the modern and a celebration of the union of sophia eros and poesia Whether Davenport's view of art and the cosmos should be called postmodern is a question that Furlani considers closely offering finally a new aesthetic for this American original who in these pages at last receives the thorough and meticulous attention he has long merited

Bashō's Haiku Matsuo Bashō, 2012-02-01 2005 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Bashō's Haiku offers the most comprehensive translation yet of the poetry of Japanese writer Matsuo Bashō 1644-1694 who is credited with perfecting and popularizing the haiku form of poetry One of the most widely read Japanese writers both within his own country and worldwide Bashō is especially beloved by those who appreciate nature and those who practice Zen Buddhism Born into the samurai class Bashō rejected that world after the death of his master and became a wandering poet and teacher During his travels across Japan he became a lay Zen monk and studied history and classical poetry His poems contained a mystical quality and expressed universal themes through simple images from the natural world David Landis Barnhill's brilliant book strives for literal translations of Bashō's work arranged chronologically in order to show Bashō's development as a writer Avoiding wordy and explanatory translations Barnhill captures the brevity and vitality of the original Japanese letting the images suggest the depth of meaning involved Barnhill also presents an overview of haiku poetry and analyzes the significance of nature in this literary form while suggesting the importance of Bashō to contemporary American literature and environmental thought

The Ghost Forest Kimiko Hahn, 2024-10-15 Borrowing from such writers as Elizabeth Bishop and Chimako Tada featuring ghosts and geoglyphs writing in form and free verse Kimiko Hahn's broad and eclectic approach reveals a mind as vast as the terrains it traverses Nicole Sealey Poetry magazine Opening with forty-three new formally inventive poems and leading the reader back in time through selections from her ten previous volumes The Ghost Forest offers a contemplative and haunting narrative of a writer's artistic journey through craft and form while illuminating her personal history Exploring the mysteries of science nature and the experiences of contemporary womanhood Hahn both reinvents classic Japanese forms and experiments with traditional Western ones Braided into the poems and narrative thread a series of photos transforms the new and selected into a hybrid autobiography This arresting collection derives new beauty from long-gone remnants A Riotous Disorder She mistakes one word for another Something her brain naturally concocts Her unruly gray matter and her heart Mistake one word for another Razor for river cistern for sister Even cock for clock She mistakes one word for a mother A safe her brain naturally unlocks

Matsuo Bashō's Poetic Spaces E. Kerkham, 2006-12-11 Haikai is an art that parodies and often subverts its linguistic generic and personal predecessors and its intersections include imaginative links to the rest of Japanese literature and culture This collection of essays explores certain neglected aspects of this haikaimaster s literary and philosophical contributions

Contemporary Historical Fiction, Exceptionalism and Community Susan Strehle, 2020-10-19 This book analyzes a significant group of contemporary historical fictions that represent damaging even catastrophic times for people and communities written after the wreck they recall instructive pasts The novels chronicle wars slavery racism child abuse and genocide they reveal damages that ensue when nations claim an exalted exceptionalist identity and violate the human rights of their Others In sympathy with the exiled writers of these contemporary historical fictions create alternative communities on the state s outer fringes These fictive communities include where the state excludes they foreground relations of debt and obligation to the group in place of individualism competition and private property Rather than assimilating members to a single identity with a unified set of views the communities open multiple possibilities for belonging Analyzing novels from Britain Australia and the U S along with additional transnational examples Susan Strehle explores the political vision animating some contemporary historical fictions

Infrastructural Brutalism Michael Truscello, 2020-09-01 How drowned town literature road movies energy landscape photography and death train narratives represent the brutality of industrial infrastructures In this book Michael Truscello looks at the industrial infrastructure not as an invisible system of connectivity and mobility that keeps capitalism humming in the background but as a manufactured miasma of despair toxicity and death Truscello terms this infrastructural brutality a formulation that not only alludes to the historical nexus of infrastructure and the concrete aesthetic of Brutalist architecture but also describes the ecological political and psychological brutality of industrial infrastructures Truscello explores the necropolitics of infrastructure how infrastructure determines who may live and who must die through the lens of artistic media He examines the white settler nostalgia of drowned town fiction written after the Tennessee Valley Authority flooded rural areas for hydroelectric projects argues that the road movie represents a struggle with liberal governmentality considers the ruins of oil capitalism as seen in photographic landscapes of postindustrial waste and offers an account of death train narratives ranging from the history of the Holocaust to postapocalyptic fiction Finally he calls for brisantic politics a culture of unmaking that is capable of slowing the advance of capitalist suicide Brisance refers to the shattering effect of an explosive but Truscello uses the term to signal a variety of practices for defeating infrastructural power Brisantic politics he warns would require a reorientation of radical politics toward infrastructure sabotage and cascading destruction in an interconnected world
