, 1908 The Record of Zoological Literature , 1909 A Naturalist's Guide to Ontario William W. Judd, J. Murray

Speirs, 1964-12-15 To the casual observer Ontario appears as an immense territory stretching from west of the Great Lakes to the St Lawrence and from Hudson Bay to the southernmost tip of Lake Erie The naturalist sees more than this vastness he is aware of the province's great diversity in flora and fauna and in geology and topography he sees the province divided into zones and regions each with its own special natural traits Over the years some areas and their special attractions have become widely known to naturalists amateur and professional Others have not been so familiar It has been difficult for visitors to and residents of Ontario to plan well arranged trips which will include a number of them A guide to Ontario designed specifically for naturalists has been needed and this book will fill that need The combination of scientific accuracy and up to date practical information will make it an invaluable part of the naturalist's field equipment Along with maps and general descriptions of the flora fauna and geology of Ontario this book contains over forty regional guides Each guide lists concisely and accurately up to date information on how best to reach the regions that are of interest to the naturalist There are also descriptions of the geology plants trees birds and mammals typical of each locale along with information on rare or unique species and information on local naturalists and nature clubs Indexes of place names and names of species and a list of reference manuals complete the contents of this unique and valuable guide It will be equally useful to those who pay occasional weekend visits to the countryside and wish to know something about the rocks plants and wildlife they encounter and to the more serious student of natural history The guide has been prepared by members of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists and other allied agencies in the hope that it will help encourage a wider appreciation of natural history in Ontario Sylvia Hahn's attractive drawings indicate some of the great variety of plant and animal life to be found in the province

British naval expedition to the high Arctic where science was almost as important as geographical exploration There were hopes that the expedition might find the hypothetical open polar sea and with it the longed for Northwest Passage and it did reach the highest northern latitude to date The Royal Society compiled instructions for the expedition and selected two full time naturalists an unusual naval concession to science of whom one Henry Wemyss Feilden proved a worthy choice Feilden was a soldier who fought in most of the wars in his lifetime including the American Civil War on the Confederate side On board HMS Alert he kept a daily journal a record important for its scientific content but also as a view of the expedition as seen by a soldier revealing admiration and appreciation for his naval colleagues he performed whatever tasks were given to him including the rescue of returning sledge parties stricken by scurvy He also did a remarkably comprehensive job in mapping the geology of Smith Sound some of his work on the Cape Rawson Beds was the most reliable until the 1950s He was an all round naturalist and a particularly fine geologist and ornithologist He was not just a collector he pondered the significance of his findings within the context of the best modern science of his day in zoology Charles Darwin on evolution in botany Hooker on phytogeography and in geology Charles Lyell s system He illustrated his journal with his own sketches and also enclosed the printed programmes of popular entertainments held on the ship and verses for birthdays and sledging there was a printing press onboard The journal gives a vigorous impression of a ship s company well occupied through the winter then increasingly active in sledging and geographical discovery in spring before the scurvy induced decision to head home in the summer of 1876 After his return Feilden had dealings with many scientists and their institutions finding homes for and meaning in his collections Proceedings of the Royal Irish Academy Royal Irish Academy,1912 Includes also Minutes of the Proceedings and Report of the President and Council for the year beginning 1965 66 called Annual report
