Murray, 1994 Inaugurating a new annual series devoted to selecting and presenting the best in contemporary American nature writing this initial volume includes some of America's most distinguished nature writers as well as some promising new talents This first collection encompasses a variety of genres including fiction journal writing poetry personal essays and feature articles Readers will hunt for peregrine falcons near the Great Salt Lake with Terry Tempest Williams sneak into Cuba with Bob Shacochis to observe the Ernest Hemingway International Classic Billfish Tournament and explore the botanical and paleontological wonders of the Central American land bridge with David Rains Wallace Also included are an excerpt from Annie Dillard's novel The Living and a previously unpublished selection from the journals of Edward Abbey At last here is nature writing at its boisterous gritty and lyrical best Nature writing is poised at the beginning of a period of wonderful exuberance All of the excitement that attends the beginning of a new century and the start of a new millennium together with a growing awareness of the interdependence of nature and culture cannot help but fuel this historic genre I believe that as the genre attracts more and more gifted young writers and addresses increasingly the compelling political and social issues narrative theory to bear upon the genre of nature writing to explore the social or ethical purposes of solitude in stories of retreat in nature At Home on this Earth Lorraine Anderson, Thomas S. Edwards, 2002 The first chronological presentation of U S nature writing by key women authors of the last two centuries Nature's State Susan Kollin, 2018-06-15 An engaging blend of environmental theory and literary studies Nature s State looks behind the myth of Alaska as America s last frontier a pristine and wild place on the fringes of our geographical imagination Susan Kollin traces how this seemingly marginal space in American culture has in fact functioned to alleviate larger social anxieties about nature ethnicity and national identity Kollin pays special attention to the ways in which concerns for the environment not only shaped understandings of Alaska but also aided U S nation building projects in the Far North from the late nineteenth century to the present era Beginning in 1867 the year the United States purchased Alaska a variety of literary and cultural texts helped position the region as a crucial staging ground for territorial struggles between native peoples Russians Canadians and Americans In showing how Alaska has functioned as a contested geography in the nation s spatial imagination Kollin addresses writings by a wide range of figures including early naturalists John Muir and Robert Marshall contemporary nature writers Margaret Murie John McPhee and Barry Lopez adventure writers Jack London and Jon Krakauer and native authors Nora Dauenhauer Robert Davis and Mary TallMountain Feminist Ecocriticism Douglas A. Vakoch, 2012-08-09 After uncovering the oppressive dichotomies of male female and nature culture that underlie contemporary environmental problems Feminist Ecocriticism focuses specifically on emancipatory strategies employed by ecofeminist literary critics as antidotes asking what our lives might be like as those strategies become increasingly successful in overcoming oppression Thus ecofeminism is not limited to the critique of literature but also helps identify and articulate liberatory ideals that can be actualized in the real world in the process transforming everyday life Providing an alternative to rugged individualism for example ecofeminist literature promotes a more fulfilling sense of interrelationship with both community and the land In the process of exploring literature from ecofeminist perspectives the book reveals strategies of emancipation that have already begun to give rise to more hopeful ecological narratives
